grand theater

By: Stephanie Zajac

As part of the Valley Forge Tourism & Convention Board's "Make it Main Street" campaign this past Spring, we featured the Grand Theater. Located in East Greenville, the Grand Theater is one of the most historic movie houses in Montgomery County. Showing the latest Hollywood films, the theater also features special silent movie events, accompanied by the century-old theater organ.

Owner Ed Buchinski explained, "We're not just in the movie theater business, we're in the history business as well."

Originally built in 1924, the theater was recently restored to its former glory. The Grand is one of only a handful of theaters that still has a functioning pipe organ and a single screen. The theatre specials in family film and focuses on affordability, as it offers $4 matinee and $5 evening shows.

Current attractions are DreamWorks Animation's Spirit Untamed and Marvel Studios' Black Widow. Attractions coming soon include Space Jam: A New Legacy, Walt Disney's Jungle Cruise, Walt Disney's Free Guy, Paw Patrol: The Movie, and Hotel Transylvania: Transformania.

HALL & OATES

Local Musicians & Bands

By: Emily Keel

THE GREATER PHILADELPHIA AREA IS A HOTBED FOR UP-AND-COMING MUSICIANS AND BANDS OF ALL GENRES.

Here in Montgomery County, there is no shortage of fantastic artists that you know and love and some you may not have heard yet. Check out our favorite artists that call Montco home!

THE WONDER YEARS ALTERNATIVE-ROCK

The Wonder Years is an alternative rock band that came together in July 2005, in Lansdale. The band has released six full length albums, two EPS, and several splits/compilations over the course of their career, garnering a massive following in the Greater Philadelphia area and the alternative rock scene(s), respectively. Long hailed as pioneers of the modern pop-punk music genre, The Wonder Years are one of the most beloved and successful bands to come out of Montgomery County in recent years.

BEACH FUZZ INDIE-ROCK

Beach Fuzz is an indie rock/pop band who is currently taking the local music scene by storm. After releasing their self-titled EP in 2018, the group followed up with their first full-length album, Casual Encounters, which was met with universal acclaim in and around the Philadelphia DIY community.

RACHEL ANDIE FOLK-ROCK / SINGER-SONGWRITER

Rachel Andie is a multi-instrument singer and songwriter who has captivated listeners with her dreamy, ambient vocals and beautifully crafted songs. Together with her backing band, The Fifth Element, she released her first live studio album, "Tu Me Manques", in December 2018. Since the album's release, Rachel has grown her following and frequently features at local festivals such as WXPX and The Philadelphia Folk Festival.

DRY REEF ALTERNATIVE / BEACH-ROCK

Dry Reef has been a local favorite of alt/beach-rock enthusiasts since their debut album, "Daychange", released in 2018. Their sound combines lush guitar melodies and rhythm-driven composition, and vibrant vocals, which has garnered them success in the indie, jam-band, and reggae music scene(s).

MT. JOY FOLK-ROCK

Mt. Joy is a folk-rock band whose name is an homage to their Montco roots and the very same Mt. Joy in Valley Forge National Historical Park. Dubbed by Rolling Stone as "your new folk-rock heroes", the band has amassed an impressive two and a half million monthly listeners on Spotify since their debut self-titled album was released in 2018.

BRICK NOVA GRUNGE / ALTERNATIVE-ROCK

Brick Nova burst onto the scene with their 2016 debut LP, "On the Move". Their music combines elements of a number of different genres and allows them to create hard-hitting grunge tracks on the same record as soft, soulful acoustic tracks.

MT. JOY

RACHEL ANDIE

CHESTNUT GROVE ROCK 'N ROLL / AMERICANA

Chestnut Grove is a rock 'n roll funk factory founded in Perkiomenville, right here in Montco. Featuring catchy hooks and a smooth blend of retro pop and jam band style music, Chestnut Grove is sure to be a favorite of anyone looking for some soul stirring new music.

HALL & OATES POP ROCK

You know 'em, you love 'em, they are the one and only Hall & Oates. Daryl Hall hails from Pottstown, and after discovering a passion for music, Hall & Oates went on to make Montco's dreams come true when the duo officially formed in 1970. Their songs evoke that uniquely Philadelphia take on soul, which proved to be a success with Hall & Oates going on to score six number one singles and six platinum albums over the course of their career.

THE WONDER YEARS

ARDMORE MUSIC HALL

By: Emily Keel

Over the last year and a half, the world has longed for the chance to experience live music again. Now as we near the light at the end of the tunnel, the time has finally come to reunite and rejoice at the sound of live music once more.

The City of Brotherly Love and the greater Philadelphia area(s) have been a haven for touring musicians for decades. Montgomery County is no exception; here we have an abundance of unique venues that host incredible local and touring acts year-round.

Just three miles outside of Philadelphia lies Ardmore, one of the Main Line's most bustling towns and home to the legendary Ardmore Music Hall.

The venue officially became Ardmore Music Hall in 2013 and has since hosted acts ranging from Dave Matthews Band and The Red Hot Chili Peppers to Macy Gray and Hootie & The Blowfish.

The club is independently owned, operated, and booked, allowing the venue to book a wide variety of unique and talented acts throughout the year.

Despite the challenges that came with being in the height of a pandemic, Ardmore still found a way to host acts and get the music out to the people. The venue streamed over 30 live shows over the past year to huge audiences, the largest reaching up to 100,000 people.

In addition to the overall quality of the acts who fill the hall with their sweet songs, the sound could reach every corner of the room thanks to the venue's outstanding acoustics.

When you're at AMH, there are plenty of opportunities to catch a glimpse of the stage. The venue has three different areas for audiences to watch a performance: standing room, general admission seating and a second story balcony. Both floors feature individual bars so you can grab a drink anywhere inside.

Ardmore Music Hall offers its patrons so much more than just a space to see a show. It is a safe space for everyone during tough times, it's an oasis for artists and musicians everywhere, and for many it is home. But most importantly, it is a place where the magic of music radiates from every corner and stays with audiences long after the final song.
