THE ART OF THE STATE

We North Carolinians have long been enchanted by our potters who are able to transform lumps of clay into objects of startling beauty.

That beauty and the stories behind it, old and new, are showcased by the North Carolina Pottery Center.

Be proud of the clay beneath your feet.

Be touched by something real.

Be delighted by North Carolinas world-class clay culture.

Visit us and learn more about pottery and potters past and present.

Then ask us how to be part of the story...
