PLAN YOUR SUMMER GETAWAY ON SOUTH PADRE ISLAND

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas, July 9, 2024 – Good news for sun seekers! Hurricane Beryl pivoted past the beaches of South Padre Island and surrounding cities, leaving clear skies and beautiful weather in its wake. The beaches, campgrounds, attractions, and accommodations are open, and travelers are encouraged to continue their plans for summer vacations.

“We are pleased to inform visitors that South Padre Island is open and ready for business as usual,” stated Blake Henry, Visit South Padre Island Executive Director. “The island remains a top destination for summer fun and relaxation, with all facilities fully operational, and for that, we are grateful.”

Per the National Weather Service, the forecast for the week is partly sunny, with highs in the upper 80s at the coast. Visitors can look forward to enjoying a range of activities such as swimming, sunbathing, fishing, and exploring the island's natural beauty under clear skies.

Local businesses, including restaurants and shops, are also ready to welcome guests, providing a vibrant and welcoming atmosphere for all. Special events and activities are planned throughout the week, offering something for everyone to enjoy. For a complete lineup, click here to view the event calendar.

For more information on accommodations and activities, please visit the official South Padre Island website or contact the Visitor's Center.
