ROSAMOND GIFFORD ZOO @ BURNET PARK

The Erie Canal Museum: Located in the 1850 National Register Weighlock Building, the last remaining structure of its kind, student field trips are available year-round (Mon - Fri / 9:30a - 3p) and include a docent-led tour of the museum and time for educator-led activities. Known as one of the greatest feats of engineering in its time, the man-made Erie Canal connected the Hudson River to Lake Erie, opening New York State to an influx of trade and ease of movement.

The Everson Museum of Art: Designed by renowned architect I.M. Pei, what begins as a search for the front door becomes a journey to experience art and architecture. The Everson houses American paintings, sculpture drawings, graphics, American ceramics & more.

Onondaga Historical Association: Enjoy a guided tour of the “Heart of New York,” and an overview of the history of Onondaga County. “Freedom Bound” is the museum’s award-winning Underground Railroad exhibit featuring three of seven carved faces recovered from the basement of Syracuse’s 1846 Wesleyan Methodist Church, and this program may be presented by costumed abolitionist character Reverend Samuel May for an additional charge.

Downtown Syracuse Walking Tours: Guided tours are provided by the Erie Canal Museum and the Onondaga Historical Association, and include brochures describing Syracuse’s unique buildings and landmarks.

The Rosamond Gifford Zoo: Making history on October 24, 2022, Mali, an Asian elephant, gave birth to male elephant twins weighing in at 220 & 237 pounds. Fun Fact : Elephant twins comprise less than 1% of all elephant births worldwide! There’s a lot more to see than these adorable twin elephants — home to more than 700 animals, open 362 days a year.
