Rhode Island Commerce Corporation Streamlined Rebuild Rhode Island Tax Credits

Economic and tax revenue impacts of redeveloping the Studley Building, Providence

Introduction

The Rhode Island Commerce Corporation (the “Corporation”) may provide $100,000 in Rebuild Rhode Island tax credits to Studley Building Enterprises LLC and DMP Studley LLC (the “Sponsor”), in connection with redevelopment of the Studley Building – a landmark 45,000 square-foot commercial office building located at 86 Weybosset Street in Providence – and its conversion to primarily residential use. The redeveloped building would include 65 one-bedroom, studio and mini-loft units (including 14 units with rents set at workforce housing levels), and 4,646 square feet of ground-floor retail space.

The Sponsor has also requested an exemption from approximately $451,150 in State sales and use taxes on purchases of materials, equipment and furnishings used in the redevelopment

This analysis was prepared by Appleseed, a consulting firm with more than 25 years’ experience in economic impact analysis.

Jobs Analysis

Construction jobs

The Sponsor estimates that redevelopment of the Studley Building will cost a total of $18.81 million¹. After excluding certain costs that would not have a direct impact on Rhode Island’s economy during this period (such as the cost of property acquisition and interest paid during construction), Appleseed estimates that direct expenditures of $14.28 million will directly and indirectly support:

- 136 job-years² of work in Rhode Island, with $9.06 million in earnings (in 2022 dollars);
- Approximately $17.13 million in statewide economic output; and
- A one-time increase of $12.08 million in Rhode Island’s GDP.

These impacts are summarized below in Table 1.

¹ $18.313 million if the property basis is adjusted to $2.75 million per the most recent appraisal.

² A job-year is equivalent to a job lasting one year. It could represent the work of two people who are each employed for six months; or the work of one person who is employed half-time for two years.

Table 1: Direct and indirect impact of construction and related spending (employment in person-years; income, value-added and output in thousands of 2022 dollars)

| | Employment | Earnings | Value added | Output |
|---------------------|------------|------------------|-------------------|-------------------|
| Direct Effect | 119 | $80,80.1 | $10,474.6 | $14,275.8 |
| Indirect Effect | 17 | 980.5 | .1.603.2 | 2,852.5 |
| Total Effect | 136 | $9,060.6 | $12,077.8 | $17,128.3 |

The activity reflected in Table 1 will occur primarily during 2022 and 2023.

In addition to the impacts on employment, earnings, output and state GDP cited in Table 1, direct spending of $14.28 million would generate a projected one-time increase of approximately $313,00 in taxes paid to the State during construction, including:

- $175,000 in state personal income taxes paid by Rhode Island workers employed on the project, or whose jobs are indirectly attributable to the project
- $116,000 in state sales taxes paid by these workers on taxable household spending
- $22,000 in state business taxes

Annual operations

Based on information provided by the Sponsor, Appleseed estimates that after construction is completed, ongoing operations at the Studley Building – including building operations and maintenance, and the operations of commercial tenants – will directly and indirectly support:

- 24 jobs in Rhode Island, with $792,500 in earnings (in 2023 dollars)
- Nearly $2.13 million in statewide economic output; and
- An increase of $1.22 million in Rhode Island’s annual GDP.

These impacts are summarized below in Table 2.

Table 2: Direct, indirect and total annual impact of ongoing operations in 2023 (income, value-added and output in thousands of 2023 dollars)

| | Employment | Earnings | Value added | Output |
|---------------------|-----------------|----------------|------------------|------------------|
| Direct Effect | 21 ³ | $605.8 | $901.1 | $1,541.5 |
| Indirect Effect | 3 | 186.7 | 315.4 | 585.4 |
| Total Effect | 24 | $792.5 | $1,216.5 | $2,126.9 |

In addition to the impacts on employment, earnings, output and state GDP cited above, building operations and maintenance and the operations of tenant businesses would in

³ Includes 20 workers employed by ground-floor restaurant and retail workers, and 1 employed in building operation and maintenance.

2023 generate a projected increase of approximately $67,200 in annual state tax revenues (in 2023 dollars), including:

- $44,000 in state sales taxes on restaurant and retail sales⁴
- $11,400 in state personal income taxes paid by workers newly employed at the Studley Building, or by Rhode Island workers whose jobs are indirectly attributable to the Company's new Rhode Island facility
- $10,400 in state sales taxes paid on those workers' taxable household spending; and
- $1,400 in state business taxes.

During construction and the twelve years following completion of the project, redevelopment and ongoing operations at the Studley Building are thus expected to generate approximately $1.119 million in state tax revenues.

In addition to the impacts summarized above, redevelopment of the Studley Building will benefit Rhode Island by:

- Providing additional housing opportunities (including workforce housing) for both current and prospective Rhode Island residents
- Preserving and productively reusing an historic, nearly 120-year-old building
- Increasing local government tax revenues

⁴ Assumes that 50 percent of restaurant and retail sales at the Studley Building represent "net new" sale in Rhode Island.
