DISCOVER SARATOGA'S 25TH ANNUAL CHOWDERFEST CELEBRATION

What began in 1999 as a few restaurants serving chowder from crockpots quickly became one of the largest events in Upstate New York! Family-friendly, fun, and utterly delicious, Discover Saratoga's Annual Chowderfest is one of the area's most highly anticipated events of the year. It's that extraordinary time when Saratoga County's best bars and restaurants cast open their doors and serve up delicious samples of chowder to a zealous throng of event goers.

Chowderfest has changed and evolved tremendously over the years. From small gatherings on Caroline Street to citywide street closures complete with flash mobs, Chowderfest quickly became a large event attracting thousands of attendees each year, until the unthinkable happened. A global pandemic shut down the world. Discover Saratoga had to creatively rethink their biggest event and significant revenue generator for the city, which resulted in the inception of Chowder Tour; this eight-day tour offered patrons the opportunity to enjoy cups and bowls of chowder for dine-in or pints and quarts to-go.

In 2023, Chowderfest had a stellar year for attendance and restaurant participation resulting in a total of 112,000 cups of chowder served to an estimated 40,000 people from all over the country—with 82 vendors offering $2 cups of steamy chowder to an appreciative crowd on a chilly Saturday in February.

Now in its 25th year, Saratoga Chowderfest has become a community tradition, and Discover Saratoga is committed to commemorating this milestone in grand style. You can look forward to savoring 4 oz. servings of the finest chowders from a variety of Saratoga County's top bars and restaurants, all for just $2. While you're here, enjoy some live music downtown, check out fun kids' activities, and shop for collectible t-shirts and hats. There will also be some great surprises in store. Mark your calendars now – this is going to be an event you won't want to miss! February 10, 2024!

WHY SARATOGA IS AMERICA'S TURNING POINT

By Lauren Roberts, Saratoga County Historian & Chair Saratoga 250th Commission

When it comes to tracing the footsteps of history, few places rival Saratoga County, NY. With excitement building in the leadup to our nation's 250th birthday, a journey through this area's revolutionary past will inspire you to discover why the Battles of Saratoga are known as the Turning Point of the American Revolution. I invite you to spend a day (or a weekend) exploring these unique historic sites which shine a light on the significant role Saratoga played in the fight for independence.

Nestled within Saratoga County lies the Saratoga National Historical Park, known by locals as Saratoga Battlefield. Begin your journey by checking out the Visitor Center, which offers exhibits and an orientation film to acquaint you with the story of the Northern Campaign of 1777. Take in the beautiful views before heading down the tour road to explore the sites where history was made. Take advantage of the audio tour to guide you along the way but be sure not to miss these highlights:

- The Nielson House is the only witness structure left standing at the Saratoga National Historical Park. The interior displays provide a glimpse into how the home was transformed from a typical farmhouse to the headquarters of General Benedict Arnold during the battles.

- Bemus Heights offers one of the most picturesque vistas of the park. Standing here on the bluff overlooking the Hudson River makes it easy to understand why the Americans chose this strategic spot to make their stand against Burgoyne's Army.

- Freeman's Farm is closely tied to both the first and second Battles of Saratoga – yes, there were two! Walk the grounds where American forces engaged the British and German troops.

- The Boot Monument is a striking reminder of Benedict Arnold's complex legacy. Though his name never appears, this monument depicts Arnold's left boot, (where he was shot while advancing his troops during the second battle) and is dedicated to the man once hailed as "the hero of Saratoga," until his betrayal made his name synonymous with treason. At the conclusion of the battlefield tour, drive north along the same route the British Army found themselves taking during the chaos of retreat. Not to be missed is the newest acquisition, the Surrender Site, where British General Burgoyne found himself surrendering his sword (and his army) to American General Gates on October 17, 1777, marking the first time in history a British Army had ever surrendered. This pivotal moment is depicted on-site in a stunning bronze bas-relief of John Trumbull's 1821 painting, "Surrender of General Burgoyne," the original of which hangs in the Rotunda at the US Capitol.

A bit further north lies the General Philip Schuyler House, constructed in late 1777 after the retreating British forces burned the previous structure. General Philip Schuyler was a key figure in America's fight for independence and his northern estate played a significant role in the development of the area now known as Schuylerville. The house provides insights into the life of the Schuyler family, who played host to the likes of Alexander Hamilton and George Washington at this location.

Standing 155-feet tall in the neighboring Village of Victory is the impressive Saratoga Monument. This beautiful obelisk was erected by a dedicated group of local citizens to mark the centennial anniversary in 1877. The exterior features bronze statues that commemorate some of the key figures from the battles... even an empty niche for the one hero of Saratoga who shall not be named! On weekends during the season, venture to the top of the monument for breathtaking views of the surrounding Hudson River valley landscape.

Saratoga National Historical Park offers an engaging experience for visitors interested in learning more about what led to the world-changing victory at Saratoga in 1777 and the far-reaching consequences in the aftermath. As you explore this area, you'll gain a deeper appreciation for the complex trials and triumphs of those who shaped the founding of our nation. By delving into Saratoga County's revolutionary sites, you're not only discovering our past, but also ensuring history endures.

AMERICA'S MOST HISTORIC RACETRACK

By Brien Bouyea, Communications Director,
National Museum of Racing and Hall of Fame

Saratoga Springs has been intertwined with the rich traditions of thoroughbred racing since 1864. Now the country's oldest active sporting venue, Saratoga Race Course began with an idea from a bare-knuckle boxing champion and has been a summer tradition for 160 years.

John "Old Smoke" Morrissey conceptualized the first official thoroughbred race meeting at Saratoga. An Irish immigrant, Morrissey graduated from street brawling to reign as the American bare-knuckle champion for five years. Morrissey arrived in Saratoga during the Civil War when thoroughbred racing was mostly at a standstill. He thought he could prosper by presiding over a race meeting at Saratoga.

Morrissey discovered that finding enough quality thoroughbreds to compete was problematic because the Union had requisitioned just about every horse it could find for the cavalry. But he was a daring and fiercely determined individual with a history of proving people wrong, and he proceeded undeterred.

The curtain rose on formal thoroughbred racing in Saratoga Springs on Aug. 3, 1863, as a crowd estimated at 3,000 was in attendance. Admission was $1 and the spectators watched the races from carriages. With excellent purses and quality competition, the meeting was a rousing success. More than 15,000 people attended the four days of racing.

Morrissey had a winner. The Spirit of the Times said Old Smoke's meeting "laid the foundation for a great fashionable race meeting at the Springs."

As the Spirit predicted, Morrissey was just getting started. With the backing of several prominent sportsmen, he opened the official Saratoga Race Course on Aug. 2, 1864. The first race was the Travers Stakes, won by a colt named Kentucky. A week later, The New York Times said, "The grandstand was a superb array of beauty and fashion, the like of which has never previously been seen in America, and has only been paralleled by Ascot or Goodwood, in England, on a Royal Cup day."

Morrissey had received the assistance of several prominent sportsmen and financial tycoons in making the new Saratoga Race Course a reality. They included Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, Leonard Jerome, John Hunter, and William Travers, the namesake of the prestigious Travers Stakes and Saratoga's first president.

Morrissey's presence was anything but inconspicuous. The team he assembled was described in the New York Herald as "a guarantee of the thoroughly high-toned character of all the proceedings."

Morrissey was twice elected as a United States Congressman and later became a New York Senator, but his passion for Saratoga and his role at the track never diminished. He was 47 when he died at the Adelphi Hotel on May 1, 1878.

Saratoga Race Course has continued to thrive as one of the great American sporting cathedrals. Sports Illustrated ranked it as one of the top 10 sports venues in the world. Numerous legends of American racing — Man o' War, Whirlaway, Native Dancer, Secretariat, and Affirmed among them — made their mark at Saratoga.

More than one million attend the Saratoga races each summer. In 2024, the track will host the Belmont Stakes, perhaps with a Triple Crown on the line, as Belmont Park undergoes a major renovation. History, as it always has been, will once again be made at Saratoga.
