Director's Note

Whether this is your first visit or your 75th. Whether you're a summer resident or a year round member of the community. Whether you're traveling alone, with friends or with family. Whether you come for the lakes, the trails or the cranberry wine. Whether you come for the sunshine or the snow, the motorized sports, or the silent sports.... We welcome you!

For over a century, visitors have journeyed north to escape their worries and embrace the natural beauty of our small town. Join us in experiencing the world's largest chain of lakes, while helping to preserve our shorelines and ecosystems for future generations. Explore our National Forest, a serene retreat in every season. Enjoy a hike on the Sam Campbell Memorial Trail and discover the legacy of one of our area's early naturalists.

After a day on the lake, let us cook you a meal or pour you a drink in our restaurants. Spend a day exploring downtown, stop for coffee while you shop our unique stores. Pick your own berries in the summer or tour a cranberry marsh in the fall. Enjoy one of the many festivals throughout the year and come back season after season, year after year to experience all Three Lakes has to offer.

Welcome to Three Lakes

Home to the LARGEST INLAND CHAIN IN THE WORLD!

What brings YOU to Three Lakes? There are about 2,200 year-round residents who proudly call Three Lakes home. You also can find growing families and retirees who recently have made a move here, and still others whose relatives have been here for generations — some even living on roads that bear their names.

Many find Three Lakes a peaceful reprieve from life in the cities — escaping to their seasonal home or rental whenever they can. Thousands of visitors flow through our town each year to soak in our vast natural resources and recreational opportunities no matter the season.

The town of Three Lakes was named for Maple, Town Line, and Range Line Lakes, the lakes that the railroad encountered as they were shooting their line north. There are more than these three lakes to enjoy, though! Our town is surrounded by the Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest and is intertwined with the world's largest inland fresh water chain of lakes.

Twenty lakes of the 28-lake chain are within the town's borders — offering 106 miles of picturesque shoreline.

With the railroad came a robust logging industry which provided lumber for the expanding cities to our south and helped to rebuild the city of Chicago after the fire of 1871. The natural beauty of the forests and lakes could not be ignored, and by the 1930s Three Lakes became known as a vacation destination for those longing to escape crowding cities.

The population of our small town swells to over 10,000 around the Fourth of July — when we throw a party you will not soon forget. Warmer months offer outdoor activities like camping in the Nicolet, exploring recreational trails by foot, bike, or ATV, and boating, skiing, and fishing on the Chain. Snowmobiling and cross-country skiing provide a reason to return in the winter. Our quaint downtown, watering holes, and restaurants will welcome you in when you're ready to take a break.

Once you visit, Three Lakes gets in your veins. You might be beckoned back year after year, or you might be among the many to discover that this is an ideal place to raise a family, purchase a retirement home, or even start a business. Our innovative PK-12 school system, steadfast police and fire departments, and newly remodeled public library fill the needs of our community while retaining a small-town atmosphere. The heart of Three Lakes is to be a warm and resilient community, to appreciate and preserve our abundant natural resources, and to retain a deep sense of nostalgia as we plan for future generations.

Welcome to Three Lakes — for the summer, a weekend, or a lifetime.

Expanding Our Horizons: A Wealth of New Possibilities

Joining forces with TBHG empowers us to broaden our offerings, providing you access to an even wider range of premium brands and services. We're not just expanding our horizons; we're also enhancing yours. In addition to the brands you already love, we're excited to introduce you to new lines of premium watercraft.

Maintaining What You Love: Consistency Amidst Change

Rest assured, the team you trust, led by Ryan and Katie Lamon, will continue steering our ship. Their commitment to maintaining the quality and personal touch you've come to expect from us remains steadfast. While we venture into new waters, the essence of what makes us unique will remain unchanged.

Exciting New Projects on the Horizon

We're thrilled to share that our expansion includes the construction of two new storage facilities, providing more space for your beloved watercraft. Furthermore, plans are underway for a brand-new sales showroom along Highway 45. These projects are a testament to our commitment to providing you with the best possible services and facilities.

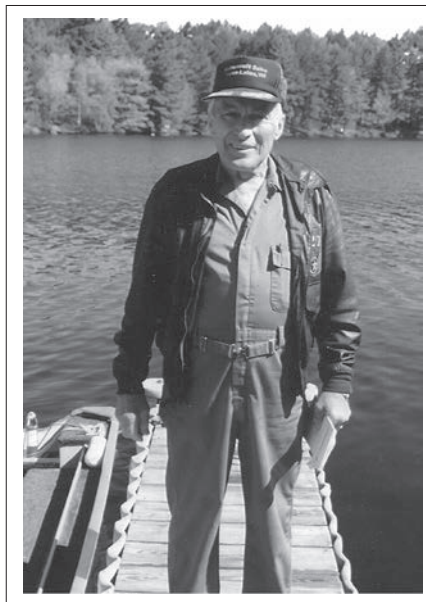

As we set sail on this new journey, we do so with a sense of optimism and excitement for what lies ahead. Thank you for being an integral part of our voyage. Here's to many more adventures on the water!

A Storied History

The history of Watercraft Sales is as rich as the waters it serves. In 1917, Jim Guterson founded the business on Island Lake, part of the Three Lakes/Eagle River Chain of 28 Lakes, to meet the growing demand for boat mechanics. Named "Watercraft Sales," it offered boat and motor sales, service, gasoline, and boat accessories. As a friend of Ole Evinrude, Guterson carried Evinrude Outboards, along with Higgins, Dodge Water Cars, Chris Craft Launches, and outboards from Rhinelander Boat Co.

Over the decades, Watercraft Sales flourished under various owners, each adding their unique touch. In 1960, John Lamon, Sr., a WWII Air Force pilot and former POW, bought the company. John's personal touch, such as servicing boats with his seaplane, is fondly remembered. His contributions led to one of the first mobile services on the Three Lakes Chain.

In 1960, John Lamon, Sr., a WWII Air Force pilot and former POW, bought the company.

After John Sr.'s passing in 1991, his son John Jr. and his wife Noreen took the helm. Under their leadership, Watercraft Sales became the oldest Nautique boat dealer globally and the first Bennington dealer in the state. The company celebrated its 100th anniversary in 2017, with John Jr. and Noreen's children continuing the family legacy.

As The Boat House Three Lakes, we honor this storied past while looking forward to an exciting future. We invite you to join us as we embark on this new chapter, filled with the same dedication to excellence and personal service that has defined us for over a century.

A Bounty of Agri-Tourism:

Taste the Freshness of Three Lakes

Visitors to Three Lakes have long enjoyed our lakes and forests, spending entire days on the water or hiking the trails. But did you know there are family farms growing fresh produce locally? Take an afternoon off the water and dive into an immersive local agriculture experience! Whether you're looking for a local farmstand to pick up veggies to grill, salad greens to enjoy or starts to plant in your own garden, a morning picking your own berries under the summer sun, or an immersive cranberry experience, let this be your guide to local agri-tourism experiences in Three Lakes!

Once full of commercial potato farms, Three Lakes is now home to Wisconsin's largest organic cranberry grower and the second largest in the US—James Lake Farms. This family-owned farm harvests approximately 2 million pounds of cranberries each fall. The marshes date back to the 1940s, with some of the original beds still in use. Cranberries are perennials, and one of the original vines from the 1940s continues to thrive. Alongside these legacy vines, James Lake Farms cultivates 14 other cranberry varieties, including native selections and hybrids.

Cranberries, one of three native fruits grown commercially in the United States, flourish in the region's naturally acidic soil. Visitors can take guided tours to learn about the history and process of cranberry farming, from planting to harvesting. In early summer, pollinator tours showcase the efforts to support the entire ecosystem. During the harvest season, guests can witness the vibrant cranberry bogs, observe the packaging process, and even participate in picking cranberries. Experience a day at James Lake Farms, where the fruit benefits both people and the land.

Follow the story of the cranberry downtown to the Three Lakes Winery. Established in 1972, this family-owned winery is famous for its cranberry wine. The story behind the winery's signature wine is rooted in the passion and innovation of its founder, John McCain.

Back in the 1960s, John made various wines as a hobby. His cranberry wine, in particular, received rave reviews from friends, which encouraged him to turn his hobby into a profession. "John made various wines as a hobby, and when he had friends over to try them, the honest feedback was always raving when it came to the cranberry wine," says a representative from the winery. This dream led John to move his family from California to Wisconsin, where 2 out of 3 cranberries in the US are grown.

Today, Three Lakes Winery offers tastings of their unique fruit wines seven days a week. Unlike other fruit wineries, this wine is made using whole fruit without additional flavorings or juices—a difference you can taste! Built in 1880, our historic tasting room is located within the Chicago and Northwestern train depot in Downtown Three Lakes. During tastings, you can sample up to six wines for free, although choosing a favorite may be challenging! The friendly and knowledgeable staff, along with a variety of award-winning wines, cute gifts, and specialty foods, make every visit special.

The growing season in Three Lakes may be short, but that doesn't stop our local family farms from growing an abundance of produce! Head just north of town to Clearwater Farms where you pick your own strawberries, honeyberries, blueberries and raspberries. The Leach family also offers grass fed and finished beef. Located just a short drive from Three Lakes in Sugar Camp, Evergood Farm practices organic growing methods and offers a wide variety of vegetables, herbs, and flowers. In the spring, purchase seed starts for your garden. All summer, visit the roadside farm stand, open each Friday, for the season's best bounty. Want to get even more involved at Evergood? Stay in the farm apartment, volunteer your time, or book a tour! Also in Sugar Camp, Camp Four Farm offers a truly picturesque pick your own experience. You'll find organically grown blueberries and aronia berries in the summer, apples in the fall and Christmas trees in the winter.

Whether you're tasting a glass of cranberry wine, picking fresh strawberries, or exploring the life of a cranberry bog, Three Lakes offers a rich and diverse agritourism experience. Embrace the opportunity to connect with nature, support local farmers, and savor the flavors of the Northwoods.

CHEQUAMEGON-NICOLET NATIONAL FOREST

Some of the best trails in Northern Wisconsin await you in the Chequamegon- Nicolet National Forest. These trails take you on a delightful tour of the northwoods to remote lakes and streams, breath- taking overlooks, or spend a day in one of the several designated wilderness areas. Wildlife watchers will enjoy the forest’s abundant wildlife. With over 1,180 miles of trails open to the public, each season offers a new experience for activities such as hiking, mountain biking, cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, horseback riding, snowmobiling and ATVing. Information on area trail locations and features is available by calling the National Forest Service in Eagle River at 715-479-2828.

Camping: Grab your camping gear and head to the Nicolet.

There are many developed campgrounds in the Nicolet National Forest. Experience the great Northwoods atmosphere as you camp along the shore of one of our picturesque lakes or streams. For more information, visit www.forestcamping.com.

THREE LAKES NATURE TRAILS

Most of the Three Lakes Trails were founded by our town’s distinguished past naturalists: Sam Campbell, who came to be known as the philosopher of the forest; Walt Goldsworthy, who was called the Thoreau of Three Lakes; and Carl Marty, who was hailed as Mr. Conservation. They have inspired three generations of nature lovers from all over the country. Stop at either the Three Lakes Library or Historical Museum to find out more about them and read their inspiring words.

HIKING

■ ARGONNE EXPERIMENTAL FOREST TRAIL

Since 1946, the Argonne Experimental Forest has been managed by the Forest Service as a living laboratory to study methods for managing northern hardwoods. Located off Hwy 32, about 12 miles East of Three Lakes on Experimental Road (FR 2184), this 1/2 mile interpretive trail passes through nine study areas where you can learn about different cutting methods and their effects. The trail features 17 informational signs.

■ BAILEY LAKE EQUESTRIAN TRAIL

Enjoy this trail from high in the saddle. Take your horse on a slow trot through a tall, red pine forest over what was once a logging road and railroad grade at the turn of the century. Early loggers used a combination of horse drawn sleds and trains to haul timber from the woods. Parts of this trail are used as a snowmobile route from December through March. The trail is located on level, flat terrain, and follows snowmobile trail and forest roads for most of the trail length. Highlines and hitching racks are available at the trailhead. Camping is allowed at the trailhead where a large group fire ring and a few picnic tables are located. Use of certified weed-free hay is required on all National Forest Lands.

■ ECHO LAKE

The Military Road north from Hwy 32 or south from Hwy 70 to Butternut Lake Road. Follow Butternut Lake Road to FR2460. Turn north on FR2460 about .10 mi. to single car pullouts and park. Head east into the site, there are no established trails. You are invited to wander the area and enjoy the sights and sounds of the old growth hemlock-hardwood forest situated on rolling moraines. This site is one of the oldest and least disturbed in the Nicolet. Most of the stand is dominated by large hemlock (to 45 inches in diameter) with yellow birch, and sugar maple. The mature forest provides nesting habitat for numerous neotropical migrant birds including the black-throated blue warbler.

■ FRANKLIN LAKE INTERPRETIVE TRAIL & ADJACENT TRAILS

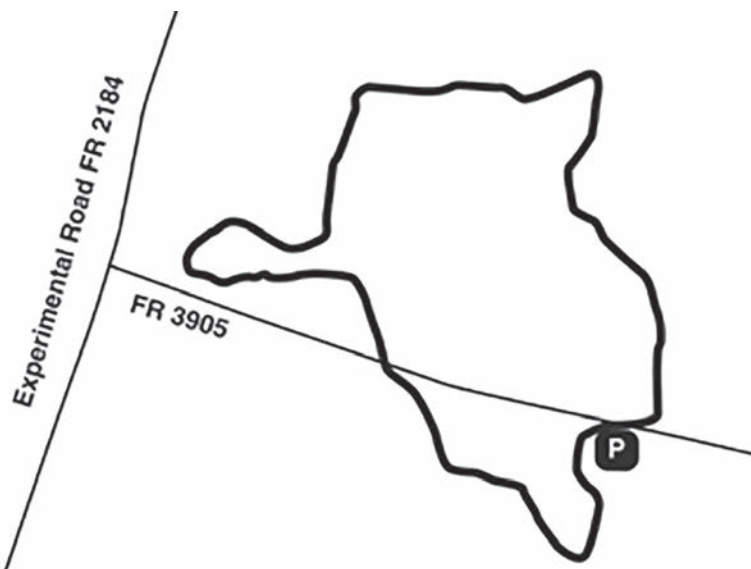

At the northern terminus of the Military-Butternut Lake Road Scenic Byway is the Franklin Lake Campground and Interpretive Trail. The campground has magnificent stone and log cabins, pavilions, and fireplaces, all constructed by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the 1930s and now on the National Register of Historic Places.

The mile-long interpretive trail, meanders through what has come to be known as the Hemlock Cathedral—a virgin stand of immense Hemlock and White Pine. Walt Goldsworthy, the US Forest Service's naturalist, was once the resident naturalist and would guide Trail walks.

From the Trail, one can continue on the thirteen-mile Hidden Lakes Trail, with its scenic vistas overlooking small lakes and its section through a breathtaking stand of great Hemlocks. Another option is the six-mile trail leading to the Anvil Lake Trail complex.

■ LUNA-WHITE DEER TRAIL

From Eagle River travel 13.4 miles on Hwy 70 East to FR 2176 (Divide Road). Turn right (south) and continue 5.6 miles to FR 2188. Turn right and travel 0.7 miles to the campground. Hike along the shorelines of both Luna and White Deer Lakes on this tranquil 4 mile loop, adjacent to Luna-White Deer Campground. Bring your binoculars because you'll likely catch sight of loons on one of these lakes. Both of the crystal clear, undeveloped lakes present a setting hikers can enjoy.

Bailey Lake Equestrian Trail

HIDDEN LAKE TRAIL

Looking for adventure? Put on your hiking boots and try the Hidden Lakes Trail. It is a long distance trail providing the chance for an overnight campout by a small remote lake. Begin your hike on the Franklin Lake Interpretive Trail. The Hidden Lakes Trail begins at the T intersection about a half mile from the parking lot and loops to the south around Butternut Lake, passing Luna-White Deer Lake Campground and then back west and north to Franklin Lake Campground. Sites along the way include several small lakes with scenic vistas and remarkable stand of old hemlock trees. Camp along the way near one of the small lakes or at either of the developed campgrounds.

NICOLET NORTH TRAIL

From Eagle River, take State Highway 70 east for 11 miles to Fournier Road (FR 2460). Turn right and go south about 3 miles to the parking lot on the right, which accommodates 5 vehicles. This is a favorite trail for cross-country skiers, hikers, and mountain bike enthusiasts. Fifteen miles of trail are groomed and tracked in winter for skiing (traditional-style as well as ski- skating style). The Nicolet North Trail is connected to the Anvil National Recreation Trail. In addition, part of the Hidden Lakes Trail follows some of this trail. The trail meanders through old growth hemlocks and by several small lakes that are great for wildlife viewing, like Pat Shay Lake and Echo Lake.

SAM CAMPBELL MEMORIAL TRAIL

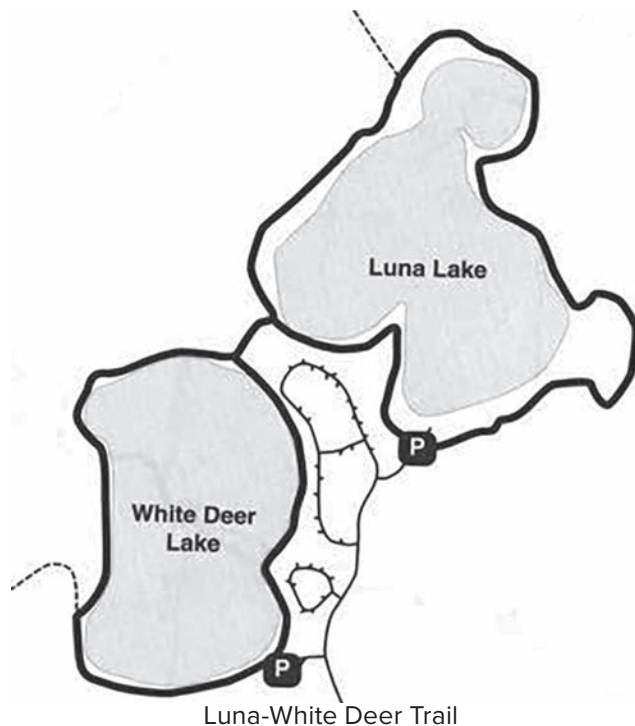

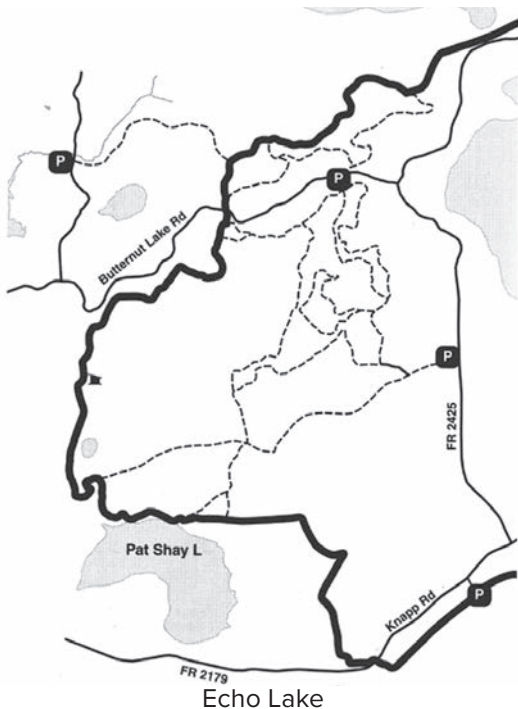

Four-plus miles north on Military Road (Forest Road 2178), then left another mile on Old Military Road (Forest Road 2207), brings you to the Sam Campbell Memorial Forest and Hiking Trail Complex. Sam Campbell had established a series of interconnected trails on the mainland just north of his island sanctuary on Fourmile Lake, which he named Sunset Trail, Friendship Trail, Chapel Trail, and Vanishing Lake Trail. They were the current Trail's predecessors. There are self- guiding maps and signs along the Trail. A section of the Trail leads to Wegimind Point and Vanishing Lake, which are featured in a number of Sam's writings. The entire Trail is three miles long and meanders through a forest of Pine, Fir, Cedar, Spruce, and hardwoods.

SCOTT LAKE AND GIANT WHITE PINE TRAILS

Scott Lake Trail: Eight miles east of Three Lakes lies the Headwaters Wilderness. Just into the Wilderness, on the north side of Scott Lake Road (Forest Road 2183) is Shelp Lake. A short trail winds from the parking area through a grove of ancient Hemlocks, then out on a boardwalk over the bog surrounding the lake. Here is a great opportunity to keep your feet dry while getting a close-up look at bog plants and animals. Scott Lake, which is blanketed with wild rice, is found on the opposite side of the road. Directly across Scott Lake Road is the access to the Scott Lake Trail that circles through a stand of towering White and Red Pine, Hemlock, and Yellow Birch that are hundreds of years old for about 1 mile. A Research Natural Area, it gives an authentic feel for what the Northwoods was like before the logging era.

THREE EAGLE TRAIL

Connecting the communities of Three Lakes and Eagle River, this pedestrian and biking pathway begins at Don Burnside Park in Three Lakes and continues north to the restored railway depot in Eagle River. Shortly after exiting the park, the trail follows the former Chicago & Northwestern rail grade for 3.5 miles, then heads west on an exceptionally scenic route through mixed upland forest and wetlands. Boardwalks take you over a cranberry bog and through a black spruce swamp, then you cross a bridge over Mud Creek.

At mile 8.4, the packed limestone surface temporarily ends, and the route continues north on Sundstein Road for 1.2 miles, then east on Section 9 Road for .25 miles. There the limestone trail resumes its northerly direction through a beautiful woodland. A highlight along this stretch, at mile marker 10.5, is the Four Women Boardwalk: a 660 foot long structure that spans Mud Creek and its widening flood plain. The trail rejoins the old railroad grade near mile 11 and follows it to mile 12.7, just south of the depot on Railroad Street in Eagle River.

Canoeing & Kayaking

With thousands of lakes and numerous rivers there is no shortage of paddling opportunities in the Northwoods. Canoeing and kayaking are always an adventure and there is a lot to explore.

Canoe and kayak rentals are available at Three Lakes Hardware & Rental in downtown Three Lakes. For information, call 715-546-3680. Find out more about outdoor life in the Northwoods at www.ThreeLakes.com.

CRYSTAL CREEK PADDLING TRAIL

This could be a point to point, or up and back trip depending on your planning. Consulting a map is recommended. Three- plus miles east of Three Lakes, a bridge on Highway 32 crosses the channel that connects Deer Lake to the south with Big Stone Lake to the north. Just south of the bridge, on the west shore of Deer Lake, stood Carl Marty's original Northernaire Hotel (which is now replaced by the new Northernaire Resort). Sixty years ago, a pontoon boat called the Wilderness Queen left three times an afternoon for two-hour excursions described by Walt Goldsworthy, the tour's guide, thusly: "You enter this last bit of primeval wilderness through the scenic portals which guard the entrance of Crystal Creek, a sequestered stretch of wilderness antiquity that echoes the romance of past ages. Recently re-discovered, this long-forgotten waterway which once felt the touch of the canoe paddle of the passing Indian and pioneer trapper, has caught the fancy of modern day adventurers." A boat launch is located on the east end of Big Stone Lake.

Today, you can retrace the route by canoe or kayak. Although much of the shoreline is now developed, Nature's splendor is still there to behold. From the Highway 32 bridge, paddle south on Deer Lake one mile, to the southwest bay of Deer Lake, to the confluence with Lower Crystal Creek (on the right). One mile up stream enter Crystal Lake. After paddling the length of the lake, you may take out at the town boat landing. If water levels allow, you can paddle under the Hwy 45 bridge and upstream about 1 mile to an old railroad grade.

Auto Tours

MILITARY-BUTTERNUT LAKE ROAD SCENIC BYWAY

Military Road 5 miles east on Hwy 32, Three Lakes, with its many bends and rises, along with the tunnel effect created by the overhead tree canopy, it makes one feel like a gnome entering an enchanted forest. From an Indian path called the Lake Superior Trail, to a military supply route in the War of 1812, to today's bicycle- motor vehicle route, Military Road has had a long and vibrant history. In the heyday of Carl Marty's Northernaire, tour buses left daily for chartered wilderness tours via Military Road. In 1992, the ten-mile section of the road that runs north from Highway 32 was designated a Heritage Scenic Byway. Walt Goldsworthy, who guided many motor tours on Military Road, worked for thirty years to secure the designation. Butternut Lake Road was designed specifically to inform people by highlighting the ancient Hemlock Forest and undulating glacial landscape through which it winds. With its stellar natural features, and being lightly traveled, the Byway has become a favorite biking route.

THREE LAKES/EAGLE RIVER AUTO TOUR

If you are looking for a longer scenic ride, try the Three Lakes/Eagle River Self-Guided Auto Tour. This auto tour was created to highlight the variety of scenic and historic points of interest in the Eagle River Ranger District area. You'll experience a varied, forested landscape and a number of historic spots with informational signs along the way. Don't forget the featured last stop at the Historical Society Museum in Three Lakes. Pick up an auto tour brochure at the Eagle River Ranger Station; it gives directions and describes each of the stops on the route. The tour is about 80 miles long and takes one 4-5 hours to drive and enjoy.

EAGLE RIVER HEADWATERS PADDLING TRAIL

This is a start and return route. The put-in is at the National Forest boat ramp at the end of Frogson Landing Road about 6 miles east of Three Lakes, just south of Hwy 32. After paddling from the boat ramp, turn right heading down stream on the thoroughfare. In about ¼ mile, just after a slow no wake buoy, take a hard left. You are now heading up stream on the Eagle River. The river has a deep channel with many meanders through alders and marsh grasses bordered almost exclusively by national forest land. After a little over 4 1/2 miles, a large beaver dam blocks the river. This is a good stopping point since you have to paddle about 2-2 1/2 hours back to the boat ramp. However, the river does continue on for several more miles through mostly public lands toward the sub-continental divide. Several more beaver dams are possible. A long-abandoned logging era railroad grade is crossed by the river several times. Ultimately, the river disappears into the forest without sufficient water levels to continue.

JULIA-VIRGIN-WHITEFISH LAKES PADDLING TRAIL

Going east of Three Lakes on Hwy 32, turn left on Lake Julia Road. Follow it straight to the boat landing on Julia Lake. This is a private boat landing, please use respectfully. No facilities are available. Paddle north-east about half way up the west side of the lake. At the end of the bay on your left is the outflow of the lake, Julia Creek. All the land is private along the creek. As you follow the meandering creek downstream, watch for the remains of a wooden bridge built by the Thunder Lake Lumber Company for their locomotives hauling logs to the sawmill.

After passing through the Highway 32 culvert, you enter Virgin Lake. Across the lake is a peaceful state-owned island, where you may stop for a restful interlude and admire the old-growth trees the early loggers left stand. Please note that fires and overnight camping are not allowed on the island. Leaving the island, paddle to the south end of the lake and enter the outflow stream. As you do, you'll see another old Thunder Lake Lumber Company railroad bed and trestle remains. Following the gently meandering stream, you'll once again slip under Hwy 32, only this time into Whitefish Lake.

Keep to the right-hand shore, and again you'll pass under Hwy 32, this time into the Thoroughfare. In season, observe the lush stands of wild rice on either side of you. This was a staple crop of the Native Americans who lived in the area, and now may be harvested by Wisconsin residents each fall.

Takeout is on the right-hand side about one quarter mile downstream, at the landing on Frogson Landing Road. Or, continue onto an alternative takeout at East Big Lake Loop Road Landing, just before the bridge and immediately upstream of Big Lake.

UPPER PINE RIVER PADDLING TRAIL

Paddle the upper portion of one of Wisconsin's three originally designated Wild Rivers. Just downstream from the nationally designated headwaters wilderness area, the Pine River flows gently, meandering through mostly undeveloped, public northern forest. It flows passed beaver dams and over Wildcat Rapids.

Take Hwy 32 east then turn left on Military Rd., then a right on Sheltered Valley Rd. which becomes Pine River Rd. and finally left on NF2177. The put-in is where NF2177 crosses over the Pine River. Here, there once stood a logging- era sluice dam. Because of the deep and hard-bottomed original river channel, this portion of the Pine River can be paddled all season. Water levels, though adequate, will determine if beaver dams, the occasional downed tree or Wildcat Rapids can be negotiated. There is a portage trail along the left side of the rapids for non-whitewater paddlers. Takeout is at the Hwy 55 Bridge. Depending on water and skill levels, the trip can take from 4 to 6 hours.

Three Lakes Parks

The Town of Three Lakes through the guidance of the Park Commission operates and maintains five distinct areas for recreation and reflection. These areas offer multiple opportunities for activities such as tennis, pickleball, soccer, baseball, softball, horse riding, swimming, fishing, and a golf driving range. Picnic tables, outdoor grills, and bathroom facilities are located throughout the Park System.

Our multi-use, well-maintained parks, have been created through citizen input and suggestions, public and private contributions, and volunteers. Submit suggestions to the Three Lakes Town office at 715-546-3316.

■ CY WILLIAMS PARK

Named in honor of the late professional baseball player and community leader provides a quieter side to the community. A gazebo is available for weddings, and musical events. It's a prime location for concerts, fun at the playground, and the holiday tree lighting/Santa, or just a place to pass time.

Three Lakes Beach is located at the north end of the park with a picnic shelter and bathhouse. Just down the road on Lake Street the Maple Lake fishing pier is available for the angler of all ages. The beach and pier are maintained in cooperation with the Three Lakes Wildlife Association.

■ DON BURNSIDE PARK

Provides a true recreation area for all sports. Named after Don Burnside, a long time Park Board President who provided endless hours of community support. Here you will find our ball diamonds, tennis courts, 6 pickleball courts (hosting our annual July tournament), soccer fields, playground area, and driving range.

Our high school and youth programs utilize this park for their year round programs. A large pavilion is available for family reunions, awards ceremonies, and meetings. It plays host to the annual 4th of July party with music, non-profit vendors, and night time fireworks as well as the annual Fireman's Picnic. Memory Lane is adjacent to the pavilion providing a location for planting trees or shrubs in memory of family, friends, or community patrons. The park's major fundraiser, the Northwoods Baseball Classic, was founded in 2017 and is the premier annual youth baseball tournament in Northern Wisconsin.

■ PHYLLIS B. FELLAND MEMORIAL WATER SKI PARK

Provides waterskiing opportunities for our area youth. Local citizens and summer residents can take advantage of this area located on Big Stone Lake by joining the local ski club. The club operates shows throughout the summer providing entertainment as well as teaching waterskiing safety.

Snowshoeing is allowed on the Three Eagle Trail within the park unit. From big boulders at the "Rocks" to the alpine-esque "Frieda's Meadow" it's a great way to spend an hour or a day "Exploring. ..."

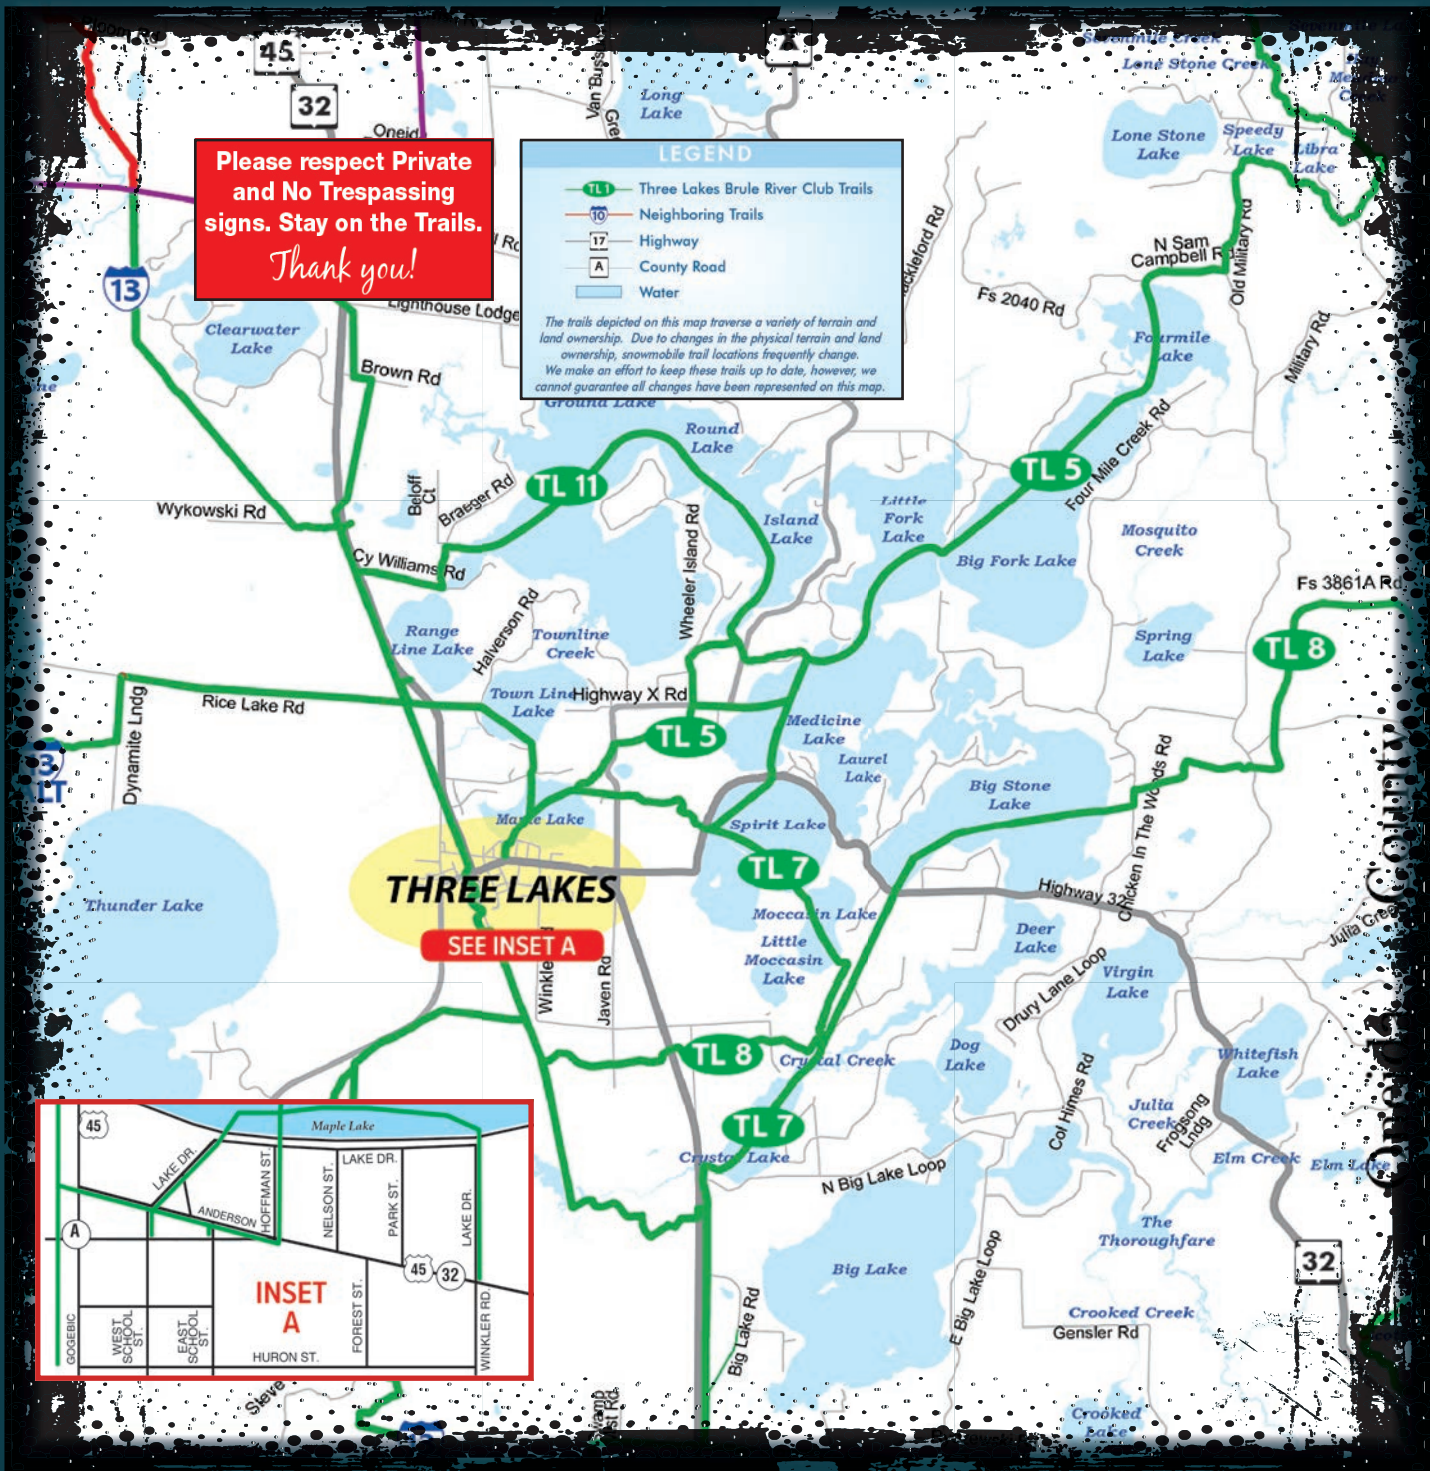

Tara Lila's Sundstein Road Unit: Welcome to where it all started. The 650+ acre Sundstein Road Unit was our first conservancy park unit and the site of the first Snowshoe Celebration. The expansive park features miles of rustic trail and hosts the Three Eagle Trail from Sundstein Road to the Black Spruce Boardwalk. The Green, Red, and White Tara trails offer snowshoe opportunities for both the novice and the more adventurous.

■ THREE EAGLE TRAIL

In snow season, 5 miles of the Trail (from miles 3.5 to 8.4) is groomed for cross-country skiing. From the Sundstein Road and Section 9 Road trailheads, some spectacular hiking and snowshoe trails through the neighboring woodlands of Tara Lila can be accessed. More detailed maps are available at the trailhead.

Snowmobile TRAILS

Three Lakes offers some of the best snowmobiling in the state! With 132 miles of state-funded trails plus 54 more miles of locally funded trails, every day is sure to bring you a new adventure.

Method Culinary Services: Crafting Culinary Excellence in Three Lakes

Chef Jamie Cline, originally from Augusta, Georgia, found his way to Three Lakes in the summer of 2015 to assist with the reopening of Black Forest. After years here, his culinary journey took him to various locations, including Savannah and Maine, where he soaked up diverse perspectives and honed his skills. After marrying in the fall of 2019 and gaining valuable experience, Chef Jamie returned to Three Lakes in 2021, drawn by the area's natural beauty and community spirit. "I really like the area. It's like paradise," he says.

In 2022, Chef Jamie launched Method Culinary Services, seizing the unique opportunity presented by the (temporary) closure of Black Forest to reimagine his culinary vision. His goal is simple yet profound: to learn the methods and techniques that are the foundation for making exceptional food. "It's not about money or looking cool. It's about using tools, creating things with your hands, and continuing to learn how to cook good food," Jamie says. "That learning never ends. It's very hard work, and I love that about cooking."

Method Culinary offers a range of services, including private parties and events, cooking classes and weekly meal services. They specialize in family-style meals for up to 30 people and three-course meals for up to twenty. Chef Jamie's ideal clients are adventurous individuals willing to break away from the ordinary. He will take the time to craft a special meal, for you and your guests right in the comfort of your home. You get to go along on the culinary journey with Jamie. "I come to your house, and you see the passion and work ethic while I'm working in your home. Then, you taste the passion in the food," he shares. Past clients have included family reunions, wedding parties, birthdays, anniversaries, and other special occasions. Chef Jamie describes his approach as that of a culinary craftsman. "Whatever I make will be good, and I'll put my all into it," he asserts. He is committed to sourcing local ingredients, believing in the incredible quality of produce grown in Wisconsin. "Everything grown in Wisconsin is worth sourcing," he says. "The ingredients are so good here; it makes my job easy."

The charm of Three Lakes plays a significant role in Chef Jamie's dedication to his craft. "Three Lakes is a wholesome small town, and it's great to be a part of it and contribute to the business community," he notes. The area's natural beauty provides constant inspiration. "The natural world is the most inspiring, and Three Lakes is beautiful. It makes it easy to be inspired and do my job."

Through Method Culinary, Chef Jamie aims to grow and expand the palates of the Northwoods culinary community. His passion for using high-quality local ingredients and dedication to his craft ensures that every meal is a unique and memorable experience for his clients. Find out more about what Jamie's cooking, where to find him, and how to book your own in-home culinary experience at <http://methodculinaryservices.com>.

The Hollow Tree: Revitalizing Three Lakes with Flavor and Community Spirit

In 2017, the Pike family moved to Three Lakes to take over Pine Isle, a beloved local institution. For generations, the Pikes had vacationed and visited family friends in the area, so the transition felt natural. After seven years of maintaining Pine Isle's traditions, they passed it to new ownership but remained eager to contribute to the Three Lakes community. Recognizing a need for a quick and easy dining option for both tourists and residents, they found their opportunity in the old Dairy Queen building, which had been vacant for over a decade. This summer, they proudly introduce The Hollow Tree, a pizza and ice cream shop that also provides kitchen space for catering all your special events.

Nestled in the heart of Three Lakes, Wisconsin, The Hollow Tree offers a warm welcome to all. The fully remodeled space hosts three distinct businesses:

Pi Pizza Company: The Pikes knew their unique Roma style pizza had a strong following, so they brought it with them to The Hollow Tree and Pi Pizza Company was born. "We took our inspiration from homemade pizza at Grandma's kitchen table. After taking elements from other types of pizza including Detroit and Roma-style pizza, we came up with our signature crust featuring simple ingredients that come together to make something magical," said Josh Pike.

At Pi Pizza, their carry-out pizza counter makes dinner a snap. With convenient online ordering, you can be sure your pizza will be hot and ready when you need it. Par-baked and take & bake pizzas are also available. Order via the Toast app or their website find them on socials at @pipizzaco_3lakes

Endless Summer Frozen Treats: Create your perfect dessert by combining one of their soft-serve or frozen yogurt flavors with an enticing buffet of toppings. Whether you prefer soft serve ice cream, frozen yogurt or non-dairy dole whips, Endless Summer has the perfect frozen treat, topped just how you want it. They also feature a cooler full of drinks and mini donuts on the weekends! Find them on the socials at @endlesssummer_3lakes

Hollow Tree Hospitality: Specializing in catering for events big and small, they help bring your vision to life. Hollow Tree Hospitality's catering service offers a diverse culinary perspective. From Prime Rib dinners to Pig Roasts, their offerings are limited only by the client's imagination. This summer, they feature upscale barbecue, fish fries, taco nights, and homestyle picnics, often using local ingredients to ensure fresh and flavorful dishes. They also offer bulk selections for pickup, including house-smoked pork butts and slow-roasted Italian beef. Visit them online at @hollowtree_events_3lakes

The Pikes' decision to refurbish a building in downtown Three Lakes was driven by both nostalgia and community spirit. The old Dairy Queen held cherished memories of Dilly Bars and hot dogs, shared by many seasonal visitors and locals. When the property came on the market, they saw its potential and knew it could be a great opportunity. Despite the extensive renovation required—leaking roof, outdated plumbing, electrical and HVAC systems, water damage, and a compromised foundation—they collaborated with local contractors and invested their own efforts to transform the space. The result is a revitalized venue that brings new energy to the heart of downtown. The Pikes have ambitious plans for continued improvement of property, including an outdoor patio area designed to become a hub for special events.

The Pike family is excited to continue their journey in Three Lakes, bringing new life to a once-empty building and offering delicious food and community-focused services. They look forward to welcoming everyone to The Tree.
