

Hotels Where You Can Stay With Points to See Fall Leaves

These hotels might be able to give you a great view of the autumn colors from your balcony.

Ramsey Qubein October 9, 2020

Looking for a change of scenery? Autumn's stunning colors are on full display — a perfect excuse to take a trip someplace far away or squeeze in a quick getaway close to home. And the changing leaves of fall are even better when you've booked your hotel with points instead of cash. Here, grouped by loyalty program, are just a few of the hotels where you can enjoy the season's splendor while paying with or earning points.

Outside of Providence, Rhode Island, the NYLO Providence Warwick Hotel, Tapestry Collection by Hilton offers ample foliage views, which can be seen from guest rooms and public spaces. The NYLO Riverview Loft adds views of the Pawtuxet River to the scenery to frame that perfect photo.