1. Lewis & Clark State Historic Site
   See how Lewis & Clark lived during the winter of 1808 as they prepared for the epic journey westward.

2. Lewis & Clark Confluence Tower
   View the confluence of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers from 130 feet in the air.

3. Wood River
   The rise of the oil refineries brought a flood of workers to Wood River. See the remaining concentration of Sears homes built at the time.

4. National Great Rivers Research & Education Center
   Explore important questions about the river and environment, and gain a deeper appreciation of protecting and restoring the river as a resource.

5. Riverlands Migratory Bird Sanctuary
   Year-round an abundant array of bird species migrating along the Mississippi Flyway can be seen while wandering the trails of the sanctuary.

6. Alton Riverfront
   Once a bustling steamboat port, stroll the riverfront for scenic views of the Clark Bridge, marina, amphitheater and Mississippi River.

7. Alton Visitor Center
   Currents of our nation’s history collide in telling tales in Alton - one of America’s great river towns. Stop for information on dining, shopping, lodging and attractions.

8. Riverview Park
   High above the bluffs in Alton’s Christian Hill, the park offers a stunning view of the Mississippi River.

9. Piasa Park
   The bluffs, panoramic view of the Piasa Bird is a reminder of the Native American inhabitants. The park also marks the start of the Sam Vadalabene Bike Trail.

10. Great Rivers Park, Hoffman Gardens
    Located in Godfrey, this park offers a peaceful retreat carved out of the bluffs with a view of the river.

11. Clifton Terrace
    The park at Clifton Terrace offers beautiful views of the river and a resting spot along the bike trail. It is not often visited by tourists.

12. Elisha & Principle
    Stroll the streets of stone cottages and tidy gardens in the village where time stood still. Tour the only Christian Science college in the world.

13. Chautauqua
    Near the lighthouse at the base of this historic gated community, you can see the same river vistas as early settlers did.

14. Grafton
    At the confluence of the Mississippi & Illinois rivers, this river town boasts of quaint shops, river recreation and wineries.

15. Pere Marquette Cross
    Cut from a solid piece of dolomite, the cross commemorates the landing spot of explorers Marquette & Joliet in 1673.

16. Brussels Ferry
    Take in the majority of the river and view of the countryside from the Brussels Ferry crossing into Calhoun County.

17. Two Rivers National Wildlife Refuge
    Encompassing 8,498 acres of preserved land connected with trails, the refuge lies in a major migration corridor for waterfowl and other birds.

18. Pere Marquette Visitor Center & State Park
    Enjoy hiking, biking, fishing and spectacular scenic views at the largest state park in Illinois.