100% grass fed beef and lamb, Woodlot pork. Pastured and organically fed poultry and eggs. No chemicals or fertilizers. We believe that grass farming means placing animals in their natural environment eating food that animals have evolved to eat. This stress free setting assures you that our meat is as good as nature would allow it. In nature animals are free to search for food and roam. When they move on, their feeding areas regenerate, providing food for the future. Portable enclosures help us approximate these natural conditions while providing protection from predators, allowing our animals to live healthier lives and produce healthier meat.
