Welcome to Steamboat Springs

We are honored you have chosen or are considering a visit to the beautiful Yampa Valley this winter.

As we look forward to a new winter full of adventures and memories, we hope you will join us in preserving our natural playground for future generations. Be sure to review the best practices and expectations of residents and visitors inside this guide to help us care for our environment.

We can't wait to share our famous hospitality and charm that stems from our Western heritage. But Western isn't just our heritage – it's who we are today.

Experience a winter horseback ride through snowy aspens, taste local ingredients as you dine at one of our renowned restaurants, or learn about our storied past at one of our museums. All of these experiences will help you understand our ranching and agriculture roots.

Steamboat is definitely known for skiing and riding on Champagne Powder® snow, but there are many additional ways for you to recreate outside. Have a professional guide show you how to ice fish on the lake, go snow tubing with the family, or even take a snowmobile tour through a bison ranch.

Our options for relaxation this winter include many indoor spas and, for outdoor rejuvenation, there's no better place to be

Western isn't just our heritage – it's who we are today. than in one of our historic hot springs. Soak in the pools as the snowy pine trees and crisp air make the perfect setting.

Fat biking is a fun way to take in the scenery while staying active. You can even bike along the Yampa River Core trail in the winter to make your way around town.

Our vibrant art scene will take you from galleries featuring exhibits from local artists to various art classes to incredible live performances.

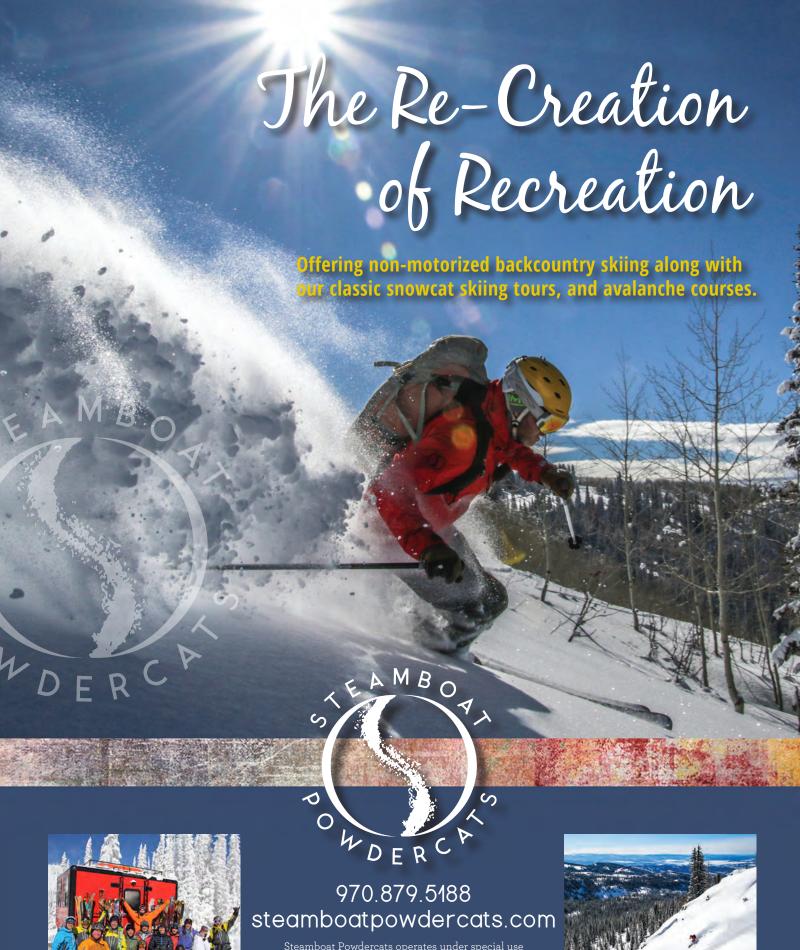

Don't forget about the return of many beloved events this winter. Must-see events include the Winter Carnival, Cowboy Downhill, WinterWonderGrass Festival and more.

Thank you for thinking of Steamboat Springs for your next trip and for caring for this place as though you called it home. We hope to see you soon!

Skiing in a Winter Wonderland

Chris Rhodes and his daughter, Anna, ski the historic slopes at Howelsen Hill.

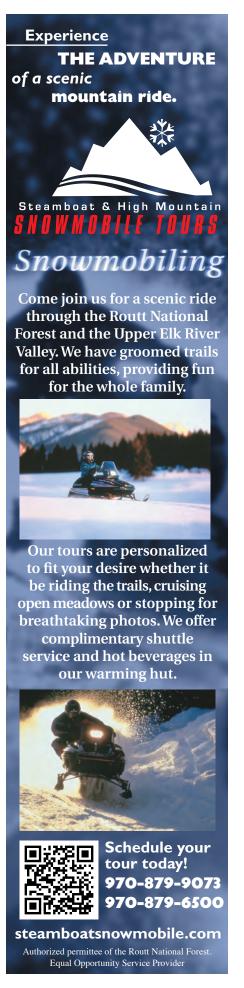

There's something special about experiencing wintertime in Steamboat Springs. The mountains surrounding Steamboat are the stuff skiers' dreams are made of, with stashes of the best powder in the state. Bundle up and strap into those ski or snowboard boots for an unforgettable skiing and riding experience in the Yampa Valley.

The base at the Steamboat Ski Area will have a different look this year as the resort continues improving the skiing experience on and around the mountain (see page VG 23 for more information), but the skiing is as excellent as ever. Whether it's corduroy cruisers or untouched Champagne Powder®, enjoy a full day on the slopes with over a hundred groomed runs for all skill levels. Learn why Steamboat has a reputation for topnotch tree skiing and powder. Get adventurous with bumps and jumps or hit rails and perform tricks at one of the resort's terrain parks.

Venture downtown to experience Steamboat Springs' skiing heritage at Howelsen Hill. Named after Carl Howelsen, the founding father of recreational skiing in Steamboat, Howelsen Hill offers 17 Alpine runs through varying terrain for all abilities. Witness Olympians soar through the air off the famous ski jump or weave through aspen groves and rolling fields to experience powder and Nordic skiing right in the heart of downtown. Breaks in the snowy meadows offer panoramic views of the valley.

When it comes to cross-country skiing, the options are endless around Steamboat. Tour the backcountry of Buffalo Pass on tele skis to earn your powder turns, or, just a 20-minute drive east of town, find countless trails for cross-country skiing, snowshoeing and fat biking on Rabbit Ears Pass. With options for beginners and experts alike, there's nothing quite like experiencing the backcountry on skis.

Closer to town, you'll find the cross-country skiing with the postcard-worthy backdrop of Mount Werner and Emerald Mountain at Haymaker Golf Club. Offering gradual slopes and rolling hills, Haymaker Nordic Center is a perfect setting for more casual cross-country skiers. About six miles further south, visit Lake Catamount's Nordic trails. The Lake Catamount Touring Center, part of the privately owned Catamount Ranch and Club, allows public access to its Nordic trails during winter. Ski alongside the lake and through acres of snowy meadows while viewing the beautiful scenery surrounding the property. The Steamboat Ski Touring Center offers nearly 10 miles of groomed cross-country trails for all skill levels, passing through aspen groves and along Fish Creek for convenient winter sightseeing. Stagecoach Reservoir and North Routt County also offer many options when it comes to cross-country ski trails.

Whether you're an experienced skier or rider, or you're strapping on a board for the first time, there is terrain for every skill level in Steamboat. With world-renowned tree skiing, ample Olympic heritage and abundant Champagne Powder®, the Steamboat Ski Area is worth the journey. Ski the storied slopes at Howelsen Hill and experience all the Rocky Mountains have to offer by exploring one Steamboat's many cross-country trails and Nordic centers. Ski or ride through a winter wonderland.

Know Before You Go

Steamboat offers a huge number of backcountry recreation opportunities in the winter – make sure to arm yourself with knowledge before heading into the wilderness. Research directions, parking information and current restrictions before visiting a new area.

Check the weather forecast, plan your route, know how to call for help and bring all the gear you may need. For detailed backcountry safety information, visit www.colorado.com/articles/how-recreate-responsibly-colorados-backcountry-winter.

If you're new to the backcountry, consider hiring a guide through Steamboat Powdercats, Steamboat Snowmobile Tours, Rocky Mountain Sled Rentals or Yampatika.

To gather more information before venturing into the backcountry, visit www.steamboatchamber.com/visit-responsibly/know-before-you-go/winter-recreation/

Beijing Winter Olympics 2022

The Olympics are at the pinnacle of sporting events in Ski Town USA®, which has sent 98 athletes to the Games – more than any other town in North America. View Steamboat Springs' winter athletes in competition at the 2022 Winter Olympic Games, Friday, Feb. 4-Sunday, Feb. 20, in Beijing, China.

Many of the athletes who are vying for a spot on the U.S. Olympic Team are not only locals but were also born and raised in Steamboat. This could be Nordic Combined athlete Taylor Fletcher's fourth Olympic appearance, inching him closer to the record held by former teammate Todd Lodwick, who appeared in six Winter Games. Snowboarder Taylor Gold looks to make a comeback after an injury sidelined him for the 2018 winter games in Pyeongchang, Korea. In 2020, Gold lived up to his name and stood atop the podium at the X Games Snowboard Superpipe Session. Mick Dierdorff hopes to build upon his success after winning gold at the snowboardcross world championships in 2019, being the first U.S. male to do so in 14 years. Nordic Combined athlete Jasper Good would be making his second Olympic appearance if he continues to have strong showings on the international circuit. Jaelin Kauf, who trained with the Steamboat Springs Winter Sports Club, is the fastest woman on the freestyle moguls World Cup circuit.

The U.S. Olympic team is likely to be led by its veterans, but rookies could make the cut, too. Ski jumpers Annika Belshaw and Decker Dean are the new kids on the block with a strong chance to make their Olympic debut.

The Paralympic Winter Games will be held in Beijing, China, Friday, March 4,-Sunday, March 13, 2022, and one native Steamboater, Alpine skier Paige VanArsdale, is training hard in hopes of competing on the world stage.

The Steamboat Ski Area and the City of Steamboat Springs are planning celebrations in conjunction with the Winter Games. The Olympic Sendoff, when the Steamboat Springs community celebrates its Olympians and wishes them success at the Beijing Games, is likely to be bigger than ever this time around as Olympians' families will be here, rather than in China, due to COVID restrictions. Check the online events calendar for details: www.steamboatchamber.com/events/calendar-of-events/

Mountains of Improvements at the Steamboat Ski Area

The Steamboat Ski Area's new loading dock for the gondola, located closer to the slopes than the old lower terminal in the now-demolished gondola building.

There's no shortage of plans to be excited about at the Steamboat Ski Area, and some of them are already coming to fruition this ski season.

These plans comprise a multi-year project, "Full Steam Ahead," which is the largest in the resort's 58-year history. The project is part of a $135 million investment by Alterra, Steamboat's parent company, to make a variety of improvements to the ski area.

This ski season, the old gondola has been moved further up the hill from Gondola Square to make room for new construction, but it is still fully operational. Tech improvements from last ski season, including convenient ticket kiosks and a mobile ordering system, are still in place. This winter will see the opening of a new Kids Vacation Center location as well as the completion of the Underplaza Promenade Building.

Still to Come

Set to open during the 2022/23 ski season, the Steamboat Ski Area's new 10-passenger Wild Blue Gondola will be the longest of its capacity in North America, and will improve the resort's out-of-base capacity from 6,000 to 10,000 people per hour. Other additions slated for the 2022/23 ski season include an ice rink at the base area and a new area for beginners called the Greenhorn Ranch Learning Center.

Set to open during the 2023/24 ski season, Steamboat Ski & Resort Corp. has also approved an additional 295 acres in the Fish Creek Canyon area. Added to the previously announced 355-acre Pioneer Ridge expansion for a total of 650 acres of new terrain, this will make Steamboat the second largest ski area in the state.

Steamboat's Olympic Heritage is Second to None

S teamboat Springs has been the training grounds for more Olympians than any other town in North America.

The people of Steamboat Springs rally around their Olympians, and there's electricity in the air during the Olympics – especially the Winter Games. It's no coincidence that Steamboat, nicknamed Ski Town U.S.A.®, has a record 98 Olympians, as the town has been a home and training ground for Olympians for nearly 90 years.

Learn about Olympic legends Billy Kidd, Buddy Werner and countless others at the Tread of Pioneers Museum, where you can take part in the Olympic Heritage Tour. Or visit the Olympic Tribute Display atop the Steamboat Gondola and trace the path of Steamboat's Olympic story, from first Olympian John Steele to more recent Steamboat Olympians like the 2010 Nordic Combined team that won the first U.S. Nordic Combined Olympic medals. The Olympian Spotlights section of the exhibit features local Olympians' gear and a running list of Steamboat's Olympic athletes.

Be sure to visit Howelsen Hill and Howelsen Hill Lodge, where many of Steamboat's Olympians have trained and many of its future Olympians currently train as part of the Steamboat Springs Winter Sports Club. While you're there, learn about the century-old ski hill – the oldest west of the Mississippi – and Steamboat's Olympic beginnings.

THERE'S A LOT MORE here to love THAN WINTER

Around here, when winter ends and our Champagne Powder* snow melts, the lakes thaw, the wildflowers bloom, and all the things you love about Steamboat become even more wonderful. Come hike, come bike, come fish, come fest. Come experience the Summer side of Steamboat.

Yampa Valley's Winter Playground

When it comes to enjoying the winter, the Yampa Valley has an activity for everyone, regardless of their level of experience in the snow.

In search of epic views? Snowshoe tours are sure to appease. Snowshoeing events in the valley are plentiful and directed by various groups. If exploring Mount Werner is on your list, the Steamboat Ski Area has you covered with guided tours and photographers to capture the best moments from your adventure. Do you want to learn about local landscapes and wildlife while touring secluded spaces? Take a snowshoe tour for all skill levels with Yampatika, an organization that schedules hikes near and far from town while providing education on environmental stewardship.

Cross-country ski, skate ski and snow bike rentals are offered at multiple locations providing Nordic activities. Haymaker Nordic Center, Lake Catamount Touring Center, the Steamboat Ski Area, Steamboat Ski Touring Center and Howelsen Hill have trails providing beautiful views from 7,000 to 10,000 feet in elevation. Travel blogs cite Steamboat Springs as one of the best cross-country skiing towns in the U.S.

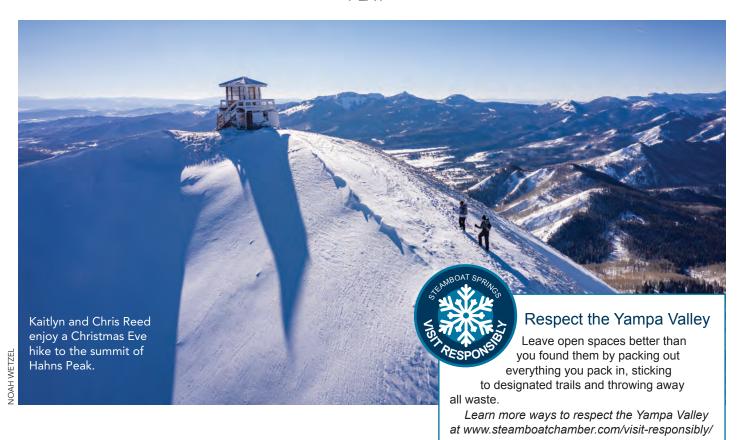

Hop on a sled! No, we aren't talking the about the traditional toboggan from your childhood memories – we're talking snowmobiles. Unlock acres of untouched powder and backcountry adventures when you book a tour with Steamboat Snowmobile Tours. Delve into Steamboat Springs' winter wonderland with confidence, education and direction from the people who have spent decades leading groups on sled tours.

If spending the day on the hill isn't for you, try your hand at flyfishing. Beginner? No problem. The local saying goes, "Every fisher on the river is a lucky fisher." Local guides will argue that winter is the best time of year to fish the Yampa River. The fish are lethargic from the cold temperatures, giving you the opportunity to catch larger fish with greater ease. Schedule lessons with the local guides at Steamboat Flyfisher, and don't forget to wear warm underlayers.

Fly down a snow-covered mountain without skis or a snowboard on the Steamboat Ski Area's Outlaw Mountain Coaster. The track is over a mile long and you can control your own speed. Hit up to 27 mph while zipping around sharp turns, dips and loops. Children are welcome to ride the coaster, but must be accompanied by someone at least 16 years old.

No matter what winter fun means to you, you're sure to find countless hours of amusement within the Yampa Valley.

The Wonders of Steamboat Springs Winter Carnival

Join in celebrating Steamboat Springs' deep history of winter sports and agriculture at the annual Steamboat Springs Winter Carnival, held Wednesday-Sunday, Feb. 9-13. This family-friendly celebration has been a crowd pleaser for 108 years.

The Steamboat Springs Winter Sports Club is excited to return to a traditional Winter Carnival this year, after pivoting to a socially distanced carnival last year. Pending any new COVID regulations, the Steamboat community can look forward to the return of the Night Extravaganza, street events, snow sculptures and all of the other fan favorites. Check online for the most current schedule of events: www.steamboatchamber.com/events/annual-events/ steamboat-winter-carnival/.

The fireworks and flares display at Howelsen Hill are arguably the most magnificent part of Winter Carnival, with every year's pyrotechnic show seeming to outshine the previous one. In 2020, Steamboat broke the world record for shooting off the largest firework in the world. Whether or not local and state restrictions permit gatherings at this year's carnival, the epic firework display will be visible from all over Steamboat Springs.

Give Wildlife Space

Among the best things about Steamboat Springs is the wildlife you may see while you're here. Even in winter, your chances of seeing animals are high.

To ensure the safety of both you and the animals, observe animals calmly and quietly from a distance. If you view an animal in distress, it's still best to keep your distance and call animal control: (970) 879-1144. Never feed wildlife, as it can be unhealthy for the animals. Always store your food and trash properly in a bear-proof container so that it doesn't attract wildlife. Wild animals attracted by food can become dangerous, sometimes to the point of having to be euthanized. Always keep dogs leashed for their safety as well as the safety of wildlife.

For more details on giving Steamboat's wildlife space, visit www.steamboatchamber.com/blog/post/ visitors-guide-to-steamboat-wildlife/ or stop by the Colorado Parks & Wildlife Steamboat Springs office.

Witness ProRodeo cowboys on skis and snowboards race downhill in disorderly fashion at the Steamboat Ski Area's annual Cowboy Downhill. Bringing the ski culture and Western traditions together as one, this iconic event is signature to the winter season in Steamboat and is always a good time – and a belly laugh – for everyone.

Venture away from the ski area and enjoy the beautiful Colorado scenery in the snowy hills and white-capped aspens at Saddleback Ranch. Learn about agriculture and explore the ranchlands of Routt County on horseback while reveling in stunning landscapes and potential wildlife sightings. Looking for an activity for the whole family? Enjoy a fun-filled day and a guaranteed good time while snow tubing the famous Yee-Haw Hill at Saddleback Ranch.

Take a day to relax and learn about Steamboat's Western heritage. Long before Steamboat Springs was named Ski Town, USA®, the Yampa Valley was a community built on agriculture, and several historic barns were left behind to preserve the tube, stick to trails to avoid damaging the habitats of our local wildlife and leave areas as close to how you found them as possible – refrain from carving or hacking trees, building structures or campsites on public land and taking any historical items away with you. As always, if you pack it in, pack it out with you. Pro tip: bring reusable water bottles and food containers to reduce waste. Even in seasons when fire danger is low, don't make fires in areas where there is little dead or downed wood, where a fire would scar the landscape, or at parking lots and trailheads.

Ahhh, This is the Good Life

Order a latte, browse a selection of best-selling books and relax at an upstairs table at Off the Beaten Path Bookstore.

Who says you can't have an adventurous, exciting vacation while still heading home feeling recharged? With these relaxing options in Steamboat Springs, you'll be able to leave your worries behind you in the mountains.

Visit a mouthwatering medley of restaurants, breweries and distilleries both downtown and on the mountain. Head downtown for a taste of Steamboat's nightlife, with live music, trivia nights, sports bars, drinking and dining. Apres options on the mountain are sure to delight – make sure to try the truffle fries at Truffle Pig and the Ski Town, U.S.A.® Burger at Timber & Torch. See page VG 56 for a guide to the Steamboat Springs dining scene. If you're looking for some structure to your beverage drinking, try the Steamboat Brew Trail, which incorporates breweries and a distillery in downtown and west Steamboat. Visit

You'd be remiss to skip the hot springs on a visit to Steamboat – take your pick between the convenience of the Old Town Hot Springs downtown, or the rustic beauty of Strawberry Park Hot Springs just seven miles north of downtown Steamboat. If you choose to visit Strawberry Park, make sure to make reservations in advance online and book a shuttle. Road conditions can be difficult to navigate in winter, and fines are heavy for those who try on their own and get stuck.

Give Back

The natural beauty of Steamboat Springs and the surrounding Yampa Valley is maintained through donations from visitors like you. In 2019, Steamboat joined four other mountain towns to form Pledge for the Wild, an initiative that raises awareness for responsible outdoor stewardship and raises funds for the organizations that maintain our wild spaces.

In Steamboat Springs, the funds raised by Pledge for the Wild benefit the Trail Maintenance Endowment Fund, a permanent endowment for non-motorized trail projects in Routt and Moffat counties. You can donate to the Trail Maintenance Endowment Fund through the donation meters along the trails in and around Steamboat Springs, or through the Yampa Valley Community Foundation website: https://secure.givelively.org/donate/yampa-valley-community-foundation

If you'd rather volunteer than donate, Steamboat Springs offers many opportunities in that department. Visit www.steamboatchamber.com/visit-responsibly/giveback/ for a full list of local organizations that would love your help.

Unwind while learning about the Yampa Valley's cultural heritage at the Tread of Pioneers Museum. Take the museum's Olympic Heritage Tour to learn about the athletes who have made this town an Olympic powerhouse.

Stroll through downtown galleries and take in the best visual art that Steamboat has to offer (read about Steamboat's arts & culture community on page VG 48). If you're around for the first Friday of the month, make sure to attend First Friday ArtWalk, where you might even meet a featured artist at one of the galleries.

Find a cozy nook and read the newest book releases while the snow falls gently outside at Bud Werner Memorial Library. The library also offers weekly story times for young kids, so you can drop them off, take a breather and catch up on your reading.

Bring home the Western look from F.M. Light & Sons.

Steamboat Springs' variety of shops are guaranteed to provide the perfect keepsake or gift from your trip. Be sure to check the mask guidelines of individual shops you visit. More information on local shopping can be found in the story on page VG 46.

Take your relaxation to the max with a visit to one of Steamboat Springs' spas. A massage, facial or soak is bound to melt your stress and tension away. Rocky Mountain Day Spa offers a variety of singular services and packages including massages, wraps and facials, while Old Town Hot Springs offers saunas, massages and yoga in addition to their hot springs pools.

Steamboat is a town of outdoor adventurers, but an adventurer is only as good as their recovery is. Remember that on your next visit to town.

Springs, where restaurants, bars, shops and boutiques add to this town's Western charm. Whether you're looking for a delicious bite, a one-of-a-kind gift or a craft cocktail, Steamboat has it all.

Take your pick from a tantalizing selection of eateries in downtown Lincoln Avenue, or dine with a view of the historic slopes of Howelsen Hill on the parallel Yampa Street. Stroll or bike your way between breweries and a distillery on the Steamboat Brew Trail, much of which can be accessed via the Yampa River Core Trail.

Steamboat's drinking and dining scene isn't limited to downtown. Head mountainside to enjoy a three-course feast at Hazie's, Northern Italian fare at Four Points, decadent wine pairings at Ragnar's or bistro-inspired dining at Timber & Torch.

Be prepared for any outdoor adventure with proper clothing and cold weather attire from one of Steamboat Springs' outfitting companies. Find essential outerwear and winter gear at Ski Haus and Steamboat Flyfisher. Walk a block over to Yampa Street, where you'll find Switchback Sports for more equipment and apparel options to keep you warm during mountain activities.

Shop for locally crafted gifts from Steamboat's many talented artists at art galleries and gift shops in the heart of downtown.

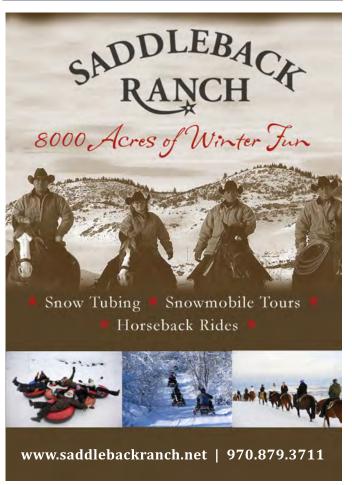

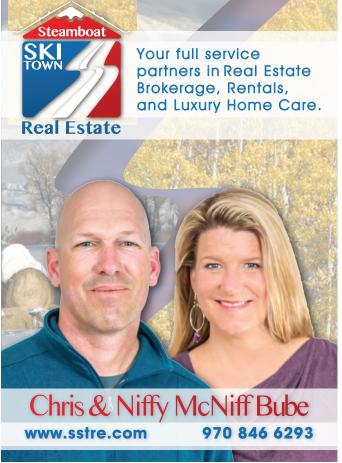

The Steamboat Art Museum Gift Shop houses a variety of hand-crafted gifts from various artists. Stop by Solar Flare Glasswork & Design for distinctive glassworks ranging from ornaments and trinkets to beer and wine glasses. Shop for stickers, t-shirts and other Steamboat memorabilia at one of the many souvenir shops downtown.

For Western wear, sportswear, handmade goods and everything in between, shop and dine in Steamboat Springs.

Be Kind
Steamboat Springs is known for its Western hospitality and welcoming spirit – please help keep that spirit alive by practicing patience and kindness with the employees who work to help you during your trip. While downtown, cross only at specified intersections, observe speed limits, stay in marked parking spots and follow the guidelines of the shops and restaurants you visit.

Steamboat Springs' Arts and Culture

Steamboat Springs' heart and soul lie in its vibrant creative district. With painting, photography, murals, dance, theater, live music and film, Steamboat's community is constantly celebrating art.

Take a walking tour of Old Town Steamboat and visit over a dozen art galleries in Steamboat's downtown creative district. View distinct works – all locally-inspired – by Steamboat artists at Pine Moon Fine Art. Visit the iconic Depot Art Center, home of Steamboat Creates, for a rotating selection of artwork by the Riverwalk Collective. Peruse nationally renowned exhibits at Steamboat Art Museum in the historic Rehder Building on the corner of 8th Street and Lincoln Avenue. The work of five historic photographers of the American West appear together for what is likely the first time ever in the 2021-22 ski season exhibit at SAM. Renowned artists Roland Reed, Edward Curtis, A.G. and Augusta Wallihan and L.A. Huffman spent their lives chronicling the Old West at the turn of the 20th century. From the Wallihans, who were recognized as America's first wildlife photographers, to Curtis, whose work is emblematic of the times, this exhibit features original prints, photogravures and memorabilia. Admission is free. View a sampling of local artwork – and possibly meet featured artists – at downtown galleries the first Friday of each month for First Friday ArtWalk.

Head mountainside to visit one of the top live music venues in the West. Strings Music Pavilion is nationally renowned and brings world-class performers to the stage in Northwest Colorado. Continue up to the base of the mountain, where you'll find Zandee Gallery and spontaneous pop-up concerts at the Steamboat Ski Area.

For lovers of both music and theater, Opera Steamboat conducts classical and contemporary operas. Mark your calendar for WinterWonderGrass in February, which brings the best bluegrass bands in the nation to the base of the Steamboat Ski Area.

Artistic passion and creative energy abound in the Steamboat Springs arts scene – make sure to experience it while you're here.

Ditch the Car

Whether you choose to use a bike, taxi, shuttle or the free bus, getting around Steamboat Springs without a car is easy – and it relieves congestion downtown.

- Take the GO Alpine or Storm Mountain Express airport shuttles to get to and from Yampa Valley Regional Airport.
- Ride the free city bus, which runs between the ski area, downtown and most lodging, dining and shopping locations: www.steamboatsprings.net/166/Transit
- Walk or bike the Yampa River Core Trail to get around town, and you'll never have to worry about finding a parking spot.
- Use your lodging property's shuttle service if they offer one

At time of print, there is reduced capacity on public transportation and masks are required.

Ski Season 2021-22 Direct Flights

This winter, Yampa Valley Regional Airport bumps its nonstop flight locations up to 16 with the addition of Houston Hobby (Southwest), Atlanta (Delta) and Minneapolis/St. Paul (Delta). Now with flight service from six airlines, YVRA makes getting to and from Steamboat's ski slopes easier than ever.

The Yampa Valley Regional Airport is a short drive from Steamboat Springs, but the journey can be made even easier by booking an airport shuttle. GO Alpine Airport Shuttle and Storm Mountain Express both provide service to and from YVRA, and GO Alpine also provides service to Denver should you choose to fly out of Denver International Airport. Call GO Alpine to make reservations, as availability may vary: (970) 879-2800.

To book your trip by phone, call Steamboat Central Reservations: (877) 783-2628.

On Mountain | 970-871-5150 www.steamboat.com/dining

A perfect evening at Steamboat starts with a Gondola ride, taking in the spectacular views of downtown. Once at Hazie's, you'll enjoy a three-course, prix fixe dinner filled with Colorado flair and designed to delight your taste buds. All are yours at Hazie's. Be sure to make your reservation on Open Table.

On Mountain | 970-871-5150 steamboat.com/dining

A one-of-a-kind Northern Italian dinner, just a snowcat ride away. A luxurious, fully enclosed snowcat whisks you to Four Points Lodge for a dinner to remember. Mountain views set the ambience for an evening of innovative Northern Italian cuisine and adventure.

2250 Apres Ski Way, Mountain 970-879-7470

Casual American Alpine cuisine crafted from the finest ingredients. The creative, diverse menu is approachable for any palate or occasion, while each item can be complemented with wines or cocktails. Nestle beside a warm fire, enjoying Steamboat's most indulgent aprés ski scene.

34855 E. U.S. 40 | 970-879-1265 www.steamboat.com/dining

Enjoy the rolling valley of Steamboat in the most Western way — from a horse-drawn sleigh. You'll start off the evening with drinks and appetizers, before two draft horses pull the sleigh as you take in the beautiful Steamboat views, then settle down to a delicious, Colorado inspired three-course dinner. Be sure to make your reservation on Open Table.

On Mountain | 970-871-5150 steamboat.com/dining

Take a snowcat-drawn sleigh ride under Colorado's starry evening sky. Ragnar's will greet you with a sumptuous five-course menu. The wine selection offers expert pairing with your dinner, while live acoustic music sets the mood for the evening's culinary delights.

700 Yampa St., Downtown 970-761-2060 www.carlstavern.com

Cross-Country Ski & Snowshoe Routes

■ 1A West Summit Loop A

3.7 miles (loop from trailhead)

Access: Travel east of Steamboat Springs on U.S. 40 approximately 13 miles to the West Summit parking area on Rabbit Ears Pass.

Route description: Begin on the north side of the road. Skiing the route in a clockwise direction is less difficult, with gentler climbs and steeper descents through open and wooded areas. Views of the Yampa Valley and the Flat Tops are spectacular. The West Summit loops and surrounding terrain are the most popular skiing areas in the Hahn's Peak/Bears Ears Ranger District.

◆ 1B West Summit Loop B

3.6 miles/5.4 miles (loop from trailhead)

Access: This route is reached by skiing counter-clockwise on I.A. Ski past the first junction with I.B and climb to the top of the ridge. At the second junction, on the ridgetop, ski I.B to the east. This route is best skied in a clockwise direction.

Route description: This route has several steep ascents and descents through heavy timber and open meadows.

◆ 1C South Summit Loop

3 miles

Access: This route begins at the West Summit parking area. Park on the south side of the highway.

Route description: Travel counter-clockwise for the best downhill runs. The route begins by following an old road. Woods, open meadows and some steep descents are encountered. This route connects with route 3B midway around the loop. Past this junction, the route follows the telephone lines and old highway, paralleling U.S. 40. The final portion follows the meadow edge back to the West Summit, then retraces the first segment of old road.

■ 1D Bruce's Trail 3.1 miles

Access: Travel east of Steamboat Springs on U.S. 40 approximately 14 miles to the parking area on the north side of the highway. A short spur connects the parking lot to the main trail

Route description: Designed wide to accommodate both skating and traditional skiing techniques. The trail is machine-groomed in the early ski season. Note that dogs are not permitted when the trail is groomed. The upper loop provides easy skiing, while the lower loop has a moderate difficulty rating. The tight loop design and proximity to the highway make this trail a good choice for a ski workout, a short day, or for skiers wishing to remain relatively close to their vehicles.

◆◆ 2A Hogan Park Route

13 miles round tr

Access: Travel east of Steamboat Springs on U.S. 40 approximately 18 miles to the Walton Creek parking area. One way, 6.5 miles to the bottom of Momingside Lift. Route description: This route is recommended for experts only. If you plan to descend Mount Werner through the Steamboat Ski Area, safety straps are required. Begin on the north side of the highway just west of the large cut bank. The route crosses large open meadows and many streams. Steep ascents and descents will be encountered. During heavy snowfall or whiteout conditions, the route is very difficult to follow across the large meadows. Carry emergency/survival gear. If Momingside Lift is not operating, climb 1 mile to top of lift, then descend 3 miles to ski area base.

■ 2B Fox Curve Loop 3.6 miles

Access: Travel approximately 17 miles east of Steamboat Springs on U.S. 40 to the Fox Curve parking area. The parking area is on the north side of highway. Route description: This route has varied terrain including steep ascents and descents. Use caution when crossing Walton Creek.

◆ 3A Walton Creek Loop

1.9 miles

Access: Travel east of Steamboat Springs on U.S. 40 approximately 18 miles to the Walton Creek parking area on Rabbit Ears Pass. The parking area is on the south side of the highway.

Route description: Begin at the knoll south of the parking lot and follow the powerline a short distance to the west. Turn south across Walton Creek and through former Walton Creek Campground. The junction of route 3B is reached in the meadow south of the campground. Past this junction, the route makes a steep ascent over a ridge and down an open slope to Walton Creek and the junction of route 3C. Follow Walton Creek back to the parking area.

◆◆ 3B Par-A-Lell Route

3B route is 2.3 miles (or 4.2 miles for combined one-way from 1A to 3A)

Access: This route can be accessed from route IC, beginning at the West Summit parking area on the south side of the highway, or from route 3A, beginning at the Walton Creek parking area.

Route description: This route connects routes IC and 3A. Skiing it west to east provides more exciting downhill runs; skiing east to west involves more climbing, though much of it is gentle. Starting at the junction of IC and 3B (west end), the route goes up a gentle slope and drops into a stream valley. Use caution when crossing streams and beaver ponds on this route as they may be only partially frozen. Heavy timber and open meadows.

■ 3C North Walton Peak Route

3.25 miles (one-way)/6.5 miles (loop from trailhead)

Access: Travel east of Steamboat Springs on U.S. 40 approximately 18 miles to the Walton Creek parking area.

Route description: This is the most popular route for telemarking. Begin at the knoll to the south of the parking area and head southeast and downhill through the trees following route 3A. Approximately 1/2 mile from the parking area is the junction of 3A and 3C. The route crosses Walton Creek and travels through wooded areas and open meadows. It connects to Forest Road 302 and follows it to the top of North Walton Peak. Opportunities for steep runs exist on the slopes of this peak.

Snowmobile Routes

■◆ 1A North: Continental Divide

15 miles

Location: Rabbit Ears Pass to Buffalo Pass

Route description: Start at Dumont or Muddy Creek trailhead. Open meadows and dense forests. Very popular route.

■◆ 1A South: Continental Divide

26 miles

Location: Rabbit Ears Pass to Rock Creek on Gore Pass

Route description: Start at Muddy Creek or Gore Pass. Longer, less crowded trail. Numerous non-maintained routes in the Gore Pass area.

■◆ 1D Buffalo Pass

8 miles

Location: Dry Lake to Buffalo Pass

Route description: Limited parking at Dry Lake. Multiple use area. Crowded on lower sections with skiers and snowcats. Opens up above the switchbacks. Stay on groomed route until after switchbacks.

1E Grizzly Creek

8 miles

Location: Grizzly Creek Guard Station to Buffalo Pass

Route description: Access Grizzly Creek from Colorado 14 in North Park. Alternative access to Buffalo Pass.

1F Sawmill Creek

16 miles

Location: Intersection of IE to Rabbit Ears Pass Route description: Forms a 40-mile loop with IA and IE.

♦♦ 1G Round Lake Cutoff

4 miles

Location: Round Lake to 1F trail

Route description: Route is groomed but it may not be a maintained groomed route. Know where you're going. Have map and compass.

■◆ 5A South Walton Peak

6 miles

Location: Muddy Creek or Dumont Lake to South Walton Peak

Route description: Nice views as route climbs South Walton Peak. Be aware that nearby North Walton Peak is for non-motorized recreation.

Additional trails are located elsewhere in the forest. Contact the U.S. Forest Service for maps and more information or visit the website: www.fs.fed.us/mbr. Source: All material supplied by the U.S. Forest Service

Backcountry Information

Cross-Country Ski General Information

- 1. Park only in designated areas. These are identified by large trailhead parking signs.
- 2. Skiing is recommended in areas north and south of U.S. 40 from the West Summit east to Walton Creek.
- 3. Ski routes are marked with blue diamonds on trees. Bamboo poles are used to mark the trail route through open areas when snow depth permits. After heavy snowfalls, the posts and poles may be covered with snow and not visible.
- 4. Routes are not groomed and have sections of steep ascent and descent. Skiers should have the skills to handle varied terrain and snow conditions before attempting these routes. The exception is Bruce's Trail, which is occasionally groomed in early ski season.
- 5. Dogs' feet may damage ski tracks. Dog droppings should be removed from the trail. Dogs are not allowed on Bruce's Trail in the early season when it is groomed.

Snowshoe General Information

Snowshoers are welcome to use the marked cross-country ski routes on Rabbit Ears Pass, but they should travel parallel to the ski tracks, not on them. Snowshoes damage ski tracks. Recommended routes for snowshoeing are Walton Peak Loop and Bruce's Trail. Smaller loops for snowshoers may be available. Contact the USFS for details: 970-879-2299.

Snowmobile General Information

- 1. Park only in designated areas. These are identified by large trailhead parking signs.
- 2. Snowmobile use areas are north and south of U.S. 40, from Walton Creek to Muddy Pass. Please respect non-motorized areas.
- 3. Snowmobile trails are maintained by volunteers from Routt Powder Riders.
- 4. Snowmobile routes are marked with orange diamonds on trees. Poles are used to mark the trail routes through open areas.
- 5. Snowmobiles are required to be registered annually with Colorado Parks and Wildlife.

Non-Motorized Areas

Two areas, the west side of Rabbit Ears Pass on U.S. 40 and an area by the Dry Lake Campground on the Buffalo Pass Road, are managed for non-motorized recreation. These areas are marked on trailhead maps and on the ground. These areas are closed to motorized users. Violations are punishable. There is a suggested non-motorized area on the northwest side of Hahns Peak (see map at 550 Trailhead. The 550 trailhead is west of the map in the Visitors' Guide).

Wilderness

The Mount Zirkel Wilderness and the Sarvis Creek Wilderness are closed to snowmobiles. Violations are punishable.

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS VISITORS' GUIDE | SKI SEASON 2021-22 | VG 69

Return for Summer

Wildflowers form the backdrop for a group ride through Routt County's back roads.

Watch real cowboys rope and ride at the Steamboat Springs Pro Rodeo Series.

Cruise along the Yampa River Core Trail on a rented bike.

Tee off while surrounded by epic views at one of Steamboat Springs' three 18-hole golf courses.

Cool off with a float down the Yampa River in a raft or tube.

Stroll among the colorful flower gardens of the Yampa River Botanic Park.

Canoe, kayak or paddleboard on serene waters at Steamboat Lake or Stagecoach State Park.

Fly fish your cares away at Casey's Pond or along the Yampa River.

Backpack into the wilderness and camp in your own patch of the outdoors.

Take a horseback trail ride through the Flat Tops or Mount Zirkel Wilderness.

Go on an off-road ATV or Jeep tour followed by a freshly made meal.

Steamboat. FULL STEAM AHEAD

Steamboat Resort is stampeding in a brave new direction towards a mountain and a base area revitalization that will transform the experience, including a new après ski plaza, new restaurants and bars, and new entertainment options. On the mountain, there will be new lifts and expert terrain, and a new learning facility with dedicated lifts and trails. In the tradition of our pioneering spirit, and out of the genuine western heritage of Steamboat, this a monumental step, full steam ahead, into the future.
