Alaska's Adventure Corridor

All roads lead to Valdez.

DRIVE: Proclaimed as one of “America’s Most Scenic Roads” and known to Alaskans as the “Adventure Corridor,” the drive to Valdez from Fairbanks, Tok, and Anchorage provides breathtaking views of glaciers, waterfalls, towering mountains and incredible scenery. The picturesque Glenn Highway and Richardson Highway converge along the nation’s largest national park — the Wrangell-St. Elias — holding nine of the 16 tallest peaks in the U.S.

Whether driving from Anchorage, Tok, or Fairbanks, the community of Glennallen provides gas, food and lodging needs before continuing on to the Richardson Highway. Watch for the sign to Worthington Glacier, one of Alaska’s most accessible glaciers, when driving through the breathtaking Thompson Pass.

Be ready to pull over and take in the majesty of the awe-inspiring Keystone Canyon, where cascading waterfalls greet you from towering canyon walls just before entering Valdez.

FLY: Take a short 45-minute flight from Anchorage. Daily flights offer spectacular views of the coastal Chugach Mountains, vast glacial ice fields and the beautiful Prince William Sound.

TAKE THE FERRY: With frequent service in the summer, The Alaska Marine Highway is an exciting and beautiful way to travel to Valdez and experience the majestic Prince William Sound. The Marine Highway offers service throughout the year to all three major coastal Prince William Sound communities. Expand your itinerary by including a visit to Cordova.

History and Culture

Valdez has amazingly rich history that has shaped the community that exists today, as well as played an important role in the development of the great state of Alaska.

Valdez's humble beginnings laid the foundation for transportation within the state. Valdez has been integral to transportation development within the state and has served as the gateway to Prince William Sound and the Interior.

Everything including the layout of our streets and the look of our buildings reminds us of events from our past. With the destruction of our community after the 1964 Earthquake, Valdez had the opportunity to plan the layout of streets and buildings which was unheard of at that time. Most communities simply take shape as they grow.

Fires and snow removal and storage had a big impact on the outcome, which is no surprise considering an average of 300 inches fall on the city annually. The current architecture reminds us that we are a new, rebuilt community. The terminus of the 800 mile Trans-Alaska Pipeline rests on the South side of the Port of Valdez and can be viewed from any shoreside point in the City.

The oil spill of 1989 caused an influx of people to Valdez to help with the clean up efforts. During this time new buildings were erected. The building that housed the command center is now one of our hotels. All of these aspects are constant reminders to residents and visitors of how much we have overcome.

VALDEZ HISTORICAL TIMELINE

PRIOR TO 1778 The territory south of Valdez belonged to the Chugach (pronounced "chew-gach") Eskimo, a maritime hunting people and the land to the north is that of the Ahtna. The Chugach and Ahtna used the area around Valdez for fishing and trading copper, jade, hides, and other furs.

1778 Captain Cook sailed into the Sound in 1778, naming it Sandwich Sound after his patron, the Earl of Sandwich. The editors of Cook's maps renamed the sound after Prince William IV.

1790 Spanish cartographer Lt. Salvador Fidalgo was sent to Alaska to investigate Russian involvement and to establish the Spanish claim in the area. The exploratory party was the first to approach Columbia Glacier and then ventured down the Valdez Arm.

1800 Russians, during their ownership did little exploring of the Sound; they were primarily interested in amassing sea otter pelts. Nuchek, on Hinch in brook Island became the center for trade in the Prince William Sound area, between Russians and the Alaskan natives.

1897 Gold seekers came to Valdez to follow the "All-American Route" over the Valdez Glacier into the Interior. A tent city sprang up at the head of the bay; thus Valdez was formed.

1899 In the late summer and fall of 1898, Abercrombie's men had begun cutting a rough trail through Keystone Canyon and over Thompson Pass. In the Spring the Army approved the route as the new military trail to Eagle.

1900 Valdez was recognized as a strategic location for communications and defense. The Army built Fort Liscum at the site present Alyeska Pipeline, Terminal and laid a telegraph line connect Washington to Alaska, bypassing Canada for the first time.

1900-1920 Once the rush to the Klondike subsided, prospectors concentrated on gold, copper, and silver deposits on the islands and shores of Prince William Sound. The most profitable mines near Valdez were the Cliff Gold Mine, about 5 miles east of Valdez, and the Midas Mine, in nearby Solomon Gulch.

1919 The Keystone Canyon Trail became the Richardson Highway, Alaska's first highway and served as the only viable inland route to Fairbanks. Valdez became the coastal port for the majority of traffic going into and out of the interior.

1923-1929 Fort Liscum closed and was obtained in 1929 by the Day family, who renamed it Dayville. The Day's prospected the land, ran a cannery, a sawmill, a school, and a store at the old military site.

1940 Valdez was a major port for military freight during World War II.

1964 On Marc 27, 1964 (Good Friday) at 5:36 pm, a 9.2 earthquake lasting over 4 minutes struck 45 miles West of Valdez. The quake triggered an underwater landslide creating tremendous waves that washed away the Valdez waterfront, drowning 30 people on the dock and 3 men on the steamer 'Chena.'

1967 Town of Valdez condemned when it was discovered it was built on unstable ground. Town was relocated to present site. 52 buildings were moved 4 miles East.

1973 Congress approved the plans for the Trans-Alaska Oil Pipeline with it's Southern terminus at Valdez. The town's population soared.

1989 March 24 (Good Friday), the tanker Exxon Valdez struck Bligh reef, approximately 25 miles outside of Valdez causing the largest oil spill in North American history.

Prepare to be Amazed

Imagine being near the face of calving glaciers watching huge chunks of ice fall into the ocean as the rumbling crack of breaking ice fills the air. Whether you charter a helicopter, take a boat, kayak, or hike, Valdez has many accessible, breathtaking glaciers to explore. Some of the main glaciers include...

COLUMBIA GLACIER is the second largest tidewater glacier in North America and the largest in Prince William Sound. Navigate through chunks of glacial ice on wildlife cruises or kayak day trips, or take a helicopter ride to see the wonders of Columbia Glacier.

MEARES GLACIER is very unique. While most glaciers throughout the world are retreating, Meares Glacier is one of the only advancing tidewater glaciers in North America. It is located at the head of the Unakwik Inlet in Prince William Sound. Hop aboard a day boat cruise and get a quarter mile from the face of Meares Glacier. See an abundance of whales and other wildlife along the way.

SHOUP GLACIER is tucked away in Shoup Bay and is accessible by boat, kayak, and helicopter or on foot. Experienced hikers can take the 8.5-mile hike to Shoup Bay for fabulous views and an amazing kittiwake rookery. Please check on current conditions of trail before hiking.

VALDEZ GLACIER is located on the outskirts of Valdez and is full of amazing history. Known as the All American Route, gold seekers traveled over the glacier into the interior of Alaska during the Gold Rush of 1898. In the summer, Valdez Glacier can be accessed by kayak with one of our experienced local adventure companies. At certain times during the winter, you can hike, ski or snowmobile to the face of the glacier.

WORTHINGTON GLACIER is one of the most accessible glaciers in Alaska. Located in Thompson Pass, just off the Richardson Highway, this glacier is a must-see if you're driving in or out of Valdez. Watch for the turnout area to the glacier, park your vehicle, and then walk up to the glacier for an up-close experience.

THE NATURAL BEAUTY and breathtaking wildlife in Valdez creates the perfect playground for abundant activities and adventure throughout the year. Valdez is home to the Prince William Sound — a mix of tidewater glaciers, rainforests, and mountains. Wild animals, birds and nature flourish here. Come visit Valdez and experience your own Alaskan adventure.

Nature and Wildlife

Wildlife is abundant and natural beauty exudes in Valdez and the surrounding area. Both black and brown bears live here, and are frequently seen wandering about eating their fill of fish and berries. Watch for eagles, terns, ptarmigan, puffins and many other birds. The Prince William Sound is full of amazing wildlife and incredible scenery. It's common to spot seals, sea lions, Dall porpoise, puffins, humpback whales and Orcas in this picturesque area. Pack your camera and your binoculars and come visit Valdez to see all the wildness and beauty of Alaska—all in one place.

Local Hiking Trails

Valdez boasts some of the most scenic and historic trails in Alaska. Ranging from various lengths and difficulty levels, our trails are sure to please most everyone.

Dock Point Trail, a one-mile round trip hike located next to the small boat harbor, offers a beautiful view overlooking the Port of Valdez and the Alyeska Oil Terminal. Or, choose the more difficult Shoup Bay Trail that leads to the breathtaking Shoup Bay Glacier. See an amazing Kittiwake Rookery along the way (please check on conditions of this trail before hiking).

Mineral Creek Canyon is an extremely popular, six-mile gravel road that gradually winds its way through a majestic mountain canyon with magnificent cascading waterfalls virtually everywhere you look. Hike in as far as you like or go all the way to the end of the trail and see an abandoned gold-stamp mill.

The John Hunter Memorial Trail begins in a beautiful coastal spruce forest and steadily becomes steeper before merging with the Alyeska Pipeline Maintenance Road. This trail offers spectacular views of the Port of Valdez, mountains, glaciers and more. You know you're at the end of the trail when you reach Solomon Lake and its' two dams.

More information can be found on our website at www.valdezalaska.org.

There are many more hikes to be found on the map on page 24; look for this symbol:

Land of Waterfalls

For all you thrill seekers looking for waterfalls, Valdez, Alaska has some of the most breathtaking waterfalls in the world. With more than 27 feet of average snow fall during the winter, Valdez becomes The Land of Waterfalls when the snow melts in the spring and summer time. Countless waterfalls cascade down almost every mountain side in Valdez.

When driving into Valdez, you will pass through Keystone Canyon; a place of spectacular waterfalls, magnificent geology and fascinating history. Horsetail Falls and Bridal Veil Falls cascade over towering canyon walls, greeting travelers from above. Keystone Canyon is located at miles 14 through 17 on the Richardson Highway.

There are various ways to get up close to these spectacular waterfalls: drive through the Keystone Canyon and park at one of the pull-outs to take beautiful photos; raft or kayak the Lowe River which runs directly in front of Bridal Veil Falls; or hike through the 1.8-mile Keystone Canyon Pack Trail that puts hikers above the Bridal Veil Falls and Keystone Canyon for a breathtaking birds-eye view. Ice climb the magnificent frozen waterfalls in the winter time.

Once you've entered the town of Valdez, hike one of our many trails where spectacular waterfalls can be enjoyed.

Tours and Attractions

THERE ARE A PLETHORA of year-round activities to do in Valdez, one of the prettiest places in Alaska. If you're looking to escape into the respite of Mother Nature, Valdez is the place to be. Valdez is home to many glaciers that can be accessed by boat cruises, vehicles, walking, helicopter, snowmobiles, snowshoeing, and kayaks, depending on the time of year. See the beautiful Columbia, Meares, Worthington, Shoup, or Valdez glaciers. Tours accommodate all ages and skill levels.

During spring and summer time, day-long or extended boat tours of Prince William Sound will take you to some of the best vantage points for viewing mountains, glaciers, and wildlife. Orca and humpback whales, sea otters, sea lions, birds, porpoise and many other animals make their home in the Prince William Sound. Excursion vessels depart from the Small Boat Harbor for sightseeing and wildlife viewing.

Kayaking is another way to explore the Sound up close and personal. There are various professional kayak outfitters in Valdez, trained and ready to give you a wonderful experience.

Raft the Lowe River through the magnificent Keystone Canyon, where cascading waterfalls tower above. Helicopter tours offer astonishing views of wildlife, glaciers, and incredible scenery: a magnificent way to experience the beauty of Valdez and the surrounding area. If you really want to get away from civilization all together, fly-outs and drop-offs are possible to remote locations via helicopter or small planes.

Consider staying at one of our incredible wilderness lodges. Choose from panoramic waterfront views of the Prince William Sound, or overlook beautiful Robe Lake near the Keystone Canyon. Wintertime brings tons of snow and creates a perfect playground for winter sports, such as heli skiing, snowboarding, snowshoeing, ice climbing, snowmobiling and more. Regardless of what time of year you're planning to visit Valdez, the beauty of Mother Nature will captivate you.

SPORT FISHING

THE PRINCE WILLIAM SOUND in Valdez is a premier fishing destination. Open year round, our waters are home to all species of salmon, rockfish, lingcod, and some of the most accessible halibut in Alaska. You can drop a line from shore, take your own boat or take a charter into deeper seas. Either way, you're likely to catch enough fish to eat for dinner or fill up your freezer.

Valdez is home to the oldest fish derbies in Alaska, awarding thousands of dollars in prize money each year. Young and old, all skill levels, the thrill of reeling in a record-breaking fish will keep you coming back for more.

FISH HATCHERY

SOLOMON GULCH HATCHERY presents a unique opportunity to observe salmon as they return to spawn. The hatchery is located across the port on Dayville Road en route to Allison Point. Completed in February 1983 to ensure sufficient numbers of salmon return each year, the facility is licensed to incubate, rear and release 230 million pink salmon, and 2 million coho. With a concerted effort from the Alaska Department of Fish and Game and the City of Valdez, the Solomon Gulch Hatchery annually imprints and releases 105,000 king smolts from the Fish and Game Fort Richardson Hatchery.

The Valdez Fisheries Development Association (VFDA) goals are to produce an annual return of 10 million pink salmon, 100,000 coho and 10,000 king salmon. The best time to view salmon at the hatchery is July through September.

Bears, eagles, sea gulls and sea otters can be found feeding on the fish. Fishing is prohibited within 300 feet of the premises. Please respect all wildlife, especially maintaining a safe distance from any bears in the area. Bears are wild animals and can be dangerous.

Take the self-guided walking tour along the fish ladder and view how the hatchery spawns the fish. The self-guided walkway is open daily, 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., from May to October.

Valdez is one of the snow capitals of the world

WITH A long-standing reputation for great snow, more than 300 inches is measured annually in the city and 600 to 900 inches in nearby Thompson Pass. From beginner to expert, there is something for everyone.

Valdez and the surrounding Chugach Mountains create a perfect landscape for backcountry skiing, heli-skiing, snowboarding, snowmobiling and ice climbing. There are various cross-country skiing trails in and around Valdez, too.

Access the backcountry on foot, snowmobile, by helicopter or snowcat for some of the most amazing big-mountain skiing and snowboarding in the world. Local Valdez guides and outfitters help create the dream winter vacation with single or multi-day packages.

Our beautiful waterfalls and glaciers act as pathways to adventure for ice climbers and hikers. Whatever challenge you are looking for, whether top-roping or multi-pitch lead climbing, there are dozens of routes around Valdez that will suit your needs.

The Valdez Convention and Civic Center

Great events start with an amazing venue
- and we've got you covered.

Located in the heart of beautiful Valdez, Alaska, the Valdez Convention & Civic Center is the destination for meetings, conventions & gatherings. Come for business, but take pleasure in our hiking and skiing trails all rich with wildlife. Often considered “the best view in town,” the huge windows of the Center’s main hall overlook the Port of Valdez, a place where the mountains meet the sea.

We feature: A ballroom over 6400 sq. ft. and capable of dividing into three separate rooms

- free Basic WiFi
- a digital theatre with seating for 400+
- high speed internet options
- a commercial kitchen and catering options
- a compliment of meeting accouterments

To receive more printed info, please fill out and mail the form on the reverse page. To discuss your meeting or convention needs by phone call our Manager, Jennifer James, at: 907-835-4440 or drop her an email at: jjames@ci.valdez.ak.us Our web address is www.ci.valdez.ak.us
