THE RICHMOND REGION IS OPEN AND SAFELY ACCESSIBLE

RIDE THE RAILS

The national passenger-rail operator Amtrak stops at four metro-region stations. Rail service is located just minutes from interstates 95 and 64 at 7519 Staples Mill Road, and downtown at Main Street Station, 1500 E. Main St. Amtrak also has a station in Ashland at 112 N. Railroad Ave. and in Colonial Heights at 3516 South St. Stations are wheelchair-accessible, and baggage service is available. For more information about Amtrak service and to view regulations in place for safe travel, visit amtrak.com/virginia.

SAFETY FIRST

Though many COVID-19 safety mandates have been lifted, the Richmond region is still taking steps to make your visit as safe and enjoyable as possible. For updated guidelines and to learn more, see TravelSafeRVA.com.

GETTING AROUND TOWN

Richmond is a drivable city with bike lanes that allow for ease of pedaled locomotion. Here's what the region offers to assist with navigation.

CRUISE ON YOUR OWN

RVA is within a day's drive of half of the U.S. population, courtesy of I-95 and I-64, the major corridors through the area. And once you're here, locals tout that no matter where you are in the region, you're only 15 to 20 minutes away from anywhere you'd like to go. There are multiple vehicle rental agencies throughout the metro area, including nine at Richmond International Airport.

RIDE LIKE A LOCAL

The Bus Rapid Transit system, the Greater Richmond Transit Co. Pulse, travels a 7.6-mile route along Broad Street connecting Willow Lawn in Henrico County to Rocketts Landing in Richmond. Tickets can be purchased at vending machines located at the 14 platform stops or through the GRTC mobile app. GRTC also offers bus routes in the city, the neighboring county of Henrico and parts of Chesterfield County. Visit ridegrtc.com for bus routes, schedules and updated safety measures.

ARRIVE IN STYLE

James River Transportation provides charter bus trips and service to and from Richmond International Airport. Service is also available from other area companies. See flyrichmond. com/ground-transportation for more information.

SCOOT THE STREETS

The city has fleets of Bird, Bolt Mobility, Helbiz and Lime electric scooters. They are available for rental via each company's app. Visit bird.co, micromobility.com, helbiz.com and li.me for details.

BE CHAUFFEURED

Taxi service is available throughout the region from multiple providers. Ride-hailing services include Uber and Lyft. Visit uber.com and lyft. com for details.

RVA Bike Share (rvabikes.com) offers 220 eight-speed bikes available 24/7 through 20 docking stations located throughout the city. There are also several other outlets where you can rent bikes for street or trail use. Adventures in RVA (rvabikerental.com) has a variety of bike styles, including kid's, adult hybrid and tandem bikes. RVA on Wheels (rvaonwheels.com) offers Pedego electric bike rentals, including locks and helmets. Basket & Bike (basketandbike.com) partners with RVA on Wheels to expand Priority Bicycle with delivery options available. Kul Wheels (kulwheels.com) provides electric bike rentals, including locks and helmets. Child carriers and cargo electric bike rentals are also available. A collaboration between outdoor adventure company Riverside Outfitters and Richmond native Max Pendergraph, Riverside Cycling (riversideoutfitters. tours, see Pages 67-70 of this guide.

HISTORY ABOUNDS

The Richmond region has played a prominent role in events which have shaped who we are as a country. From the early colonists and Powhatan Indians to the civil rights movement, learn and gain perspective at locations like the Black History Museum and Cultural Center of Virginia and Henricus, the second successful English settlement in the New World. Check out area sites retracing the steps of those who came before us, such as the newly renovated Virginia Museum of History & Culture.

anniversary of the VMHC's founding (as the Virginia Historical Society) in 2031

Due to the pandemic, the VMHC moved up its construction timetable to mitigate disruptions for visitors. Temporarily closing for a few months beginning in late 2020, the museum continued to offer virtual programming as it set to work on its extensive indoor-outdoor "reimagining." In summer 2021, the museum reopened select galleries and in-person programming.

By spring 2022, visitors will enter refreshed naturally lit spaces, the refuring an outdoor terrace. Among the "wow" factors is a theater for a stunning orientation film.

An approximately 6,000-squarefoot gallery space is devoted to "Our Commonwealth," a journey through the state's five geographic regions that emphasizes how each one's history, topography, music and food traditions have contributed to Virginia. 428 N. Groups of four to eight can reserve a furnished lounge tent along the banks of the 18-acre Tom Brooks Lake. A small selection of prepackaged snacks is also available.

AGECROFT HALL & GARDENS

agecrofthall.org

Located on 23 acres overlooking the James River, Agecroft Hall's Tudor gardens were designed by Richmond landscape architect Charles Gillette. Inspired by Elizabethan designs, the knot and sunken gardens incorporate native Virginia plants. The grounds also play host to live performances during the Richmond Shakespeare Festival.

BRYAN PARK

This historic park includes a 17-acre azalea garden containing more than 450,000 plants in 76 different beds. During peak bloom season — April 1 to May 15 — walk or drive the 1-mile loop circling the gardens. On Saturdays, check out the RVA Big Market for local produce and other vendors.

GINTER BOTANICAL GARDEN

lewisginter.org

It's rare to find someone who has made only one visit to RVA. With its burgeoning food scene, outdoor trails and park systems, and brewery and winery offerings, there's so much to experience that one trip just isn't enough. Check out these suggestions for places to visit that are in the same lane as some regional destinations you might have already enjoyed.

INSTITUTE FOR CONTEMPORARY ART AT VCU

icavcu.org

Through a constantly rotating roster of exhibitions, performances, films and special programs, the ICA encourages visitors to engage and start a dialogue about national and international issues. Positioned between Virginia Commonwealth University and the neighboring arts district, the building — designed by architect Steven Holl — is itself a work of modern art, with a titanium-zinc and etched-glass exterior.

CULTURAL ARTS CENTER AT GLEN ALLEN

Visit the Cultural Arts Center for art exhibitions, concerts by nationally known artists, plays and musicals, modern and classic dance performances, and shopping featuring artisan goods by local and national artists. You can also develop your own artistic talents with classes for kids and adults, including ceramics, floral design, plein air watercolors and more.

THREE LAKES PARK & NATURE CENTER henrico.us

Learn about the area's native wetlands and woodlands through live exhibitions, interactive displays and a 50,000-gallon aquarium. Then step outside and explore swamps, upland forests, open fields and meadows, and riparian woodlands — all on the park's extensive trail system. Look for woodpeckers, herons, small fish and amphibians.

BRAMBLY PARK

Featuring grapes sourced from Virginia, California and Oregon, the in-house varietals here range from Virginia viognier to Willamette Valley pinot noir. The urban winery is situated on 2 acres in Scott's Addition, along with a full-service Italian restaurant, a park with a live-music stage, and a 2,000-square-foot event hall.

GARDEN GROVE BREWING AND URBAN WINERY

gardengrovebrewing.com

Originally opening as a brewery, Garden Grove's infusion of wine ingredients in its brews led to them expanding their offerings to include small-batch wines, ciders and meads, too. With local, organic and foraged ingredients, wine selections include Adaptation, a blend of petit verdot and tannat grapes; the fruit-infused honey wine Typhoon; and the sparkling wine Honeysuckle.

THE POE MUSEUM

A memorial to Edgar Allan Poe, the Enchanted Garden incorporates artifacts from the writer's Richmond childhood, including bricks from the building where Poe worked, stone benches from his boarding house and English ivy transplanted from his mother's grave. The garden was restored in 2014 using 1964 drawings by Charles Gillette.

FIND YOUR RVA MOMENT

With everything the region offers, being a tourist in one's own town is easy for Richmonders. Exploring your own backyard reduces the chance that you'll utter the phrase "I've lived here my entire life, and I've never been here." Whether you're making your first trip to the region or have been a longtime resident, your #myRVAmoment is just around the corner. Embark on a whitewater rafting or kayaking trip along the James River courtesy of RVA Paddlesports (rvapaddlesports.com) or Riverside Outfitters (riversideoutfitters.com). For an outdoor dining experience, head to Pizza & Beer of Richmond (pbrva.com), where you can enjoy a slice of Neapolitan-style pizza and a craft brew while playing a game of bocce ball or cornhole. And if you've never made the trip south of the city to see the Metro Richmond Zoo (metrorichmondzoo.com) and its more than 2,000 animals representing 180 species from around the globe, what are you waiting for? To discover more moments, see visitrichmondva.com/blog.

JOIN THE NEIGHBORHOOD

From the historic streets of the town of Ashland to the warehousedistrict-turned-urban-hotspot Scott's Addition, the region is packed with areas that offer unique personality, character and charm.

HISTORIC DOWNTOWN

The Caboose (cabooseashland. com) features farm-to-table fare, a specialty market and an outdoor mural for a favorite photo op. Other Railroad Avenue hotspots include Origin Beer Lab (originbeerlab.com), located inside a 19th-century pharmacy, and Homemades by Suzanne (homemadesbysuzanne.com), a beloved lunch stop, bakery and Shoppers can scour Caravati's (caravatis.com) for a treasure trove of antique doors, farmhouse sinks, stunning stained glass and architectural salvage. Or find local art, custom lighting, new and refurbished furniture, and vintage pieces at Thrill of the Hunt (thrillofthehuntva.com).

Right across from the Amtrak station is the historic campus of Randolph-Macon College (rmc.edu), a liberal arts school with roots dating back nearly 200 years.

SCOTT'S ADDITION

In recent years, Scott's Addition has transformed from an industrial hub into one of Richmond's hippest neighborhoods, with an array of restaurants, arcade bars and breweries.

Start your pub crawl on the patio at Ardent (ardentcraftales.com), enjoy craft beers with creative flavor infusions that live up to the brewery's name at Strangeways Brewing (strangewaysbrewing.com), sip some Blue Bee Cider (bluebeecider.com) made from Virginia apples and head up to The HofGarden rooftop (thehofgarden.com). Claim your spot on the lawn at Brambly Park (bramblypark.com) and settle into an evening of live music.

Everyone in the family can play indoor shuffleboard and board games at Tang & Biscuit (tangandbiscuit.com), and parents can share their '80s nostalgia with the kids at The Circuit (thecircuitarcadebar. com), featuring vintage games like pinball, Pac-Man and Donkey Kong.

Popular for breakfast and milkshakes, The Dairy Bar (dairybardiner. com) has been a mainstay since 1946. Recently lauded by Forbes, ZZQ (zzqrva.com) dishes out tasty Texas-style craft barbecue. Another great option is Lunch and Supper (lunchorsupper.com), serving Southern comfort food. For fine dining, Brenner Pass (brennerpassrva.com) presents a European-influenced menu in a chic setting.

GREENGATE

Richmond's western suburb of Short Pump is the ultimate shopping destination, with all your favorite brands. While you're in the neighborhood, get a taste of something local at GreenGate. This outdoor lifestyle center features colorful murals, walkability and urban flair. Here you'll find outposts of some of the city's favorite dining spots, like The Daily Kitchen & Bar (thedailykitchenandbar.com) for healthy comfort food and West Coast Provisions (westcoastrva.com) for local oysters and fresh seafood. You can also grab a spot on the lively patio at Red Salt Chophouse & Sushi (redsaltrva.com), where creatively crafted rolls and hand-cut steaks give diners the best of both worlds.

GreenGate is also a one-stop shop for health and wellness. Keep up your daily fitness routine at CycleBar (cyclebar.com) and Pure Barre (purebarre. com), both offering intro and single classes, package deals, and memberships. At Purify (purifyrva.com), infrared saunas help relieve stress, burn calories, increase serotonin and remove toxins. Restore (restore.com) offers services like cryotherapy to reduce inflammation and pain and IV drip therapy for rehydration and revitalization.

(theshavedduckrestaurant. com) may have a funny name, but its scratch kitchen and business. Latitude Seafood (latitudeseafoodco.com) is another local option, known for succulent seafood and an extensive menu of craft beer.

Friday evenings May through October, Main Street comes alive with the free Westchester Concert Series (shopwestchestercommons. com). Bring your chairs and blankets and enjoy the sounds of local and regional musicians. Food and drinks are also available. Other popular events throughout the year include the Westchester Commons tree lighting ceremony and Easterpalooza.

LAKESIDE

Nestled inside Richmond's Lakeside neighborhood, Lewis Ginter Botanical Garden (lewisginter.org) has been named among the top 10 gardens in the country by USA Today. Meander through the 50-acre property, admiring themed gardens, seasonal blooms and exotic plants inside the conservatory. Spring is especially sensational with more Dominion Energy GardenFest of Lights, the grounds sparkle in a magical winter wonderland.

Lakeside Farmers' Market

Drive south along Lakeside Avenue for a quirky collection of shops, restaurants, vintage stores and the year-round Lakeside Farmers' Market (lakesidefarmersmarket. net), held Wednesdays and Saturdays. Enjoy a beer on the patio at Final Gravity Brewing Co. (finalgravitybrewing.com), or tuck in to a decadent brunch at Hobnob (hobnobrva.com). SB's Lakeside Love Shack (sbs-love-shack.com) is a colorful diner with "Knock a Lil Louder Sugar" Buns, the "Big as a Whale" breakfast special and other B-52s tributes.

Anchoring the south side of Lakeside is Bryan Park (friendsofbryanpark.org), an urban oasis with walking and biking trails, disc golf, nature center and the Saturday farmers market, RVA Big Market.

KATIE BROWN

MANCHESTER

Pedestrians can cross over the James River from downtown Richmond to Manchester via the T. Tyler Potterfield Memorial Bridge. From there, follow signs to the Manchester Floodwall (jamesriverpark.org), a popular urban hiking trail on the city's south side. For a bird's-eye view of the river and downtown skyline, travel the Belle Isle pedestrian suspension bridge which accesses the island. Downstream, learn about the city's role in the slave trade along the Richmond Slave Trail (virginia.org). Manchester Docks was once a major port and the largest source of enslaved Africans on the East Coast.

Today, Manchester is one of Richmond's most desirable urban neighborhoods, where lofts and art galleries are popping up in repurposed warehouses. In early 2022, Hatch Local Food Hall (hatchlocalfoodhall.com) will open on Hull Street with seven local vendors, two bars, a market and courtyard space. Another tasty option is Stella's Grocery (stellasgrocery.com), offering Greek cuisine, espresso drinks and a gourmet market. After a workout on the Manchester Climbing Wall (jamesriverpark.org), grab a burger and a cold one at Legend Brewing Co. (legendbrewing.com), where the patio provides city views. Or grab a cold pressed juice or fresh roasted coffee at Brewer's Cafe (brewerscaferva.com).
