📅 June 26, 2021

Travelers seeking a fun, summer getaway should look no further than these New England destinations, from a revamped historic hotel overlooking the sparkling ocean in Narragansett and a newly opened family-friendly destination resort on Block Island, to spiritual wellness workshops at a boutique Nantucket hotel and an activity-packed destination resort in a quaint New Hampshire lake town.

Champlin's Marina & Resort - Block Island, RI

Travelers planning a visit to Block Island this summer may want to consider Champlin's Marina & Resort a newly renovated 9-acre property that aims to be a fresh destination for all — families, couples and even solo travelers. The property features one of New England's largest marinas with 120 fixed slips, a destination restaurant, 46 guest rooms and special event venue overlooking the Great Salt Pond. Guests will enjoy al fresco dining at Galley House for the freshest seafood around, a Café Boutique with grab n' go pastries, pizza, and more, as well as a new onsite ice cream parlor. Interior Designer Giovanna Lucy of New England-based Giovanna Lucy Design, and David Ashen, founder of Dash Design, envisioned the new resort to be reflective of Block Island.

The Shore House - Narragansett, RI

The Shore House — a historic, boutique inn situated directly on the beach in Narragansett, Rhode Island — debuted last month following a complete renovation of its 31-rooms and a beautiful new lobby. Enhancing the overnight experience at The Shore House, The Shore House will debut a new, sophisticated beachside restaurant overlooking the sparkling blue sea called Sea Craft. Menu highlights will include an elevated take on a lobster roll, locally caught day-boat fish, and creative ceviche and crudo plates, as well as a unique, crafted approach to traditional beach cocktails. Sea Craft's outdoor patio will see the addition of an outdoor bar, fire pits and beautiful new landscaping. The patio will also be elevated so that visitors can enjoy even better views of the ocean.
