

Your AAA Daily

Scenic and Rewarding Nearby Bike Tours

Whether you're a biking novice or a fit cyclist, there are a whole host of Northeast bike tours to explore this summer.

May 22, 2019

To put it simply, life is better on a bike.

Bike season is in full effect here in the Northeast region, which means there are plenty of epic bike tours to choose from. Whether you're a biking novice or a fit cyclist, there's a bike tour for you, with options ranging from a few hours to week-long adventures.

Grab your bike and check out the following tours.

Great Freedom Adventures Rhode Island Vacation Bike Tour

Newport, R.I.

2019: May 28-31 | June 23-26 | August 25-28

Riders may not want to leave Rhode Island after this impressive bike tour of the Ocean State. This four-night, three-day bike tour takes riders across Block Island, Narragansett, Jamestown and Newport. It's the perfect way to learn more about Rhode Island's gilded age history while taking in scenic ocean views. Tours run in May, June and August, with riders traveling 8-36 miles each day. Cyclists can expect to peruse fishing villages, Colonial windmills and the "summer cottages" of 19th century millionaires as they bike Rhode Island's inlets and isles. The tour also includes a sunset sail, a guided kayak escapade and a stroll along the famous Cliff Walk.

If you're looking for a truly unique experience in Rhode Island, Rail Explorers Rhode Island Tour may be a fit for you. The pedal-powered vehicle rides on historic railroad tracks through picturesque Narragansett Bay.