Background and Methodology

An Internet survey was conducted among consumers who requested information from the Shreveport-Bossier Convention and Tourist Bureau. The survey instrument was specifically designed to measure:

- Receipt of requested materials
- Evaluation of materials received
- Conversion to the Shreveport Bossier City area
- Visitation expenditures
- Website usage and usefulness
- Brand awareness
- Demographics

A total of 302 interviews were conducted, allowing for a +/- 5.75% margin of error at the 95% confidence level.

The respondents were randomly selected from a list of inquiry records secured through the Shreveport-Bossier Convention and Tourist Bureau. Respondents were further screened to ensure that they had indeed requested an information packet.

Destination Exploration developed the survey instrument, implemented the research, tabulated and analyzed the data. The study was administered in September and October 2012. The analysis was completed immediately thereafter.

Brand Awareness

Respondents who had visited the areas since receiving their information were asked a series of questions regarding the strap-line for the Shreveport-Bossier Convention and Visitors Bureau “Louisiana’s Other Side.” These questions pertained to strap-line awareness, meaning and delivery.

Respondents who were aware of the tagline “Louisiana’s Other Side” agree for the most part that the tag line refers to geographic location Shreveport-Bossier City, not being in southern Louisiana near New Orleans. Also, the tag line implies that the Shreveport-Bossier City area has different offerings and overall culture than southern Louisiana.

All of the respondents who visited the area stated Shreveport-Bossier City definitely delivered an experience consistent with the on brand promise of being “Louisiana’s Other Side.” The experience consistent with the brand promise is based on the different cultural offerings associated with the area as well as being so close to Texas and Arkansas. Southern Louisiana is considered mainly Cajun and French whereas the Shreveport-Bossier City area is considered to have the Cajun cultural influences as well as a Texas influence which creates “Louisiana’s Other Side.”
