

The 40 Most Beautiful Castles You Can Visit in the United States

THE BREAKERS (RHODE ISLAND)

Tim Graham // Getty Images

Look familiar? This Newport, Rhode Island, estate was also built by a Vanderbilt (this time Cornelius Vanderbilt II) and designed by architect Richard Morris Hunt in the late 19th century. The 70-room mansion was inspired by Italian Renaissance palaces from 16th-century Genoa and Turin.