The Stoller family.

Welcome to Steamboat Springs

We're honored you've chosen to visit the magnificent Yampa Valley, as there's always something new to discover. In summer, Steamboat Springs comes alive with a vibrant downtown, an exciting calendar of events, abundant aspen trees, warm days and cool mountain evenings.

Outdoor enthusiasts have so many choices, from hiking local trails to exploring the Routt National Forest and the Mount Zirkel Wilderness. We're also known as Bike Town USA for a reason. With road cycling on country roads and the riverfront Core Trail, or the wide variety of mountain biking on over 200 miles of trails, there are cycling opportunities for all riders.

Area golf courses offer a variety of experiences. Horseback riding adventures through our valley await. And our Western heritage is celebrated with the Steamboat Springs Pro Rodeo Series.

Visitors have been drawn to the Yampa Valley for generations by the abundance of water in our area. Come see why we are famous for our rivers, lakes, falls and more. Soak in the hot springs, have fun at the lake fishing and swimming, and wind your way down the Yampa River rafting, tubing or paddleboarding.

We ask that you help protect our natural assets by visiting responsibly.

Come enjoy a vibrant art scene, gallery walks and musical performances. Festivals and concerts provide entertainment for all ages. We invite you to taste all that Steamboat has to offer, including restaurants with locally sourced ingredients, local breweries and distilleries and unique shops. Our welcoming Western hospitality and laid-back atmosphere will help you relax and feel right at home.

We ask that you help protect our natural assets by visiting responsibly. Know before you go, leave no trace, give wildlife some space, be kind, give back and have an unforgettable visit.

The Steamboat Chamber warmly thanks you for treasuring our valley as much as we do. There is a local saying in Steamboat: "Come for the winters, stay for the summers."

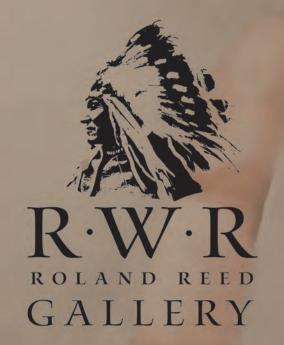

Come see for yourself!

Where Western Legacy Abounds

A guided ATV tour at Lucky 8 Ranch.

If you're dreaming of escaping to wide-open spaces, getting inspired by nature and soaking in Western hospitality, Steamboat Springs can provide the ideal getaway. The Yampa Valley's secluded yet accessible location provides an escape from reality, maintaining a relaxed, welcoming atmosphere. With numerous working ranches, you'll experience a Western community committed to the land and all it provides.

Step off the grid and into vast meadows, tranquil aspen groves and panoramic views for an exciting ATV off-roading experience at Lucky 8 Ranch. Along the ranch's miles of picturesque trails, you'll view American bison, explore Trout Creek and find contentment in all that the Rocky Mountains have to offer. Experience an old-fashioned adventure with Colorado's High Lonesome Outfitters on horseback in Routt National Forest. Taking in the spectacular views, high-mountain lakes and breathtaking wildflowers will provide a soothing perspective.

Steamboat's Pro Rodeo Series has a special place in Routt County's history, and spectators continue to enjoy this summer tradition and celebrate the Western lifestyle. Entertainment abounds as spectators watch cowboys and cowgirls in events, performances and competitions. Contests, music and food combine for an unforgettable evening.

You can also stop by the charming Tread of Pioneers Museum downtown for an expansive collection of historical treasures, immersive events and curated exhibits showcasing Steamboat's Western heritage.

Whether you're looking for luxurious indulgence, a laid-back, relaxing vacation or a one-of-kind Rocky Mountain experience, Steamboat's guest ranches are eager to oblige. The Vista Verde Ranch combines Old West roots, inspiring culinary creations, personalized amenities and secluded activities. Far from civilization and amid wide-open spaces, find adventure at Del's Triangle 3 Ranch on a horseback ride.

Take in our valley from horseback, unwind at a guest ranch and connect to the heritage of Northwest Colorado. During your visit, you'll absorb Steamboat's classic cowboy culture and traditions. Grab your boots, tip your hat and discover why your whole family will want to keep coming back for more.

A Whirlwind Tour of South Routt County

Fourth of July parade in Yampa.

The authentic Western experience would be incomplete without venturing out of Steamboat Springs on Colorado 131 and into South Routt County, or "South Routt" as Yampa Valley locals call it. This area is known for its rich ranching and mining history and friendly, laid-back lifestyle.

Just a 20-minute drive south from Steamboat is Oak Creek, which started out as a mining town and was once the largest city in Routt County. Oak Creek is a perfect base of operations while you take a tour at Lucky 8 Ranch or boat at the nearby Stagecoach Marina. Mark your calendar for Labor Day, because Oak Creek pulls out all the stops with a parade, contests in the park, live music and – always a crowd-pleaser – bingo at the Oak Creek Fire Station. Explore local shops on main street and chow down at a wide variety of local eateries – Lupita's Cantina or the Oak Creek Tavern are sure to please.

Haven't gotten your fill of small-town charm? Head further south to Yampa, a town packed with ranching history and hospitality. Grab a burger at Penny's Diner or a sweet treat at the Bearpaw Bakery. Don't forget to stop by the Antlers Cafe & Bar and Montgomery's General Merchandise, both of which are historically rich locations that are still in use today. Yampa also serves as the gateway to the Flat Tops via the Flat Tops Scenic Byway, a road lined with breathtaking views and countless hiking and camping options. A popular hiking option is the Devil's Causeway, which offers 360-degree views from atop the Flat Tops and an adrenaline-rush-inducing causeway crossing near the midpoint of the 10.5-mile roundtrip hike.

After exploring South Routt, drive back to Steamboat Springs, past miles of rolling ranch land, knowing that you've experienced a piece of the authentic West.

Steamboat Springs' Summer Playground

When it comes to fun-filled summer activities, the options are endless in the Yampa Valley. From hiking and biking to miniature golf and tubing the Yampa River, Steamboat Springs is the ideal setting for your mountain adventure.

Start your morning with a scenic walk, jog or bike along the Yampa River Core Trail, a 7.5-mile paved trail running through the heart of Steamboat Springs. Take a quick detour along the way at one of Steamboat Springs' many parks – Fetcher Park, Emerald Park and Little Toots Park are popular options – for a pick up game of ultimate Frisbee or soccer.

Perfect your swing with a morning round of golf at one of Steamboat's courses: Catamount Ranch & Club, Haymaker Golf Course and Rollingstone Ranch Golf club. Each features a beautiful landscape and picturesque mountain backdrops.

Gather the kiddos for a day of miniature golf, laser tag and other kid-friendly activities at Amaze'n Steamboat, or roll strikes and gutter balls at Snow Bowl on the west end of town. Offering 12 bowling lanes, arcade games, a patio, and creative food and drinks, Snow Bowl offers something for the entire family.

Load up the kayaks and paddleboards and beat the heat in the waters surrounding Steamboat. While tubing the Yampa River is a popular option in the summertime, you can also escape to one of the nearby lakes with breathtaking views for boating and swimming. Pack a picnic and take the family to Stagecoach Reservoir or Steamboat Lake and enjoy the scenery on a sunny summer day.

Whether you're visiting town with family and kids, a group of friends, or as a solo traveler, Steamboat Springs is the ultimate summer playground.

Find Your Ideal Biking Trail

Australian shepherd Parker Rose leads Britni Johnson and Trevyn Newpher down a mountain bike trail.

Steamboat Springs, aka Bike Town USA, may be known for its Olympic athletes, fluffy powder and Western heritage, but don't sleep on its biking community, offering trails for every ability level. Whether it's mountain biking, trail biking, road biking or anything in between, Steamboat has rides for everyone.

Trail Biking

There are plenty of easy to moderate trails around town for the less extreme. Spring Creek is a popular trail with direct access right from downtown. Pedal along the flowing creek, past rock formations and through aspen groves. Another laid-back family favorite, the Yampa River Core Trail, is a 7.5-mile paved multi-use trail that winds through downtown. Cruise along the Yampa River and enjoy the surroundings on this easy ride through town.

Mountain Biking

Emerald Mountain, Steamboat's main hub for mountain biking, offers a range of trails with easy access from town. Ride the singletracks through wildflower meadows and aspen groves all while soaking in panoramic views of downtown. For those seeking something more adventurous, both Buffalo Pass and Rabbit Ears Pass offer extensive networks of trails throughout Routt National Forest.

Road Biking

Share the land with the ranchers and pedal through a huge network of county roads. Steamboat Springs has over 600 miles of hard-packed gravel roads and a virtually unlimited number of loops for road bikers. Take a scenic ride along County Road 14 or head west on Elk River Road – the options are endless when it comes to road biking in Routt County.

Steamboat Resort Updates

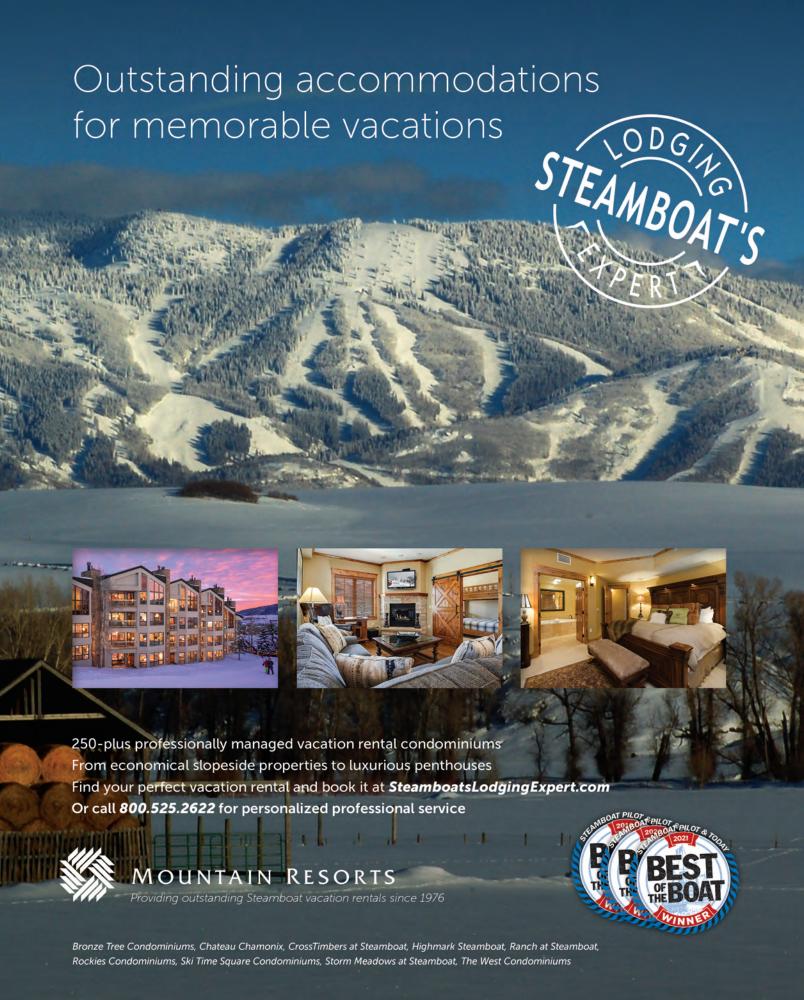

"Tull Steam Ahead," the multi-year improvement project at T Steamboat Resort, continues with Phase II construction this summer, transforming the base area into a plaza with stores, restaurants, bars, lodging and an ice rink. On-mountain improvements include more lifts and terrain, making Steamboat the second largest resort in Colorado.

The base area will undergo major transformations this summer, relocating Christie Peak Express Chairlift's base terminal, constructing the lower leg of the Wild Blue Gondola and adding restaurants and shops. Due to this construction, some activities, like the mountain coaster, miniature golf and the bike park, will be unavailable. The Happy Camp, scenic gondola rides and select restaurants will remain open, and the free outdoor movie series on Torian Plum Lawn is expected to take place.

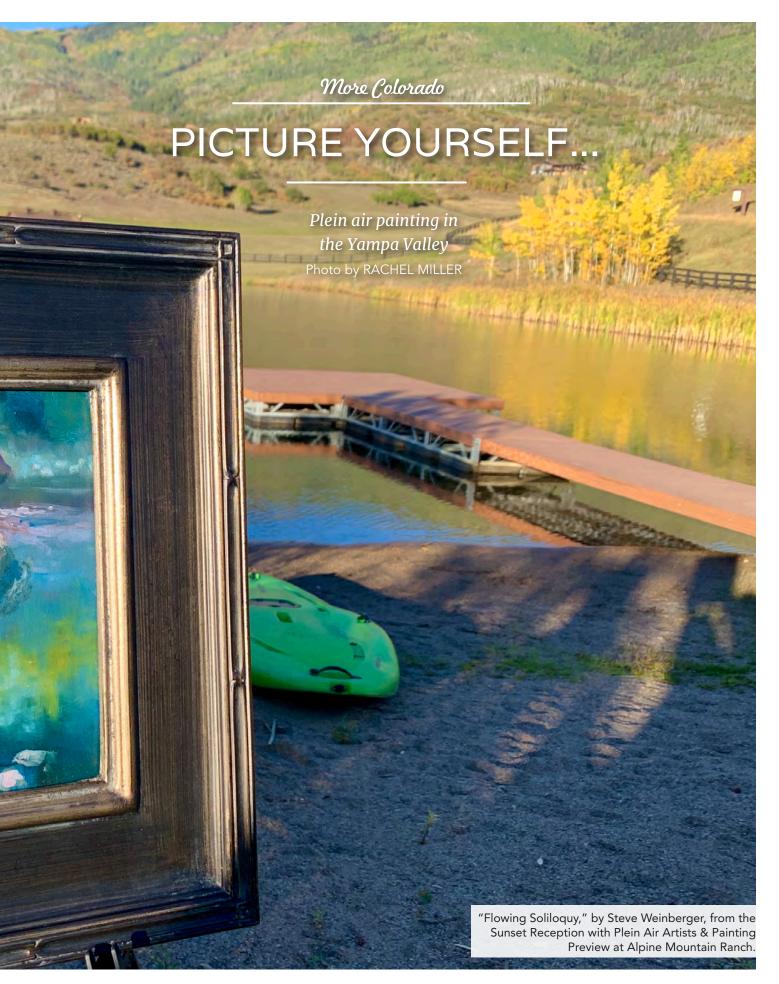

Stay up-to-date on Steamboat Resort construction and the most current list of base area activities and businesses at www.SteamboatMagazine.com.

Art Thrives Amidst Nature

The Yampa Valley is brimming with artistic talent, as artists come from far and wide to gain inspiration from this mountain landscape. An ever-expanding array of art galleries, venues and performances define Steamboat's arts community and promise to make your visit inspiring.

Steamboat Creates, housed in the historic Depot Art Center, is celebrating its 50th year of helping the arts flourish. This organization hosts local art exhibits, live theater, music, films, events, workshops and youth camps. The Riverwalk Collective, also housed at the Depot Art Center, provides a one-of-a-kind platform for local artists to showcase their artwork.

Head to downtown Lincoln Avenue during First Friday Artwalk, a monthly event that provides the opportunity to tour local galleries and meet the artists on display. Tread of Pioneers Museum showcases historical photography, generations of history, and events that pay tribute to Steamboat's Western heritage. The Steamboat Art Museum is an excellent choice to view world-renowned artists' works along downtown Lincoln Avenue.

Strings Music Festival hosts intimate live music performances and educational programs year-round. Music on the Green showcases nature-inspired free outdoor concerts at Yampa River Botanic Park the whole family will adore. Perry Mansfield Performing Arts School & Camp presents intimate workshops, showcases, and events at a campus in Strawberry Park that is rich with history. The Steamboat Springs Free Summer Concert Series at Howelsen Hill hosts nationally recognized artists at the oldest ski area west of the Mississippi.

If you're looking for live theater performances, visit Piknik Theatre's professional-quality outdoor shows at Yampa River Botanic Park. Take in Steamboat's colorful murals painted by international artists along the Yampa Valley Core Trail and around town. Bud Werner Memorial Library hosts presentations from authors and filmmakers for everyone to enjoy. Steamboat's Farmer's Market is yet another great destination to view and buy local artists' works.

Talented artists and a thriving cultural landscape ensure that you'll find creative inspiration during your Steamboat vacation. Supporting a small-town arts scene has never been more enjoyable. You are sure to find inspiring artistic media, creations and a thriving artistic culture unlike anywhere else on earth.

DINNER DAILY 4-9PM

Oil Painters of America at Steamboat Art Museum

An artist captures Mount Werner during the Colorado Rocky Mountain High wet paint competition, which returns to Steamboat this summer.

Dazzling new artwork from North America's most accomplished oil painters is on display throughout summer 2022 at the Steamboat Art Museum, 801 Lincoln Ave.

The Oil Painters of America returns to town for its national juried exhibition Friday, June 3-Saturday, Aug. 27. The week prior to the exhibit, OPA hosts its annual convention at the Steamboat Grand. This is an encore appearance by OPA, which first held its national exhibition in Steamboat in 2018. Prior to that, it held its western regional exhibit here at Wild Horse Gallery in 2015.

"What we love about Steamboat is the enthusiasm for the arts from the local community," says Kathryn Beligratis, OPA executive director. "When we wrapped up the convention the last time we were in Steamboat, it was on a very high note."

Approximately 1,200 premier North American artists submitted works for consideration in this prestigious event; only 200 works were chosen for the exhibit, making the competition intense.

OPA Master Signature artist and two-time OPA National Gold Medal winner Johanna Harmon juried the exhibit, which offers approximately $100,000 in cash and merchandise awards, including the prestigious Gold Medal $25,000 cash prize.

While they are here for the convention, artists participate in the Colorado Rocky Mountain High wet paint competition, during which time the Steamboat landscape is dotted with easels. The resulting artwork is on display at the Art Depot, 1001 13th St., Friday and Saturday, June 3-4. All wet paint works will be for sale for those two days.

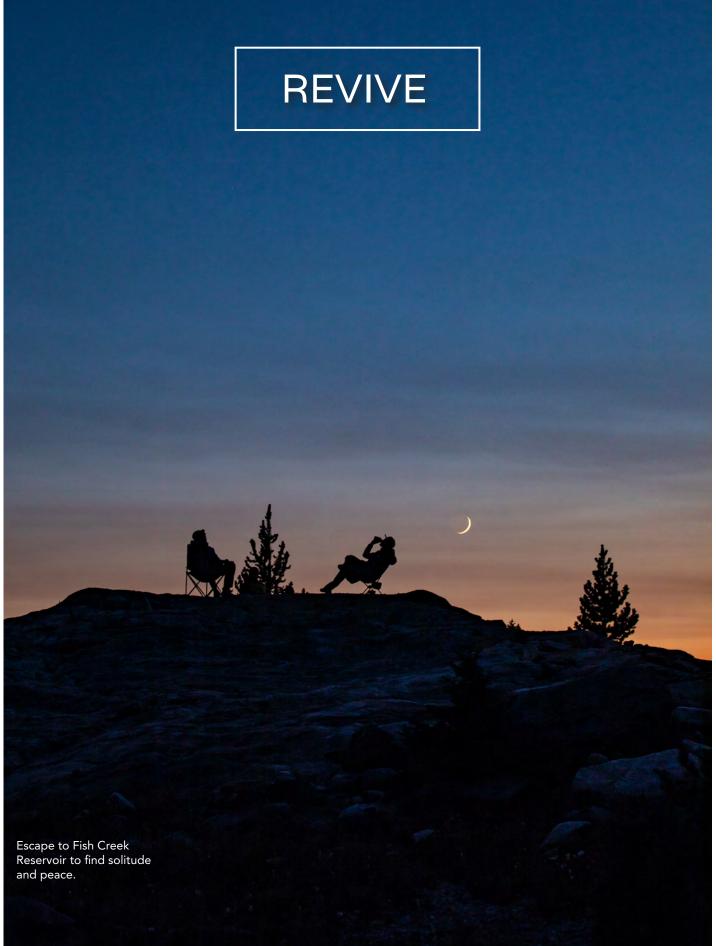

Convention events are open to all artists, art students, collectors and art lovers; OPA membership is not required to attend.

For more information about the OPA events, visit www.SteamboatArtMuseum.org

Relax Your Mind, Body and Soul

ho says you can't have an adventurous, exciting vacation while still heading home feeling recharged? With these relaxing options in Steamboat Springs, you'll be able to leave your worries behind you in the mountains.

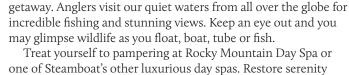

Escape life's stresses, clear your mind and find true refreshment amid Steamboat Springs' rejuvenating activities.

The Yampa Valley's great outdoors, recreation activities and wellnessbased facilities ensure that you'll leave your Colorado vacation experience genuinely refreshed.

Melt your worries away in one of Steamboat's famous natural hot springs. Strawberry Park Hot Springs, hidden away in the mountains north of Steamboat, is a magical experience not to be missed. Indulge in a riverside watsu massage among the aspens and rest up for the next big adventure. The family-friendly, historic Old Town Hot Springs, located downtown, offer peaceful mineral pools to soak in year-round. The facility also provides yoga and wellness classes, therapeutic massages and a fitness center.

The Yampa Valley's many bodies of water will help you discover your taste of calm. Head out on the Yampa River, tranquil Pearl Lake or breathtaking Steamboat Lake for a peaceful with a spa package, hot stone, Ashiatsu, CBD massage, oxygen facial or energetic therapy session. Whether you're an outdoor athlete, jetlagged traveler or just someone looking for a boost, stop by Replenish IV Therapies for a wellness treatment infusion. Focus on selfcare at Ratka Hot Yoga or the Yoga Center of Steamboat, both of which improve your well-being and leave you with a joyful heart.

Kick back with a great book, a local cup of coffee, and a relaxing setting at Bud Werner Memorial Library. The library has cozy nooks to cuddle up in, abundant space, and a host of ongoing creative events that ensure you the escape you need.

Steamboat has always been a mecca for those who seek solitude in the mountains, and you'll find precisely the peace of mind you crave on your next mountain getaway.

Santito joins a paddleboarding adventure on Crosho Lake.

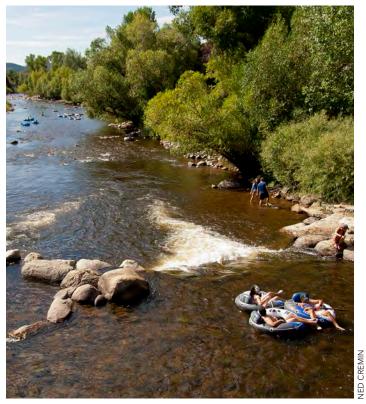

Morning mist blankets the Yampa Valley, as seen from Rabbit Ears Pass.

Just Add Water

Visitors and locals alike enjoy cooling off in the Yampa River, but be mindful of closures if the river is running low.

N eed to take a break and cool off? Float, boat, soak and fish your cares away.

The Yampa River is a popular downtown spot on a hot summer day. Many choose to float down the river by tube, but you'll also see plenty of paddleboarders and kayakers. Sit back, relax and let the river do the work.

Casting a line is a great way to instill peace, and fishing options abound in the Yampa Valley. Pick your spot on the public waters along the downtown stretch of the Yampa River, and fish for rainbow and brown trout. Outfitters Steamboat Flyfisher and Straightline Sports, both in downtown Steamboat, offer guided trips, gear and advice from pro anglers. Stagecoach Reservoir, Pearl Lake and Steamboat Lake all offer fishing options further from town, but still conveniently accessible.

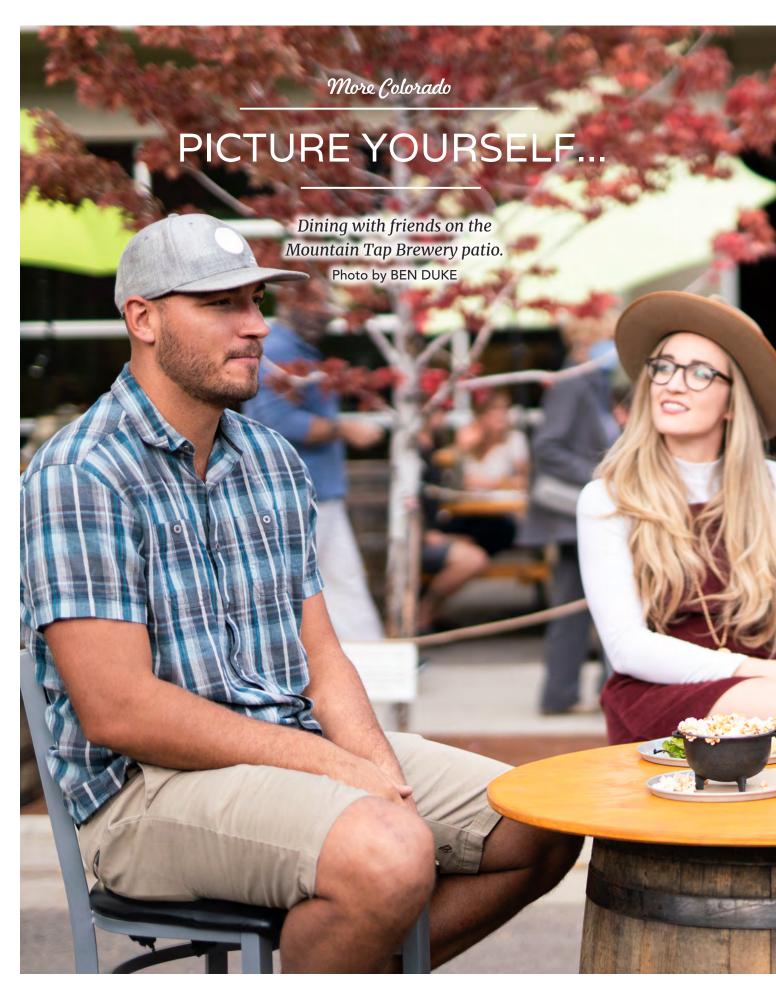

Those three lakes offer much more than just fishing; camp and hike along the shore, or set out on the water. Stagecoach Reservoir and Steamboat Lake both have marinas offering a variety of watercraft, while Pearl Lake is a more peaceful and wake-free option – suitable for paddleboarding. For all your lake outfitting needs, visit Lake & Company in downtown Steamboat Springs, a location that offers gear and goods dedicated to the lake culture.

Best for last: for prime relaxation, have a soak in the hot springs. Take your pick between the Old Town Hot Springs, conveniently located in downtown Steamboat Springs, or the Strawberry Park Hot Springs, a rustic retreat found in the mountain wilderness north of town.

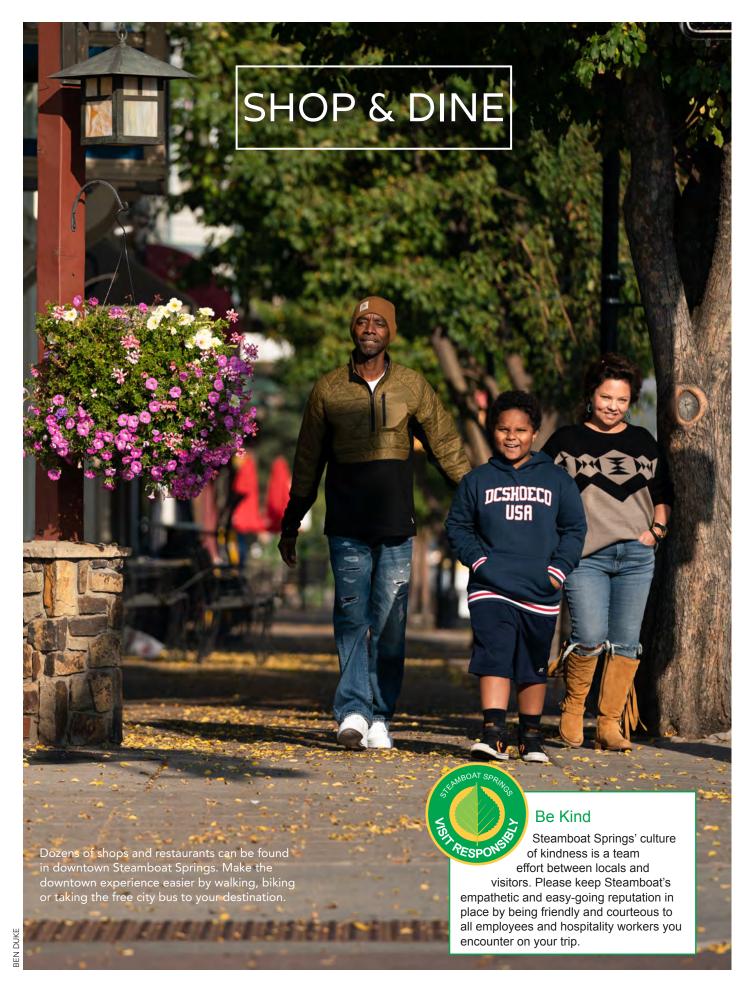

Whatever you choose, the instructions to melt away stress this summer are simple: just add water.

Shop and Dine 'til You're Feelin' Fine

Steamboat Springs' shopping and dining scenes provide a one-two punch that's sure to leave you with a full belly and an armful of shopping bags.

First, spend a day browsing Steamboat's many shops. Pick up everything from Western wear and outdoor gear to fine art and souvenirs. Downtown Lincoln Avenue is perfect for strolling and perusing shops, and many more lesser-known shopping options abound on the further reaches northwest and southeast of town. Bookworms, crafters, art connoisseurs and outdoor gearhounds are bound to find whatever they seek.

Looking for the best deals? Plan your trip around the Downtown Sidewalk Sales, which take place during Memorial Day and Labor Day weekends, and pick up thoughtful gifts or a keepsake when businesses are looking to clear out their inventories.

After working up a healthy appetite, it's time to drink and dine to your heart's content. Choose from dozens of dining establishments downtown, including breweries, distilleries, pizzerias, ice cream shops, cafes, steakhouses and sushi bars.

Stroll just a block down from Lincoln Avenue and onto Yampa Street to find more dining establishments and breweries with views of Emerald Mountain (home to Howelsen Hill, the oldest continuously operating ski area West of the Mississippi), and the Yampa River. Or, head to the other side of Lincoln Avenue to find another excellent selection of eateries on Oak Street.

Foodies, mark your calendar for Restaurant Week, Oct. 7-15, a celebration of the local dining scene and an opportunity to try out limited-run menus and specials at dining spots around town.

Learn more at www.MainStreetSteamboat.com/restaurant-week/.

For a detailed itinerary with two days' worth of dining ideas, visit www.SteamboatChamber.com/plan-your-trip/itineraries-roadtrips/48-hours-foodie-guide/.

During your visit to town, make sure to carve out time to see all that Steamboat's shopping and dining scenes have to offer.

Stay Healthy

We all know the drill by now: for the sake of public health, follow all current CDC guidelines, wear a mask in enclosed spaces if you are unvaccinated, wash and disinfect hands frequently and stay home if you're sick.

Sunset Kicks Things Off

The base of Howelsen Hill hosts the Steamboat Springs Free Summer Concert Series. All ages can hear nationally recognized artists playing pop-rock, reggae, bluegrass, blues and funk. Pictured: Booker T performs at Howelsen's natural amphitheater.

As you unwind from the day's activities and the sun begins to set, Steamboat Springs' world of culinary delights and live entertainment comes to life.

Head downtown for a family outing or date night right in the heart of Steamboat Springs' restaurant scene. Walk along Lincoln Avenue or Yampa Street for a peaceful ambience under the twinkling lights and easy access to many restaurants.

If live music is what you seek, this small mountain town provides plentiful options. Many reputable acts like Leftover Salmon, Keller Williams and Lukas Nelson & The Promise of the Real have graced the stage at the Strings Music Pavilion. The Steamboat Springs Free Summer Concert Series returns every summer, drawing big crowds with acts like Jesse Royal, Big Something, Sam Bush, Neal Francis and more. Smaller venues downtown, like Old Town Pub and Schmiggity's, keep the live music and dancing going weekly for locals and visitors alike.

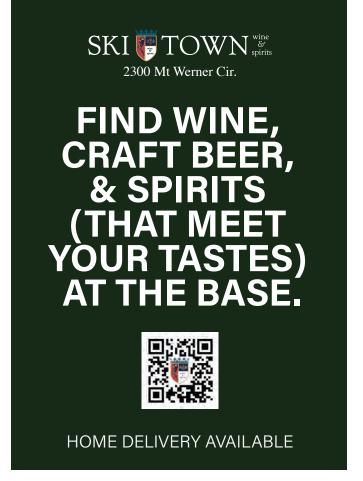

Stay mountainside for nightly activities and dining at the Steamboat Resort. While the resort continues construction throughout the base area, there's still plenty of fun to be had with the family. Pack up your camp chairs and bring the kids to the Torian Plaza Lawn for weekly Coca Cola Movies on the Mountain outdoor movie nights, held throughout the summer. Grab a bite from mountainside eateries like Los Locos and Slopeside Grill before turning in for the evening.

Whether you're looking for nightlife entertainment downtown or on the mountain, Steamboat Springs has nightly activities for the kids, the kids at heart and everyone in between.

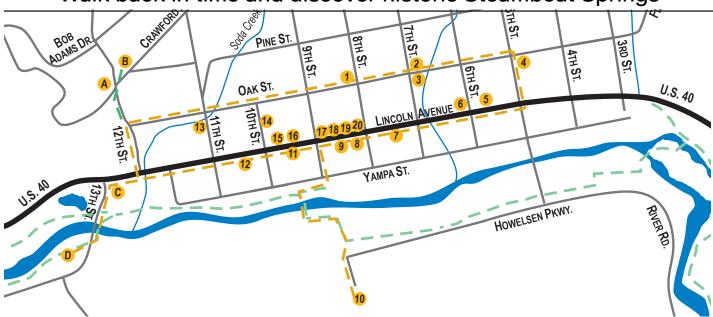

The Yampa River Core Trail is a scenic alternative to driving while visiting downtown Steamboat Springs.

Walk back in time and discover historic Steamboat Springs

A stroll through downtown reveals the history and development of our community and buildings dating back to the late 1800s. Town founder, James H. Crawford and a handful of settlers established the first post office, school, church, saw mill, newspaper, and hotel. These early visionaries built handsome stone storefronts as a testament to the town's potential amidst the wilderness.

Compiled with the help of the Tread of Pioneers Museum and Historic Routt County, the tour takes approximately one to two hours. Public parking is available on 8th and Oak streets across from the museum.

Downtown Steamboat Springs is a National Historic District.

1 | TREAD OF PIONEERS MUSEUM | 800 OAK ST.

Constructed by Ernest Campbell in 1901, this was home to the Zimmerman family from 1914 to 1956. In 1959, the Tread of Pioneers Museum opened in this building on the corner of Fifth and Oak Streets. In 1988, the building was moved to this location. The Utterback house • was also moved to the site in 1997 from its original location at Fourth and Oak and adjoined to the museum. The museum is open Tuesday-Saturday, 11 a.m.-5 p.m.

2 | GIAMBONI HOUSE | 646 OAK ST.

Camillo Giamboni built this structure in 1888. Hidden under the siding is the original log building. This was home to Swiss brothers Henry and Camillo Giamboni, who were the first to make skis commercially in Steamboat Springs.

3 | CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH | SEVENTH & OAK ST. ● ● ●

Margaret Crawford, founding mother of Steamboat Springs, was a charter member of the town's Christian Science Society, organized in July 1908. The log building, which continues to house the Christian Science Church, was completed in November 1934.

4 | WILLETT HOUSE | 443 OAK ST.

Built in 1906, this home is one of the few remaining pre-railroad vernacular wood frame structures in town. It has been owned by local noteworthy individuals such as George and Archibald Wither, Judge Charles Morning and most significantly Dr. F.E. Willett. Willett tirelessly served as the community doctor for nearly 60 years.

5 | ROUTT COUNTY COURTHOUSE | 522 LINCOLN AVE.

The cornerstone for the Routt County Courthouse was laid on Sept. 9, 1922. Designed by noted Colorado architect Robert Fuller, the three-story building was completed in December 1923 at a cost of $122,000.

6 | THE OLD TOWN PUB | 600 LINCOLN AVE.

Built in 1904 by Ernest Campbell, this structure was originally the U.S. Post Office, followed by the Royal and Albany Hotels. From 1914 to 1921, the building was a hospital run by Dr. F.E. Willett. After the hospital relocated, the second floor became the popular Odd Fellows dance hall. The first floor served as a grocery, electric store and public libray from 1924 to 1967.

7 | PIONEER BUILDING | 700 BLOCK OF LINCOLN AVE.

The Pioneer Buidling served as a hotel from 1923 until 1979. In its heyday, the upstairs rooms were run as a classic Western boarding house and the downstairs housed the colorful Pioneer Bar.

8 | FIRST NATIONAL BANK/REHDER BUILDING | EIGHTH & LINCOLN AVE. (STEAMBOAT ART MUSEUM) lacktriangledown

The First National Bank of Steamboat Springs, chartered in 1902, occupied a small frame structure on this site until the present building was constructed in 1905. Dakota sandstone from the Emerald Mountain quarry, and handmade bricks from Trogler's local brickyard were used in the construction.

9 | CHIEF THEATER | 813 LINCOLN AVE.

The Chief Theater was constructed by local master builder Arthur Gumprecht in 1926 and owned by Harry Gordon. The large, single-story brick masonry building included an orchestra pit, stage and the capacity to seat 500 people, making it the largest theater in Northwest Colorado.

10 | HOWELSEN HILL | SEEN FROM NINTH AND LINCOLN AVE. O

Rising up steeply from the south side of the Yampa River, this section of Emerald Mountain is named for Norwegian ski jumper Carl Howelsen, the "Flying Norseman" of Barnum and Bailey's Circus. Howelsen arrived in Steamboat Springs in 1913 and introduced the townspeople to ski jumping and recreational skiing. By the 1930s, Howelsen Hill facilities included slalom and downhill courses, lights for night skiing, and a "boat tow" consisting of two sleds pulled up the mountain by a cable powered by a Model T engine and transmission. In 1947, a combination chair/T-bar lift was installed to the top of Emerald Mountain; it was one of the longest lifts in the U.S. at that time. For over a century, the ski hill has served as the home for the Steamboat Springs Winter Sports Club, a nationally known training program.

11 | HARWIG'S SADDLERY | 911 LINCOLN AVE. (HARWIG'S & L'APOGÉE)

Built in 1901, this was originally a meat market. In 1916 it became Harwig's Saddlery and Western Wear, which was run by the Harwig family until 1984. The historic cowboy sign over the storefront was painted in the 1950s or 1960s by noted Western artist Merrill Mahaffey. The cowboy is now on display inside, safe from the elements, in the restaurant's vestibule where he welcomes restaurant patrons.

12 | THE OLD PILOT BUILDING | 1009 LINCOLN AVE.

James Hoyle began Northwest Colorado's first newspaper, The Steamboat Pilot, on July 31, 1885. This brick and stone building was constructed in the fall of 1909 for the newspaper printing office, which occupied the building until 1999.

13 | STEAMBOAT LAUNDRY BUILDING | 11TH AND OAK ST. (THE LAUNDRY RESTAURANT & CREEKSIDE CAFÉ) 🛑 🧶

Built over a 13-year period starting in 1906, this two-story brick and river-rock structure was constructed for the Steamboat Laundry, Dry Cleaning and Pressing business, which it served as until the late 1970s.

14 | CARVER POWER PLANT | TENTH STREET BETWEEN LINCOLN AVE. AND OAK ST. (CENTENNIAL HALL)

Originally built as a wood building in 1901, this coal-fired power plant made Steamboat Springs the first town in Northwest Colorado to provide its residents with electricity. The steam, a by-product of the system used to create electricity, was used to heat nearby schools and residences. The building continued to serve as a power plant until the 1950s. In the late 1990s, the City of Steamboat Springs purchased and rehabilitated the structure for public use as the historic portion of Centennial Hall.

15 | LORENZ BUILDING | 928 LINCOLN AVE.

This brick building was built in 1903. In 1912, it became the courthouse when the county seat relocated from Hahn's Peak. After 1921, the courtroom occupied the second floor, while the clerk, treasurer and jail shared the ground floor. When the present-day courthouse was completed in 1923, the building became the site of a dance hall called the Social Benefit Association.

16 | HUGUS BUILDING/THIESEN MALL | 912 LINCOLN AVE. (STEAMBOAT SMOKEHOUSE)

Built in 1899, this was the site of J.W. Hugus & Co., one of the nation's first general store chains. The original brick storefront is hidden under the contemporary façade.

17 | MAXWELL/SQUIRE BUILDING | 840 LINCOLN AVE. (LYON DRUG STORE)

Construction of the building was financed by town investor, J.P. Maxwell. The building was constructed with local pressed brick from Trogler's brickyard, and completed with local stone trim and plate glass. From 1909 to 1962, the post office occupied the ground floor. In 1909, Chamberlain-Grey Drug Store took over ownership. Now, over 100 years later, the building is still home to a locally owned drug store/pharmacy.

18 | F.M. LIGHT & SONS | 830 LINCOLN AVE.

The F.M. Light family moved from Hicksville, Ohio to Steamboat in 1905. Soon after their arrival, they purchased the lot, erected the > building and secured enough merchandise to open this clothing store. Light family members traveled throughout Northwest Colorado and Southern Wyoming displaying their merchandise and taking orders from ranchers for Western wear, hats, boots, saddles and equipment. The retail store is still owned by family members.

19 | THE FURLONG BUILDING | 810 LINCOLN AVE. (BUSHWACKER'S)

This building was started in 1919 and finished in July of 1920 using stone from the Emerald Mountain quarry to frame the windows. Norwegian ski jumper Carl Howelsen completed the brickwork and masonry.

20 | THE ROUTT COUNTY NATIONAL BANK

Built in 1919 with stonework by Carl Howelsen, this building is a unique rehabilitated 1919 exterior, and the from the 1940s.

A. AND B. CRAWFORD HOUSES | 1238 AND 1184 CRAWFORD AVE. Crawford homes are private residences so please respect private property. The second and third houses built by the founding family of Steamboat Springs, the Crawfords, are still standing. The second home, at 1238 Crawford Ave. (on 12th Street), was built in 1886 from native lumber from the Suttle Mill. The bay window was added later to accommodate their daughter's wedding reception. The large stone house at 1184 Crawford Ave. • • was built in 1894 of stone from the Emerald Mountain quarry. The family occupied this house until Mrs. Crawford's death in 1939. Crawford's descendants purchased the house in 2004 and carefully restored it.

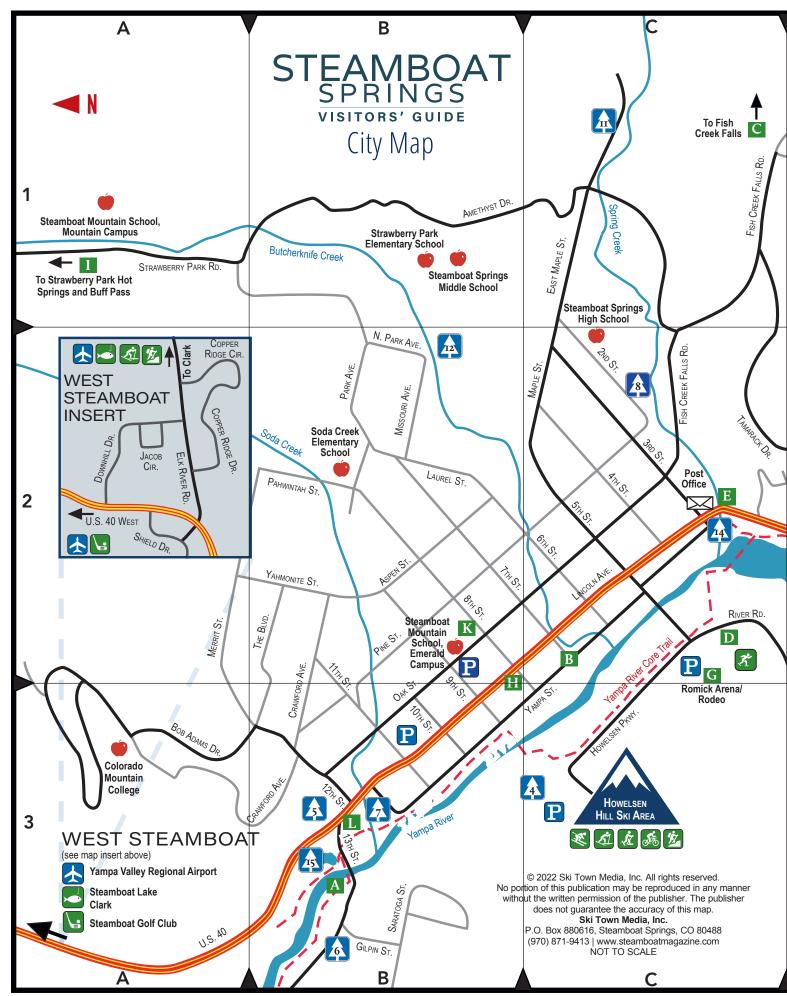

C. HISTORIC CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUILDING | 1201 LINCOLN AVE. (YAMPA VALLEY LAND TRUST)

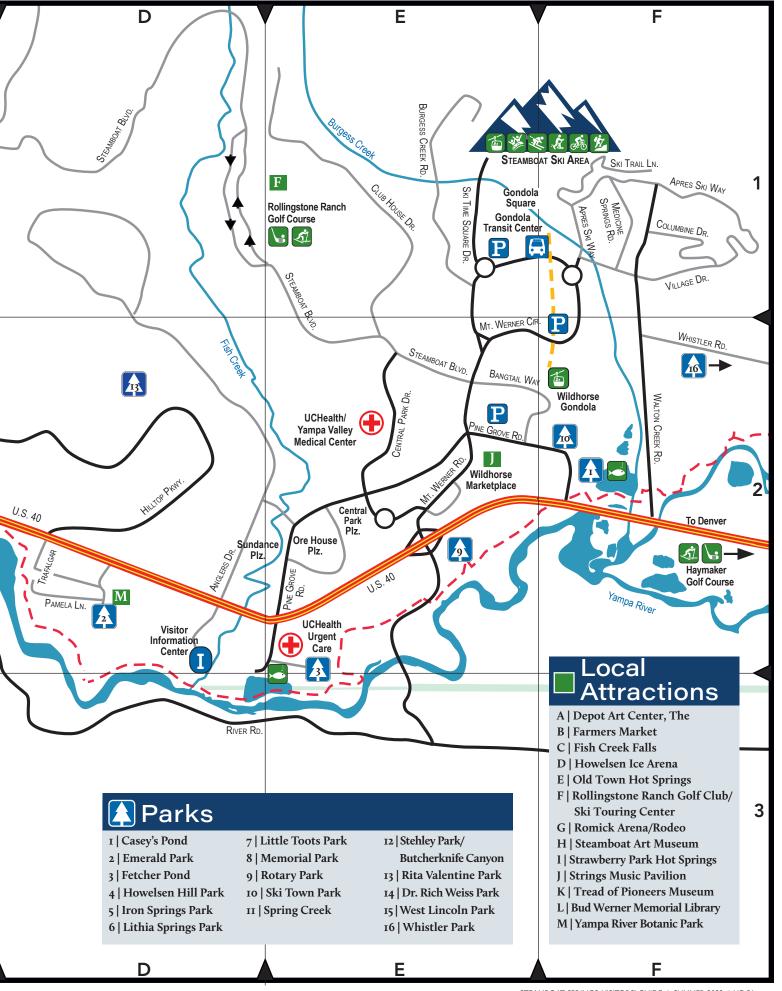

Located along Soda Creek next to the library, this small 1960 structure is one of Czechoslovakian-born architect Eugene Sternberg's two midcentury modern "Usonian style" buildings in downtown Steamboat Springs (listed on the National Historic Register). The building's nearly flat inverted pitch roof gives the visual impression of a butterfly in flight, so that locally, the building is known as the "Butterfly Building."

D. THE DEPOT | 1001 13TH ST. ● ●

Designed by famous Denver architect Frank E. Edbrooke, the railroad Depot was fully financed by the citizens and businesses of the town in order to entice the railroad line through Steamboat Springs. Construction for the building began shortly before the first passenger train arrived on January 6, 1909 and was operational by August of that year. Passenger service was discontinued in 1968, and eventually the Depot became home to Steamboat Creates and the Eleanor Bliss Center for the Arts.

OUTDOORS

* Check with local U.S. Forest Service offices regarding status of campgrounds, day use areas, and trailheads. The COVID-19 situation may result in delayed openings or closures to ensure safe social distancing and conforming to group size limits. The Forest Service is coordinating its COVID-19 response to align with federal, state and local guidance. Everyone is urged to take precautions recommended by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Minimize your impact by not traveling on muddy trails which degrade the quality and long term sustainability of the trail. Respect wildlife closures to minimize impacts during sensitive periods critical to their survival.

Cautionary Notes

- Tell someone where you are going and when you plan to return. Check in with them upon your return.
- Weather changes rapidly in the mountains. Plan high elevation trips for the morning hours. Afternoon thunderstorms with lightning are common. The threat is most significant along ridge lines, high points and open areas. Do not seek shelter under trees.
- 3. Minimize your exposure to the sun.
- 4. Pace yourself and drink lots of water.
- High altitude sickness symptoms include headache, dizziness, nausea and weakness. Rest, proper hydration and descent to a lower elevation can alleviate symptoms.

TRANSFORMING THE EXPERIENCE

While Steamboat has been shaped by its rich past, today, with our Full Steam Ahead capital project we look forward to shaping the future. We're investing $200 million on and around our mountain, so we can enhance the Steamboat experience for everyone who visits us. This unprecedented venture will help to make us one of the premier ski destinations in the world for decades to come.

This is an ambitious undertaking the likes of which our resort has never seen. In the base, we have plans for an après ski plaza, new restaurants and bars, and an ice rink. On the mountain there will be new lifts and new terrain that will make us the second largest resort in Colorado with the longest 10-person gondola in North America. In the tradition of our pioneering spirit and out of the genuine western heritage of Steamboat, comes an entirely new vision for our resort. Welcome to the new west.
