

The Boston Globe

HERE, THERE, AND EVERYWHERE

The Beatrice arrives, the kayak folds, and the travel pillow for side sleepers comforts

Travel news (and gadgets) you can use.

By Necee Regis Globe Correspondent, Updated October 28, 2021, 12:00 p.m.

The Beatrice, located in Providence's busy downtown historic district, has 47 spacious rooms — with high ceilings, expansive windows and dynamic city views — and is also home to Bellini Restaurant & Bar.

HERE:

BOUTIQUE HOTEL DEBUTS IN PROVIDENCE

Those traveling to Providence for its tasty culinary scene can both eat well and sleep in style at The Beatrice. Located in the busy downtown historic district, in the iconic 1887 Exchange Building, the newly opened boutique hotel boasts 47 spacious rooms — with high ceilings, expansive windows and dynamic city views — and is also home to Bellini Restaurant & Bar, a contemporary Italian restaurant inspired by Ignazio and Maggio Cipriani's extensive travels throughout Italy. Deluxe amenities include Dyson Supersonic hair dryers; Mascioni linens crafted in Milan; Nespresso coffee makers; BeeKind personal care products; fitness center; in-room Fit Kits; and an exclusive private rooftop club for members and hotel guests. Opening rates from $289. 401-443-2960, www.thebeatrice.com

News from...

NJF

2,143,524
unique monthly
visitors