

7 Boutique Hotels Where the In-Room Hot Tubs Steal the Show

When it comes to ultimate relaxation, nothing beats a leisurely soak in an in-room hot tub, allowing you to skip the crowds and enjoy total privacy. Also, eliminating the need to rub shoulders with strangers by a communal pool altogether. A private jacuzzi as part of your getaway's perks simply hits different, especially when the setting is as spa-like as the experience itself.

From the tranquil shores of Lake Como to the wooded hills of Vermont, boutique hotels worldwide are offering steaming, secluded havens designed to elevate your escape.

Here are seven who excel at the task.

Weekapaug Inn (Westerly, Rhode Island)

The best views in the house, at Relais & Châteaux darling Weekapaug Inn, are from their trio of Fenway Suites, overlooking Quonochontaug Pond and the Atlantic Ocean just beyond. This idyllic Rhode Island retreat, which dates back to 1899, is the epitome of laid-back coastal living, with suites awash in calming color palettes dressed in modern Yankee decor. Plus, their calendar of by land or sea activities does not dissappoint. Think driftwood carving class, bocce ball games, and lobster boils on the verdant rolling lawn, followed by a restorative dip in the privacy of your tucked-away terrace.
