Site inspections

Queenstown Convention Bureau (QCB) give clients two options for site inspections and the decision regarding the format of the site inspection is 100% made by the client.

The first option is that the site inspection is fully hosted by QCB. The Bureau works closely with the client to determine which suppliers they would like to meet with and/or what product they would like to experience. As part of the planning process, the QCB can also introduce the client to other appropriate operators. Visits are tailored to suit the event requirements and maximise time spent in Queenstown.

The second option the client is given is to be hosted on a site inspection by a DMC. This option has been introduced to give those clients who would like to engage a DMC the opportunity to understand more closely the services DMCs provide. If the client has a particular DMC they want to use, the Bureau will connect the client with that DMC. Alternatively the DMC allocated to host can be done by the Bureau on a "next in line" basis. There is absolutely no obligation for the client to retain a DMC for their event – either the DMC that hosted them or any other. If the client does not want to be hosted by a DMC, the Bureau will host the site inspection.

The role of QCB is to connect clients with the suppliers they need to ensure the success of their event. Decisions regarding which suppliers they choose to use is completely up to the client.

Origins of Queenstown

Origins

The pioneering spirit of early settlers has shaped the Southern Lakes region. People have always been drawn here, starting with early Maori who came in search of pounamu (native greenstone) and European settlers who followed with sights set on fertile grazing land. They discovered much more when gold lit up the region's waterways - goldrush fever hit in the 1860s and was the start of an ongoing international fascination with the region.

Today over three million visitors a year are drawn to the Queenstown region. The vibrant energy, majestic alpine scenery and huge range of options for activities and adventure, combined with the warm welcome from locals, sets the stage for a world class visitor experience. Queenstown has experienced significant growth over the past decade - more than 25,000 people now live in the wider district. Tourism remains the backbone of the local economy although general business services, wine, education, retail and construction industries also flourish.

Legend

Maori legend tells a beautiful tale of the formation of Queenstown's Lake Wakatipu - formed by Matau, an evil giant who kidnapped the beautiful daughter of a Maori chief named Hā-ki-te-kura

Hā-ki-te-kura's rescuer Matakauri destroyed Matau by fire, burning him while he lay sleeping. Water from the rivers and melting snow from the mountains filled the giant hole he left in the ground. This formed the shape of Lake Wakatipu as we know it today. Matau's head rested in Glenorchy at the north of the lake, and his feet south in Kingston. Queenstown sits at Matau's knee. Legend has it Matau's heart still beats today, explaining the 'tidal' rise and fall of Lake Wakatipu.

The Maori people first inhabited the area in search of food, including the flightless Moa. They also looked for the coveted pounamu (greenstone), deemed 'toanga' (treasure). In the absence of any local metals, pounamu was used to craft tools, weapons and jewellery.

Community Connection Programme

Destination Queenstown and the Queenstown Convention Bureau are delighted to launch the Queenstown Connection Programme. This programme seeks to create opportunities for our visitors to meaningfully contribute to the Queenstown community while they conference, visit or undertake business here.

As a destination we aim to ensure sustainability within the tourism industry, for the community, the environment and visitor experience. More deeply within this programme we seek to connect our visitors with people and community and offer opportunities to make a difference with genuine community contributions. These connections will provide much needed support for the local community, assist in preservation of the environment and continue to enhance the culture within this small community.

We plan for continued development of corporate and social responsibility programmes within Queenstown and the Wakatipu Basin and thank you for your consideration of how your next group or business trip to Queenstown can make a difference.

Click the below link to be taken to a collection of 16 local not-for-profit organisations and Trusts are already making substantial and long-lasting contributions to the local community in Queenstown.

There's always something to discover, from a stroll along the river to a hike in the hills rich in history. The town also offers vibrant retail stores brimming with unique products and delicious meals crafted from fresh local produce.

Arrowtown's outstanding coffee culture is an attraction in itself with friendly cafés, award-winning restaurants, traditional pubs and boutique bars. Arrowtown is surrounded by three superb golf courses - Millbrook Resort, The Hills and the Arrowtown Golf Club. Some of Central Otago's best wineries are minutes away and snow enthusiasts will enjoy Arrowtown's close proximity to four ski areas.

The cry of 'gold' in 1862 enticed miners to the Arrow River, one of the world's richest sources of alluvial gold. During the gold rush the population reached 7,000. These pioneers built small stone and wood cottages, established churches, and planted beautiful trees. Through careful preservation the legacy of the early settlers is retained in a fascinating picturesque town where the past and present seamlessly blend. Arrowtown is ideal for a day visit or to fully enjoy its unique charm stay a while at one of the accommodation options just minutes from the town centre.

Surrounding areas - Gibbston

The wine tour continues in Central Otago, New Zealand's southernmost wine region. Central Otago is known for its vast, rugged landscapes, interesting heritage, expansive cycling trails, and of course incredible food and wine. Tag an afternoon at a few Central Otago wineries onto your Gibbston tour, or stay for a while and explore all that the region has to offer.

Surrounding areas - Glenorchy

Bordered by Mount Aspiring National Park, a New Zealand World Heritage Area, Glenorchy is the gateway to some of New Zealand's best scenery, the Routeburn Track (an award-winning alpine walk with stunning vistas of sweeping valleys and majestic peaks) and the aptly named Paradise.

The 45km drive from Queenstown is one of the most scenic in the world along New Zealand's longest lake, with breath taking views, hanging valleys, glaciers, islands, waterfalls and mountains. The village has great dining and accommodation options, a visitor centre, garage and general stores featuring gifts for those at home and treats for the road trip back to Queenstown.

Glenorchy's surrounding landscape is a prime location for film shoots - you'll recognise scenes from The Hobbit Trilogy, Lord of the Rings Trilogy, The Chronicles of Narnia, Wolverine, The Water Horse, and The Lion, The Witch and The Wardrobe.

This natural wilderness can be explored by foot on a multi-day hike on the Routeburn, Greenstone or Caples tracks, or one of many day or overnight treks exploring Mount Aspiring or Fiordland National Parks. Horseback rides across alluvial river flats into Paradise are popular and so too are jet boat trips into the heart of this remote backcountry. Explore the lake by kayak or charter boat. The lake fishing is fantastic and some of the world's best high country fly fishing rivers are on hand, such as the Greenstone River.

A scenic flight offers the chance to soar over uncharted wilderness, or freefall into paradise with an exhilarating skydive. In winter fly to pristine heli-skiing slopes in the surrounding peaks for an incredible New Zealand snow sports experience.

This place genuinely delivers difference in all things - the products and experiences are truly Central Otago. The fine flavours, fine wools, rich history and reputation have spread well beyond our borders. When the world gets busier, Central Otago is a refreshing counterpoint - a rare and precious thing.

In Central Otago, thrill-seeking is more like thrillmeandering. Whether you're wandering, pedaling, paddling or driving, every which way you look makes the heart beat faster. From rugged, rocky outcrops, to the vast, open plains, iconic flat top mountains, and bigger-than-big sky, and at the end of it all, a world class glass of wine.

The Te Anau to Milford highway is a spectacular alpine journey and is one of the world's most scenic drives. A spectacular 2.5 hour journey from Te Anau to this majestic destination, there are many photographic stops and short walks along the way to Milford Sound, so allow plenty of time. For an underwater perspective on this unique environment visit the underwater observatory.

Both fiords can be explored by day or overnight cruise or kayak trips. Remember to look out for dolphins, seals and penguins.

Our wide-open natural environment is ideal for air, water and land-based sports. Go walking, hiking, climbing, horseback riding, cycling, offroading, skiing or mountain biking - the choice is yours!

Lake Wakatipu and the surrounding rivers are a year-round hub for water-based activities but summer is prime time to go water skiing, wakeboarding, parasailing, rafting, kayaking, river surfing or enjoy a refreshing dip. Jet boating has become Queenstown's time honoured way of exploring the rivers while a range of boat cruises, from vintage steamships to luxury superyachts, deliver magnificent lake and mountain views.

Biking & walking

Part of Nga Haerenga – The New Zealand Cycle Trail 'Great Rides' network, the 120km Queenstown Trail offers cyclists and walkers the chance to explore unspoilt private land, journey over mighty suspension bridges, cross three iconic rivers and take in the views of two lakes – not to mention the stunning alpine landscapes as far as the eye can see.

Biking

One hour, half-day and multi-day options are all popular and there are many established local operators offering small or large group bike hire and guides, if required, and the option of electric bikes to make cruising around that little bit easier.

Rides on the trail network range from easy to intermediate and a few advanced trails also feature. Whether walking or cycling, the trail is wonderful when experienced with family and friends and with a camera and picnic handy. Planning is easy with tools, tips and maps at queenstowntrail.co.nz

The Kelvin Peninsula Loop, part of the Lake Wakatipu Ride is a short, easy grade trail with beautiful views across Lake Wakatipu towards Queenstown and the surrounding mountains; look out for the stunning collection of sculptures as you ride or walk.

Other trail highlights include the Gibbston River Trail which begins at end of the historic Kawarau Bridge - itself a major attraction as the home of AJ Hackett bungy. From here the journey explores wine country and as you ride towards the east you'll be spoilt for vistas, with the Kawarau River far below on your left and to your right, the Gibbston vineyards, architectural masterpieces and iconic Central Otago landscapes.

In this internationally renowned cycling destination, you'll also find a jump park, plenty of single track and multi-day heli-biking options, plus gondola-accessed downhill mountain biking at Skyline and at Rabbit Ridge in Gibbston valley there's 30km of single tracks over stunning high country terrain.

Walking

There are numerous scenic short walks from downtown Queenstown worthy of exploration. These include a lakeside stroll around the Queenstown Gardens or hiking up Queenstown Hill to enjoy 360 degree lake and mountain views. The more challenging Ben Lomond Track is a popular day trip which rewards walkers with a bird's eye perspective on the region.

More challenging multi-day hikes include the Hump Ridge, Greenstone and Hollyford tracks and three of New Zealand's most famous Great Walks - the Routeburn, Milford and Kepler. Hikers can walk these tracks independently and stay at DOC huts or campsites or choose a guided trip for more comfort and convenience.

Testimonials

"Queenstown Convention Bureau team worked with us on the Amway Leadership Seminar Queenstown 2018 for almost 3 years which achieved 96% overall satisfaction score. It is the highest score in Amway incentive history.

The QCB team helped us to connect and build relationships with different stakeholders and partners and local Queenstown operators which all contributed to the success.

Their suggestions and inputs helped us to design a great programme for our delegates. The QCB also assisted us to donate our surplus to Salvation Army Queenstown which fits perfectly with our company value"

Carl Wen, Director of Events Amway - Shanghai, China "The Bureau provided our organisation with the necessary information to plan a successful conference. Having been briefed on our conceptual ideas the Bureau provided a list of tourism operators, their contacts details and assisted with arranging famils. Additional information on various local restaurants and wineries to meet the requirements of the delegates who operate high-end food and beverage facilities back in the US and deemed not to be missed met with universal approval."

Des Topp, Executive Officer Golf Managers Association of NZ

"I first reached out to the Bureau to enquire about our annual conference. They were efficient in providing me with a full range of options for my event and were very friendly and a pleasure to deal with. The information displayed in the proposal from the Queenstown suppliers was well laid out and easy to digest.

From the RFP we wanted to pursue Queenstown further and so utilised the Queenstown Bureau to assist with site inspections. They ensured the 24 hour itinerary meant we saw all the venues we wanted to and we weren't too rushed. This made the decision making process a lot easier."

Daniel Evans, Events & Membership Manager New Zealand Recreation Association (NZRA)

"Working with the Queenstown Bureau is a seamless process with thorough and impartial advice. They dissect each brief and ensure their proposals are accurate with a variety of different options for each aspect of the event.

The efficiency of the proposals being returned is phenomenal and it takes so much of the 'leg work' out of collating all the proposals from the local suppliers, which in the current climate with extremely tight deadlines is amazingly helpful."

Laura Tucker, Director of Events APAC
TAG Global Travel & Event Management
Melbourne, Australia

"The Queenstown Convention Bureau team conducted a great training session for our team which was very valuable for us to promote Queenstown to clients. The QCB always provide neutral views and suggestions which is really important to us. They are always professional and understand our clients needs and especially the Asian culture. On a recent site inspection they made our clients feel welcomed & special which ultimately helped them decide upon Queenstown as their next incentive destination."

Maggie Ma, Director of Accounts CYTS MICE, Beijing, China

Akarua Wines & Kitchen by Artisan is a busy day to day restaurant and cellar door situated in Arrowtown.

A joint venture created by Akarua Wines & Artisan Catering, managed by Debbie & John Pickens from Artisan. The restaurant is open 9am-5pm daily with the license to have two private functions per week in the evenings of up to 50 pax for corporate groups, functions and weddings.

The only 3 Hat restaurant in the New Zealand's South island, located 15 minutes' drive from central Queenstown, Amisfield Restaurant overlooks the idyllic Lake Hayes and is a must visit in Central Otago.

Executive Chef Vaughan Mabee works with foragers, fishermen, farmers and a charcutier to hunt, gather and curate fare that supports the Amisfield vision: to deliver fresh, locally sourced, seasonal produce that celebrates the region and its unique flavours. Lunch and dinner at Amisfield are a multi-course degustation menu - a 3 to 7 course experience designed to be matched with a selection of wines made at our 93ha singleestate, organic vineyard. Sophisticated, inventively presented dishes are designed using classic techniques with a creative twist to bring out the best of the season's produce. Amisfield's private dining room can cater for up to 20. Larger events of up to 120 quests can be arranged.

Aosta, in the North of Italy, is an alpine valley with a defined four seasons, flora, fauna and soils very similar to Central Otago.

Aosta and Central Otago both lie on the 45th parallel, and the synergies between the regions terroirs are striking. The cuisine of Aosta is inspired by the cooking techniques of Northern Italy, paired with ingredients carefully selected from growers, breeders, suppliers and wine grown on the land around Central Otago and Arrowtown.

Fan-Tan is a story of East meets West. The name orignates from the game, long played in China with beans or pebbles and evokes Arrowtown's goldrush history, when, in the 1860's Chinese miners brought their own gambling games to the goldfields

Our cuisine is a fusion of European, NZ, Pacifica food with flavours influenced from Asia. It is simple delicious food, designed for sharing and as our name suggests, "brings a sense of joy, pleasure and entertainment". This up market tapas bar and restaurant features a menu inspired by the owners' travels in Spain and the south of France - the same goes for the wine list.

The owners are Sam Gruar, ex-manager of Queenstown's Eichardts bar, and partner Penelope 'PJ' Johnson who previously managed Good Group bar Barmuda and Botswana Butchery restaurant in Queenstown.

La Rumbla has a license for 110 people, including seating capacity of 65.

Mantra welcomes you with their warm, Indian hospitality. The décor is warm and inviting, with careful attention to ensure your dining experience is enjoyable and special. The menu selection showcases some of the best of Indian cuisine.

Complementing the menu, is an excellent and reasonably-priced wine list.

Mantra is highly rated by the Arrowtown and Queenstown locals, and abroad.

Mantra is well known for group celebrations, functions and special events. They also offer indoor/outdoor catering, with menus designed to suit the event. For special dietary requirements

Mantra is open every day for lunch and dinner. For info and seasonal timing please call Mantra.
