

4 FALL HIKES WITH YOUNG CHILDREN IN NEW ENGLAND

There's nothing like a beautiful, crisp autumn day to inspire getting outdoors, and New England is filled with kid-friendly trails through the colorful forests to natural wonders and even mountaintops. If your family travel plans involve the New England states, try one of these hikes.

Rhode Island

Kids will be happy with any of the several trails in Lincoln Woods State Park near Providence, but the 3-mile loop of the Lincoln Woods Trail is a sure winner. Enjoy the views of brilliant fall foliage from the ledges overlooking the pond while kids climb on the big glacial boulders strewn through the forest.