(Source: Tourism Economics, U.S. Travel Association, May 2022) Domestic leisure travel has recovered and is predicted to see continued growth ahead, though slowly and over time. International inbound travel is on its way back and is expected to exceed pre-pandemic levels by 2025. (Source: Tourism Economics, U.S. Travel Association, June 2022)

(Source: Symphony Tourism Economics) 82% of event planners say they value meetings and conventions more than they did before the pandemic and 76% will hold face-to-face meetings in 2022. (Source: GBTA)

Nationally, the sports market quickly rebounded 82% year-over-year from 2020 to 2021, as the sector proved to be highly resistant post COVID. While COVID-19 concerns continue to impact the tourism industry, it is no longer the driving concern for American travelers. Only 16% indicate that fear of COVID-19 will greatly impact their decision to travel in the next six months. (Source: Longwoods American Travel Sentiment Study, June 2022) However, taking hold of consumer concerns is a cluster of menacing macro issues, with inflation being at the top of the list. Gas prices are the biggest concern for consumer travel, with 61% of survey respondents planning to take fewer road trips in the spring/summer. (Source: Destination Analysts, May 2022) However, data indicates U.S. fuel consumption is highly inelastic and remains a reasonable share of household expenditures. (Source: Tourism Economics, U.S. Travel Association, June 2022)

A larger concern for tourism is labor shortages. Leisure and hospitality are most affected, still down by 1.3 million workers. (Source: Tourism Economics, U.S. Travel Association, June 2022) Unemployment rates are considerably higher, quit rates remain elevated, and job openings outnumber unemployed persons. What’s encouraging are signs of a labor supply rebound, with a participation rate upswing and unmatched wage increases in leisure and hospitality. (Source: Tourism Economics, U.S. Travel Association, June 2022)

In the near term, inflation, labor shortages, and consumer apprehension may affect overall travel behavior. However, excitement and pent-up demand for travel and business persists, presenting an opportunity for Visit Salt Lake to harness travel enthusiasm and overcome apprehension with relevant messaging and continued efforts in attracting and supporting convention planning, business travel, and overall visitation to the area.
TRENDS & INSIGHTS

Emerging cultural trends contribute to the way Americans travel and how they spend their hard-earned dollars. Destinations competing for traveler attention should stay relevant and take the appropriate measures to align with the changes seen in consumer behavior. Insights unveil a continued need for travel, alongside localism, business and leisure activity, planet protection, and diversity, equity, accessibility, and inclusion. Salt Lake’s innovative and inclusive culture, combined with its natural settings and urban vibrancy, make it the right destination to meet the emerging needs and desires of travelers.
REVENGE TRAVEL

Despite inflation and rising costs of fuel and air travel, many are eager to take the "greatest trip of all time" (GOAT) or "revenge travel," a term to describe a travel attitude of those who are choosing to make up for time and experiences lost to the pandemic.

- 61.7% say that leisure travel will be a high spending priority — the highest level it’s been since July 2021.
  — DESTINATION ANALYSTS, JUNE 2022

- Americans are now desperate for an “awaycation,” which essentially refers to getting away to just about anywhere, as long as it’s outside of their home.
  — TRAVEL PULSE, MAY 2022

- People who describe themselves as having dominant personalities, as well as those who describe themselves as active & energetic, plan to spend more on travel than they did previously (45.4% vs. 36.2% among all travelers).
  — DESTINATION ANALYSTS, JUNE 2022

Application Considerations: As travel enthusiasm persists, content and messaging should continue to generate excitement to override any consumer apprehension. Brand campaigns and activations should focus on developing travel itineraries, packages, or offerings for GOAT or unique experiences. Target active and energetic travelers.

LOCALISM

To curb cost concerns, travelers will also continue to travel locally and support businesses in their own destinations.

- As a result of rising gas prices, 39% of American travelers are choosing destinations closer to home.
  — LONGWOODS TRAVELER SENTIMENT REPORT, JUNE 2022

- Airbnb’s U.S. bookings from people staying within their own region were up 65 percent in the first quarter of 2022 over the first quarter in 2019.
  — NEW YORK TIMES, MAY 2022

81% have a growing interest in local culture and giving back to local communities.
  — AMERICAN EXPRESS 2022 GLOBAL TRAVEL TRENDS REPORT

Application Considerations: Develop strategy and messaging for localism and short-haul travel. Develop packages, offerings, and rewards for locals: loyalty programs for residents or repeat visitors, reduced pricing for residents, partnerships with local businesses, content creators, artists, continue Hospitality Gala, and programs for frontline workers.
How we live, work, socialize and travel have all merged into one another, impacting travel and the global industry.

The remote work experience plays a huge role in length of trip and lodging choice. Among the “laptop luggers,” three in four say their longest trip is going to be one to three weeks long, and respondents plan to extend their trips due to their ability to work remotely.

— SKIFT, MAY 2022

• Travelers with the intent to fit in some work while away planned twice as many trips this holiday season.
— DELOITTE 2021 HOLIDAY TRAVEL SURVEY

Application Considerations: Strategy, content, and messaging for remote work and blended travel, offerings, trip itineraries, and packages combining business and leisure activities and assets, partnerships with local businesses, ‘work from home’ reward programs and promotions for locals and visitors, highlighting Salt Lake City’s recognition as the world’s 11th best remote location and top US destination.

EVENTS AND CONFERENCES

Event series, niche groups, and micro-events have increased in popularity, partly due to the pandemic but also because these events allow for more attendee engagement and cost savings.

• Instead of investing in a single annual event, organizations will have to space it out. This could be in the form of hybrid or virtual. It means breaking it up into smaller and more manageable groups. Event ‘series’ and/or niche event themes will be more popular than ever.
— VFAIRS BLOG, MAY 2022

• The IASS turned their Americans Connect 2021 conference into an interconnected set of micro-events, and the results were surprising. By using unique small values across several locations, the association hosted micro-events of 30-50 people via a multi-hub, same-day model. And the lower attendance numbers actually led to positive feedback. With smaller groups participating, attendees were able to build deeper relationships with their colleagues.
— SKIFT

Application Considerations: Strategy and messaging for Salt Lake as the optimal destination and infrastructure for meetings, events, conferences, and sporting events, showcasing technology, affordability, accessibility, and desirable location and product for events of all sizes. Develop business trip itinerary options, promotions, packages, and offerings for meetings, events, and conferences as well as partnerships with local businesses and venues.
PLANET PROTECTION

Consumers, especially younger generation Millennials and Generation Z, are shifting from carbon neutral to planet protection.

- 96% of respondents say it’s important that their travel dollars are making a positive impact in the places they visit.
  — KIND TRAVELER IMPACT TOURISM REPORT, MARCH 2022

- 47% won’t support a company that doesn’t have a clear commitment to social and environmental causes.
  — KANTAR US MONITOR, MAY 2022

- Employees want more information about their business trip’s climate impact - almost nine in ten respondents - along with the opportunity to compare sustainability measures for accommodation and transport options.
  — BUSINESS INSIDER, MAY 2022

Application: Strategy, content, and messaging for sustainable, eco-friendly meetings and conference offerings, develop offsetting carbon emissions programs for business and leisure travel, promotion of responsible travel through campaigns, as well as pledges and activations, and shoulder-season travel promotion. Build transparency and trust with stakeholder access to platforms and build partnerships and relationships with residents, local businesses, tour operators, and environmentalists.

INCLUSIVITY

A need for diverse and inclusive efforts continues to be emphasized.

- 36.7% agreed with the statement “I’ve noticed that travel advertisements usually do not reflect people like myself.”
  — DESTINATION ANALYSTS, JUNE 2022

- 47% won’t support a company that doesn’t have a clear commitment to social and environmental causes.
  — KANTAR US MONITOR, MAY 2022

- Employees want more information about their business trip’s climate impact - almost nine in ten respondents - along with the opportunity to compare sustainability measures for accommodation and transport options.
  — BUSINESS INSIDER, MAY 2022

Application: Strategy, content, and messaging to be inclusive, apply ethical design for digital properties and initiatives, development and promotion of accessibility within the destination and its initiatives (meetings, events, conferences), continued advocacy and implementation of IDEA, develop transparency with stakeholders and residents with publicly accessible documentation and digital initiatives, develop relationships and partnerships with diversity experts, artists, and content creators.

CASE STUDY

- 2022 STATE OF MULTILINGUAL COLLABORATION

  — 2022 STATE OF MULTILINGUAL COLLABORATION

  — KIND TRAVELER IMPACT TOURISM REPORT, MARCH 2022

2022 HIGHLIGHTS TO DATE

2022 kicked off with a bang with Quarter 1 STR reports indicating that Salt Lake hotel occupancy and ADR exceeded 2019 levels and was the highest since the 2002 Olympics. VSL will continue to build upon this success with a bold new vision for sustainably accelerating visitor economy growth.

Closing The Funding Gap: CTAA

In partnership with Salt Lake County and destination hotels, VSL has advanced legislation to develop a Convention and Tourism Assessment Area that will provide beneficial activities and services to increase demand for overnight visitation across the county, resulting in increased occupancy and ADR.

Hotel Room Revenues

In the first six months of 2022, Visit Salt Lake booked 102 meetings, sports events and conventions; a 23% YOY increase. VSL has forecasted the 2022 hotel room night goal will be exceeded by 10-12%, resulting in booking nearly 870,000 hotel room nights.

Hotel Openings

The Hyatt Regency, Le Meridian and Element hotels will open their doors in October 2022. The nearly 1,000 rooms these hotels provide enables the VSL sales team to book larger and higher-spending conventions.
SALT Awards

VSL recognized the stars of our tourism industry at the inaugural SALT Awards held in June. These awards celebrated hospitality workers who exemplify Service, Accomplishment, Leadership, and Tenacity, with categories for both front and back of the house in lodging and dining.

Sports Salt Lake

Sports Salt Lake (a division of VSL) continues its meteoric rise. It now has an Executive Director, two region-specific Sales Managers and a Director of Services, Promotions & Athlete Experiences. The Sports Salt Lake team’s collective efforts are on pace to result in nearly 25%+ of all VSL room night bookings.

5-Year Strategic Vision

Following extensive research, analysis, and stakeholder engagement, VSL and BVK produced a 5-Year Strategic Vision that comprises a powerful, five-year strategic roadmap for the destination, its partners, and the industry. The initiatives and tactics outlined in the vision provide VSL with clear action steps for future economic and social vitality for its tourism industry and partners alike.
ECONOMIC IMPACT

FOR EVERY $1 SPENT IN VSL’S ANNUAL BUDGET, $18 IS RETURNED IN LOCAL TAX REVENUE

Tourism is the front door to economic development.

Salt Lake County is significantly impacted by its visitor economy. Travel and tourism represent Utah’s eighth-largest industry and support hundreds of thousands of jobs. Salt Lake County’s share of the visitor economy is almost half of the state’s total. The continued efforts to maintain and increase the tourism economy are imperative for Salt Lake and the state. Primary numbers reflected are from 2019 (the most comparable year to base future performance).

WE’RE PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE
THE OPPORTUNITY TO LEVERAGE CTAA LEGISLATION

When comparing our annual budget to destination marketing organizations with whom we are competing for meeting, conventions, sports, and leisure visitors, Visit Salt Lake is one of the least funded organizations. Visit Salt Lake is currently the 2nd least funded among the destinations we compete with for overnight visitors.

Visit Salt Lake has a major opportunity to leverage CTAA legislation to drive increased economic impact to the visitor economy and continue to compete with destinations like Anaheim, Seattle, Portland, and Denver. The primary goals of leveraging this funding would be to increase demand for overnight visitation, room night sales, and average daily rate and revenue per available room at assessed businesses through a variety of sales and marketing efforts.

CTAAs are an effective and proven solution for destination marketing and sales funding. Over 190 CTAAs have been established in 19 states, collectively generating over $450M for destination sales and promotion. Louisiana, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Utah, and Virginia have passed enabling legislation since 2021.

CTAA’s Proposed Parameters

Countywide Development & Programming: Funding would go toward countywide programming with the central theme of promoting Salt Lake County as a desirable place for overnight visits. Activities include, but are not limited to:
- Domestic and international marketing campaigns; tourism experience development and promotion to widen visitor distribution; increase sales team resources to attract larger spend group business.
- Environment, sustainability, & community health programs.

Community & Sales Development – Regional Incentives: Would support region-based activities to elevate the guest experience through placemaking activities and investments, clean and safe activities, and tourism infrastructure and facility enhancement. These funds may provide greater interaction between people and foster healthier, more social, and economically viable communities – the kind of place where people feel a strong stake in their community and commitment to making things better.

Major Event Impact Funding: This fund would focus on one-off or ongoing major events for Salt Lake County. Major events have the capacity to attract large scale visitation from core markets, are of national or international significance, deliver national and/or international profile to Salt Lake County and can be leveraged for professional and elite sports, not amateur or junior events. Event support can also be considered for events that rebuild tourism in regions of Salt Lake County impacted by natural disaster or designated by a state of emergency.
Assessment Rate:
2% of gross short-term guest room rental revenue

Governance:
It is proposed that the SLCo CTAA shall be managed by a non-profit organization, primarily engaged in the marketing and promotion of Salt Lake County, which enters into an agreement with Salt Lake County to provide the beneficial activities in accordance with a Management Plan. The Committee is proposed to have nine (9) members, which would be representatives of assessed hotel businesses. Five (5) members shall be of Salt Lake City Region businesses, one (1) representative shall be of a West Region business, one (1) representative shall be of a South Valley business, one (1) representative shall be of a MidValley Region business, and one (1) representative shall be of a Mountain Region business.

Boundaries:
CTAA AND TRT FUNDING

80% of the proposed CTAA budget is recommended to be applied towards Countywide Development and region-specific Community Development & Sales Incentives. If this additional funding is secured, VSL will have the opportunity to make a dramatic impact on the countywide visitor economy in several key areas outlined in the tables below.
