

the knot

The Knot Editors' Favorite Celebrity Wedding Venues of All Time

From exclusive Italian villas to their own penthouse apartments.

Italian villas. French resorts. Ocean-front beach clubs. We've seen so many jaw-dropping, enviable celebrity wedding venues over the years—but some, unsurprisingly, stand out from others. After all, who can forget when Joe Jonas and Sophie Turner took over the Vegas strip, or when Beyoncé transformed her literal apartment into a luxe microwedding destination?

As editors of The Knot, we have our fair share of wedding hot takes, especially when it comes to the nuptials of famous A-listers. Here, we share our all-time favorite celebrity wedding venues. Look back on the lavish settings of the most memorable marriages, and let them inspire the venue for your own big day. (Psst: Some of these hotspots are available to book on The Knot Marketplace. Yes, seriously.)

Jennifer Lawrence's Wedding Venue: Belcourt of Newport, Rhode Island

Newport, Rhode Island is one of my all-time favorite places to visit—so when I heard that Jennifer Lawrence was set to tie the knot at Belcourt of Newport in 2019, I couldn't be more excited. Unfortunately, we still have yet to see any official wedding photos from the big day. (And as The Knot's Entertainment and Celebrity Editor, the devastation keeps me up at night.) But, based on various reports from the weekend, it sounds every bit as incredible as you might imagine. Jennifer Lawrence and her husband Cookey Maroney opted to have an ultra-private celebration, inviting 150 of their closest friends, including Kris Jenner, Adele, Emma Stone and Amy Schumer, to the historic ocean-front estate.

The mansion was designed by architect Richard Morris Hunt in 1894, and it was inspired by Louis XIII's hunting lodge at Versailles. It was restored by its current owner in 2012 in an effort to bring back the villa's "original splendor," which includes "opulent rooms, intricate details, and timeless elegance." If you, too, are obsessed with this celebrity wedding venue, the mansion is open for tours, meaning you can walk the same sprawling estate that JLaw once did.