Welcome

Get your bearings with a trail walk

GET ROOTED The Richmond region has more than 400 years of history to choose from. Visit Henricus Historical Park, a re-creation of the New World's second successful English settlement, the 1611 Citie of Henricus. Watch a re-enactment of Revolutionary War patriot Patrick Henry's "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death" speech. Explore the Poe Museum, which documents literary genius Edgar Allan Poe's life in Richmond during the early 19th century. Tour the Maggie L. Walker National Historic Site, home of an African-American trail-blazer and the first woman to charter a bank in the United States. Choose from a variety of American Civil War and Emancipation sites in the former Capital of the Confederacy. And explore more of the city's diverse history at The Valentine.

TAKE A WALK Let the region's sumptuous gardens and dramatic architecture take your breath away. Follow the region's Garden Trail or the downtown Liberty Trail.

Stroll through Lewis Ginter Botanical Garden, which features more than 40 acres of natural displays year-round. Amble across Maymont's 100 beautifully landscaped acres, complete with a Victorian mansion and wildlife exhibits. Stop by Agecroft Hall, a 16th-century Tudor manor built and later dismantled in England, then reassembled in Richmond. Walk along Monument Avenue, the only avenue in the United States designated a National Historic Landmark, accented by monuments dedicated to some of Richmond's most historic figures.

FIND YOUR ARTISTIC SIDE

Take in the work of local and national artists at more than 70 galleries. Don't miss the largest collection of Fabergé eggs in the United States, recently returned to public display at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts after a four-year world tour. Performing arts options for groups include the Virginia Opera, Richmond Symphony, Elegba Folklore Society and Latin Ballet of Virginia.

SEEK THRILLS

Catch an adrenaline rush on a whitewater rafting trip down the James River. Ride the famed roller coasters at Kings Dominion. Roar into Richmond International Raceway to check out the region's two NASCAR races.

Who says shopping can't be an adventure? The region boasts a multitude of boutiques, antique shops and two grand outdoor malls. No visit would be complete without wandering through Carytown's locally owned shops.

DON'T STOP AT SUNSET

Group-friendly dining and nightlife options abound. Cuisine choices range from New Southern to sushi to Mediterranean, from upscale seafood and steaks to burgers and fries. After-dinner destinations include comedy clubs, theaters and live-music venues.

With all there is to do in the region, it's easy to plan an exciting tour for any group. Use these pages to explore Richmond's diverse offerings. See for yourself why the historic Richmond region is so easy to love. Contact Richmond Region Tourism's Sales Manager today at 1.888.RICHMOND.

Experience Flying Squirrels to bald eagles

WASHINGTON REDSKINS

Football season starts early in Richmond when the Washington Redskins return to the Bon Secours Washington Redskins Training Center in July and August. The three-week preseason camp hosted in Richmond through at least 2020, showcases the team in practices, 11-on-11 live drills, and even autograph opportunities with members of the team. More than 150,000 fans visit Richmond each year for this event. New additions include a Kids Zone, live stage performances and parades. West Leigh Street between DMV Drive and Myers Street. redskinsinrichmond.com.

MISE EN PLACE

They say food tastes better when you work for it ... but what if the “work” happens to be a whole lot of fun? More than just a cooking how-to, Mise En Place offers a group experience as unique as it is decadent. Dynamic hands-on cooking classes turn ingredients into a masterpiece as led by executive chef and owner Christine Wansleben and other area professional chefs. Whether you’re a novice or an expert, Mise En Place will take you on a culinary adventure as you work together with fellow participants to create a gourmet meal. 104 Shockoe Slip. 804.404.5328 or miseenplacerva.com.

FLYING SQUIRRELS

From suites to party decks, the Richmond Flying Squirrels offer a variety of “FUNN” ways for groups to enjoy a game at the Diamond. This Double-A affiliate of the San Francisco Giants gives fans plenty of action on the field, while a regular line-up of creative promotions, gear giveaways and fireworks keeps guests in the stands happy. So grab a ‘dog, get to your seat and join beloved mascot, Nutzy, and newly introduced mascot, Nutasha, in root-root-rooting for the home team. Groups of 20 or more receive discounts on individual ticket pricing and all group leaders receive a special “Head Nut” gift. 3001 N. Boulevard. 804.359.3866 or squirrelsbaseball.com.

GARDENFEST OF LIGHTS EARLY-BIRD TOURS

Celebrate the season by participating in an early-bird tour of the Dominion GardenFest of Lights at Lewis Ginter Botanical Garden. The guided tour will lead you through the colorful displays of LED lights and seasonal plants beginning at 4 p.m. before the doors open for regular admission. A dining option is also available. The tours run December through early January. Reservations are required and recommended two weeks in advance. Call for tour: 804.262.9887, ext. 320; for tour plus dining: 804.262.9887, ext. 345 or 224. 1800 Lakeside Ave., lewisginter.org.

RICHMOND LIMOUSINE RVA MURAL TOURS

Richmond is experiencing a street art renaissance, attracting some of the most acclaimed street artists creating more than 100 murals on the city's buildings. A Richmond Limousine tour is the perfect way to see these urban masterpieces. Guides talk you through each mural's artist, inception, and big-picture significance, all from the comfort of a biodiesel-fueled limousine. Groups of any size can be accommodated, but the 14 passenger vehicles are recommended due to the ease of getting close to the murals. 804.926.0393 or bioriderva.com/mural-tours-2.

UPPER SHIRLEY VINEYARDS

Just 20 minutes from downtown Richmond, Upper Shirley Vineyards is a one-of-a-kind estate, winery and restaurant surrounded by the tranquility of a rural setting. Visit the tasting room to sample the vineyards' own vintages. Take in stunning views of the James River from two relaxing stone patios or from the veranda. And make sure to stop in at the full-service restaurant with a rotating menu using local ingredients. Group reservations required for parties of five or more. 600 Shirley Plantation Road, Charles City. 804.829.9463 or uppershirley.com.

► The Upper Shirley Vineyards cheese board includes a local selection of cheese, honey, fruit, nuts and crackers.

DISCOVER THE JAMES

Did you know that Richmond is the only capital city in the lower 48 that has bald eagles nesting within its city limits? Join Capt. Mike Ostrander aboard his covered pontoon boat to cruise the James River and observe the hundreds of resident bald eagles who call this stunning ecosystem home. Binoculars are provided, and wildlife and history abound on these two-hour tours. 7239 Lookout Drive. 804.938.2350 or discoverthejames.com.

ZIPLINE AT METRO RICHMOND ZOO

Catch incredible nature views while soaring on 16 zip lines spanning more than 3,000 feet through forest tree tops and above the Metro Richmond Zoo. The Treetop Zoofari, which carries you 12 to 45 feet in the air, is complemented by a Junior Explorer course (5 to 12 feet) for the younger or less adventurous, as well as jungle ropes, floating logs, tight wires, Indiana Jones bridges, a surf board zip and the Tarzan swing. 8300 Beaver Bridge Road. 804.739.5666 or treetopzoofari.com.

▲ Metro Richmond Zoo Treetop Zoofari

RIVERSIDE OUTFITTERS GUIDED RAFTING TRIPS

The James River is unique in that it runs through the city and features Class III and IV rapids in an urban setting. What better way to experience that whitewater than on a raft or stand-up paddleboard? Experienced guides will direct your group as you navigate the rapids, taking in the environment and wildlife along the way. Three different trip options range from relaxing floats down the river to thrilling excursions. Reservations are required. 6836 Old Westham Road. 804.560.0068 or riversideoutfitters.net.

▲ Riverside Outfitters' Downriver Paddleboarding trip is a unique way to experience the James River.

HENRICUS HISTORICAL PARK

Explore colonial history and the culture of the Powhatan Indians in the Arrohateck Village at this outdoor living-history museum. Guided tours are available by reservation throughout the year at the site where the second successful English settlement in America is re-created. Members of the militia and tradesmen go about their daily routines as they talk about life at the 1611 settlement. 251 Henricus Park Road. 804.748.1611 or henricus.org.

▲ Experience early colonist life at Henricus Historical Park, where the 1611 settlement is re-created.

▲ A bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln and his son, Tad, commemorates their visit to Richmond on April 4, 1865. It can be found on the hill behind the Richmond National Battlefield Park Civil War Visitor Center.

▲ Jennifer Blessman and Dana Brown of the Library of Virginia analyze a map during the exhibition, "Mapping RVA: Where You Live Makes All the Difference."

Forging Freedom

Walk the paths of lesser-known heroes

The American Civil War Museum at Historic Tredegar — Programs and presentations tell the stories of the Civil War and its legacies from multiple perspectives: Union and Confederate, enslaved and free African-Americans, soldiers and civilians. Allow 90 minutes.

Richmond National Battlefield Park Civil War Visitor Center — Located at Historic Tredegar, maps and audiovisual displays and exhibits introduce the story of Richmond during the Civil War and the battlefields that surround the city. Check out the 20-minute film about Civil War Era Richmond and don't miss the fascinating story of the United States Colored Troops who fought against Richmond defenses. Allow 90 minutes.

Lincoln Statue — Located at Historic Tredegar, this statue commemorates the visit of Abraham Lincoln and his son, Tad, to Richmond on April 4, 1865, the day after the city's capture. He was greeted with silent anger from many white civilians and with euphoria by former slaves. Allow 30 minutes.

Richmond Slave Trail — Follow 17 markers along sidewalks beginning at the Manchester Docks and ending at Lumpkin's Slave Jail. This self-guided trail passes sites that tell Richmond's story of slavery.

Manchester Slave Docks Trail — From 1680 until 1780, Richmond was the second-largest slave market in the United States. For 40 years prior to the Civil War, Richmond was the nation's center for the export of slaves. The trail is a memorial to those who walked this route. Now, as it was 150 years ago, this walk is an emotionally powerful experience. The Elegba Folklore Society offers powerful, torch-lit tours of the trail. Allow two to three hours.

Lumpkin's Jail — Site of the holding area for slaves before they were taken to auctions. After the Civil War, the jail was transformed into a school for African-Americans; the school eventually became Virginia Union University. Allow 30 minutes to one hour.

Negro Burial Ground — Site of many unmarked graves of Richmond's first citizens. On the hillside above was Richmond's gallows, where the blacksmith slave Gabriel was hanged in 1800 after his failed insurrection plot. Allow 30 minutes.

Fort Gilmer — African-American soldiers from the 9th United States Colored Troops participated in the attack here on September 29, 1864, playing a prominent role in the repulse of the Federal drive north toward Richmond. Allow one hour.

Richmond Slavery Reconciliation Statue

— Designed to raise awareness and provide accurate information about Richmond's role in the slave trade. The statue is linked to identical memorials in Liverpool, England, and Benin, Africa. Allow 30 minutes.

Black History Museum & Cultural Center of Virginia

— The museum's collections preserve and honor African-American history and culture, with an emphasis on Virginians. The museum reopened inside the overhauled and renovated Leigh Street Armory, the former headquarters of the First Battalion Virginia Volunteers Infantry, Richmond's first African-American regiment. Explore the 12,000-square-foot space featuring permanent, interactive and rotating exhibitions. Allow one hour.

Virginia State Capitol — Meeting place of the Confederate Congress and where Gen. Robert E. Lee accepted his commission in the Confederate Army. ▲ The AMC series, "Turn," filmed in Richmond and throughout central Virginia, tells the story of Revolutionary War-era spies.

TURN

Richmonders who follow "Turn," AMC's series based on a spy ring that gathered intelligence about British troop movements for Gen. George Washington during the Revolutionary War, may have noticed that some local landmarks have played prominent roles. Appropriately for a drama about leading double lives, historic sites such as Tuckahoe and Shirley plantations stood in for characters' homes on New York's Long Island. Petersburg became New York City, the James River was cast as the Long Island Sound and Virginia Department of Corrections property in Goochland County provided the setting for the village of Setauket, where much of the action takes place. With an economic impact estimated at $45 million from the first season, many in the region cheered the news that "Turn" would return with 10 new episodes. However, AMC has announced that the fourth season of "Turn" will be the last, airing 10 episodes in 2017. With an average of 1.2 million viewers per episode during the third season, it will be hard for fans to stop tuning in to learn the story of the Culper Ring. Virginia Governor Terry McAuliffe said in a press release, "As a history buff and a supporter of Virginia's film industry, I am excited to welcome "TURN: Washington's Spies" back for a fourth season of filming. This is a great show, with plenty of action, memorable performances by a fantastic cast, and vivid recreations of an important chapter in our history."

Beyond the Region

Discover nearby towns and scenic byways

James River Plantations — Between the Chickahominy and James rivers, several of Virginia's earliest plantations remain intact, giving a glimpse of the rural history dating back to the 1600s. Spaced out along scenic Route 5 east of Richmond in Charles City County, the plantations include Berkeley, Edgewood, Sherwood Forest, Shirley and Westover, where several of the region's and the nation's early historic figures lived. The manor houses are listed on the National Register of Historic Places and offer a convenient stop en route to Virginia's "historic triangle."

Historic Triangle — See where America began in Virginia's historic triangle of Williamsburg, Jamestown and Yorktown, located just an hour east of the Richmond region. Colonial Williamsburg, the Commonwealth's first capital and largest living-history museum, offers views of 18th-century life with more than 500 original and reconstructed homes, taverns and shops, and 90 acres of gardens and public greens. Jamestown is the first permanent English settlement in America. Visit the historic battlefield at Yorktown, site of the Revolutionary War battle that achieved independence for the Colonies, or stroll through the town's Colonial-era village with original historic homes, shops and restaurants. The area is also home to two theme parks, Busch Gardens and Water Country USA, and numerous outlet shops.

Charlottesville — Located approximately one hour west from the Richmond region at the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains is Charlottesville, an area known for year-round beauty and home to the University of Virginia. Tour Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson. James Monroe's Highland, the restored 550-acre home of James Monroe, features a working farm, period craft demonstrations, and house tours. The area is also home to many vineyards and wineries, which offer tours and tastings. Stroll through Charlottesville's downtown pedestrian mall of shops, art galleries and outdoor cafés.

Fredericksburg — Fredericksburg is a quick 56-mile drive from Richmond north on Interstate 95. The area is home to wineries, a charming Old Town and the University of Mary Washington, and was also the site of four major Civil War battles. Tour Kenmore Plantation & Gardens, the former home of George Washington's sister and brother-in-law. Nearby is the Mary Washington House, home of George Washington's mother during her last 17 years. Enjoy lunch and shopping in Fredericksburg's historic district.

Petersburg/Dinwiddie — Located approximately 45 minutes south of Richmond, Petersburg and Dinwiddie boast many famous Civil War sites. Visit Petersburg National Battlefield, which highlights the Battle of the Crater and the 10-month siege of Petersburg during the final year of the Civil War. Pamplin Historical Park is located on the site of Breakthrough, the battle that ended the Petersburg Campaign and led to the evacuation of the Confederate capital in Richmond. The park features four award-winning museums and plantation homes as well as living-history interpretations of military and civilian Civil War life. Enjoy lunch and shopping in historic Old Towne.

Engage in team building and recreation

Arcades, Sports Parks, Miniature Golf — Batting cages, driving ranges, miniature golf courses and arcade games await your group. West of Short Pump, there's Bogey's Sports Park. Head north of Richmond for Hanover Sports Park, or west for Patterson Golf Park. South of downtown Richmond, Swaders Sports Park offers a full menu of activities, as does Ironbridge Sports Park, Oasis Sports Park, Rockwood Golf Park, Putt-Putt Fun Center and Windy Hill Sports Complex. Allow one to two hours.

Bowling Alleys — An array of bowling venues offer 10-pin fun convenient to your group at AMF's Hanover Lanes, Shrader Lanes and Sunset Lanes or any of Bowl America's four locations — Eastern, Midlothian, Short Pump and Southwest. Also check out Holiday Bowl in Chester or King Pin Lanes in Midlothian. And there's the 50,000-square-foot Uptown Alley with its 30 state-of-the-art lanes. Allow a minimum of one hour.

Eerie Exploration — Get the spookier side of the region's history with a walking tour led by Haunts of Richmond's local "ghost" through some of the city's oldest districts. Or follow one of Eerie Nights' "ghoul guides" as they recount the city's bygone ghost stories. Allow a minimum of 75 minutes.

Go-Karts — Take a spin around G-Force Karts' track, a group-friendly indoor facility. Hop in an eco-friendly electric kart on Thunderbolt Indoor Karting's custom track. Or check out the go-kart tracks at Putt-Putt Race Zone. Swaders Sports Park features two go-kart tracks. Or check out Ironbridge Sports Park's quarter-mile adult track or rookie track. Allow one to two hours.

Indoor Climbing — For a vertical challenge, Peak Experiences Indoor Climbing Gym offers one of the East Coast's largest indoor rock-climbing centers. Groups can schedule an adventure-based teambuilding program. Allow a minimum of one-and-a-half hours.

Laser Tag — Have your students disappear happily into a game of high-tech hide-and-seek at any of the region's local laser-tag clubs. In Midlothian, you'll find Laser Quest and Swaders Sports Park, and in Chester, Ironbridge Sports Park has a 37,000 square foot, outdoor laser tag area. In the east end of the city, G-Force Karts offers laser tag as well. Head to the west end to experience the 5,000 square foot, multi-level, laser tag arena at SkateNation Plus.

Malls — The main attractions among the many shopping options include Chesterfield Towne Center, Regency Square Mall, Short Pump Town Center, The Shops at White Oak Village, The Shops at Willow Lawn, Stony Point Fashion Park and Southpark Mall. Allow a minimum of one hour.

Movie Theaters — The crown jewel of the Richmond region's movie scene is Carytown's historic Byrd Theatre, which shows second-run films at bargain prices and features a performance on the Wurlitzer Organ every Saturday night. From Bow Tie Movieland downtown to the Regal Cinemas around the region, you'll find everything from the latest blockbuster to art-house films and the Cinebistro theater at Stony Point Fashion Park mixes wine and dinner with movie night. Allow two to three hours.

Paintball — When it's time for some intense fun, your group can suit up for some combat games at one of the region's paintball parks. Groups are welcome at XZone Sports in Chesterfield County and KPS Paintball in Midlothian. G-Force Karts, in the east end of the city, offers indoor paintball. Allow a minimum of one hour.

Science Museum of Virginia — What's faster: a cheetah or a race car? Find out at the museum's newest exhibition, "Speed." Check out the SR-71 Blackbird aircraft suspended from the ceiling as you interact with more than 50 exhibits. The adjacent Dome offers astronomy shows and wide-angle films. Allow a minimum of two hours.

Skating — Both ice- and roller-skating rinks can be found throughout the region. Ice-skating venues include Richmond Ice Zone and SkateNation Plus. Roller skating is available at Ashland Skateland, Roller Dome, Skate-A-Way and Skateland of Richmond. Allow a minimum of one hour.

Richmond's most unique tourist attraction, Agecroft Hall & Gardens gives visitors a chance to travel back in time to Tudor and Stuart England without leaving Richmond! That's because this manor house actually stood in England for more than four centuries before being dismantled, crated, and shipped across the Atlantic to be rebuilt here on the banks of the James River in the 1920s. Surrounded by Charles Gillette gardens inspired by 17th century examples, Agecroft Hall now offers guided tours that interpret life in an English manor house in the brilliant and turbulent era of Henry VIII, Elizabeth I and William Shakespeare. Afterwards, visitors can stroll through the beautiful gardens at their leisure. Guided garden tours and joint tours with Virginia House are also available by appointment.

Come and step back in time at the Richmond region's own 18th century James River Plantation house. Situated on a bluff overlooking the James River, Wilton is an impressive example of Colonial American architecture and is a superb essay in Georgian design.

Built circa 1753 by William Randolph III, Wilton was the centerpiece of a 2,000-acre tobacco plantation and home to the Randolph family for more than a century. It was here the family entertained George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and Marquis de Lafayette. Due to the industrialization of the surrounding area, Wilton was purchased and carefully moved to its current site in 1933 by the Virginia Society of The National Society of the Colonial Dames of America. Opened to the public in 1952, Wilton today plays host to an exquisite collection of 18th- and 19th-century furnishings, textiles, glass, ceramics and silver that reflect the "planter" lifestyle of the 18th century.

Twice the fun. Twice the thrills. One low price.

This summer, don't miss out on all the coasters and waterslides you can handle. At Kings Dominion and Soak City, you can get the best of both worlds, all for one low price—like the newly-expanded Planet Snoopy kids' area coming in 2017, or one of our classic coasters, Intimidator 305, plus many more.

SAVE ON TICKETS AT KINGSDOMINION.COM.
