London's Boler Mountain has nearly 20 km of looped trails, including options for beginners, intermediate and more advanced riders. Known as some of the best cross country terrain in Ontario, these trails are well maintained and located under 20 minutes from downtown London. The trail network offers a mix of both steep climbs and declines with several drop-offs and just the right amount of technical riding. With all the amenities of London minutes away, Boler offers a true urban adventure and experience that can't be beat.
