

Conference speaker directory

Welcome/Opening Reception Speaker

Bradley Richardson has vast knowledge of the present City of Vancouver as well as the city's rich history. He would love to speak at your welcome/opening reception!

Bradley Richardson

director@cchmuseum.org

360.993.5679

Clark Country Historical Museum

The museum runs two speaker programs and have a vast speaker network on almost any topic. They are happy to assist any group in finding the right speaker for their event. In addition, their staff can speak on a number of topics including but not limited to local brewing, women's history, local BIPOC history, the story of our LGBTQIA+ community, and general local history.

Please reach out to either contact below to find a speaker:

Bradley Richardson

director@cchmuseum.org

360.993.5679

April Buzby

outreach@cchmuseum.org

Cheryl Strayed

Cheryl is a #1 New York Times best-seller for her memoirs Wild, Tiny Beautiful Things, and Brave Enough, and the novel Torch. She lives locally and does speaking engagements both in person and virtually. You can find more information about Cheryl on her website (www.cherylstrayed.com).

Please reach out to her speaking agent:

Kim Thornton

kthornton@penguinrandomhouse.com

Janus Youth Programs

This local organization provides community-based services to help runaway at-risk and homeless youth. They have emergency shelters, a day time drop-in center, street outreach, and housing programs. Their staff is happy to speak to groups about their programs or specific topics such as youth homelessness.

To request a speaker send an email with your information to:

pvalenti@janusyouth.org