

10 Winter Festivals Worth Traveling For In 2020

BY LISSA POIROT
December 3, 2019

Even after the winter holidays have passed, many cities offer family-friendly festivals with ice-skating rinks, carnival rides, workshops, fireworks, food and more. Pack your heavy winter coats and head one of these exciting winter festivals in 2020.

3. Newport Winter Festival – Newport, RI

Feb. 14 to 23, 2020

As the self-proclaimed largest winter extravaganza in New England, the Newport Winter Festival features more than 150 events filled with food, fun, and music for the whole family. There are ice sculpting demonstrations, a kids' fair, beach polo and a princess party, where kids can dress up as their favorite princess. Families can easily warm up at this multi-day festival at the annual chili cook-off or the mac and cheese smackdown that both take place during the festival. The mac and cheese competition takes place at Gurney's Newport Resort, where there's also an ice skating rink and heated igloos that overlook the Narragansett Bay. Each igloo is themed and has its own activities inside, plus cocktail pairings for adults.

Recommended Hotel: Gurney's Newport Resort and Marina