In fantasies of honeymoons to come, many dream of sun-dappled beaches, swimming pools and tropical drinks. But, winter lovers, I know you're out there. You're the ones who'd rather snow ski than water ski, prefer sweaters to bikinis and reach for a hot, spiked libation instead of a piña colada. If snow seems sexy to you and your beloved, why not don big coats and cavort amid the white stuff. When the world opens soon, this icy spot will melt your hearts. Note: Please check COVID restrictions before booking a honeymoon or meal.

Gurney's Newport Resort & Marina – Newport, Rhode Island

Eat every meal in an igloo — in Rhode Island? You bet. A pop-up experience at Gurney's Newport Resort & Marina, the igloos hold four people and can be reserved for two-hour slots. With views of Newport Bridge and Narragansett Bay, the classic, locally driven menu, interpreted with flair includes such items as lobster kimchi fried rice, butternut squash “love letters,” tuna poke, charred octopus, soy chili calamari, and lobster rolls. At night, drift off in elegance at the hotel, considered one of the most captivating on the Eastern seaboard.
