MILESTONE ANNIVERSARIES

2023 marks an exciting year in Washington County for five local institutions celebrating milestone anniversaries.

The oldest known site of human habitation in North America, ironically, is set to celebrate the youngest of destination anniversaries in 2023. History enthusiasts are in for a treat at Meadowcroft Rockshelter & Historic Village, which is highlighted by 19,000 years of artifacts uncovered onsite, and three recreated historic villages that demonstrate life in the Ohio Valley through the centuries.

In 1973, a team of archaeologists began excavation of the Meadowcroft Rockshelter. This year, on June 18, the 50th anniversary of this date, visitors can enjoy an exclusive Insider Tour with James M. Adovasio, Ph.D., who achieved international acclaim with his archaeological excavation of the Rockshelter. Dr. Adovasio will present a lecture and lead a special tour of the site.

Additional Insider Tours will be held in July, August and October. Online reservations are required in advance.

The Pennsylvania Trolley Museum has come a long way in 60 years. Starting from humble beginnings when it opened to the public in June 1963 with an old railroad car as a gift shop and one trolley barn, the Museum now boasts three buildings to explore and a collection of 50 trolleys, half of which are beautifully restored and in operation. A visit to the Museum includes a four-mile round trip on one of the antique trolleys, a tour of the Trolley Display Building, self-guided exploration of exhibits, and so much more.

The Pennsylvania Trolley Museum commemorates its 60th anniversary with the opening of a brand-new, state-of-the-art 21,000 square foot Welcome & Education Center later this year. The building will include new exhibit areas, including a trolley operator simulator and interactive STEM exhibits. The new facility will also feature three multipurpose rooms, a dedicated classroom, a larger museum store, new playground and park area, as well as a gazebo perfect for outdoor events. A new brick-lined street where the trolleys operate, as well as increased parking space, is an added bonus.

2023 also marks 60 years of harness racing at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows, a tradition in the region. While technology has come a long way, the core values of racing have stayed the same. Though the races can be accessed around the world, standing at the racetrack hearing the crunch of the gravel as the horses run by or talking to the winning driver after a race has the same feel that it had in 1963.

The casino will commemorate this milestone with a featured family-friendly night at the racetrack in June, as well as a series of vignettes highlighting 60 years of racing in 60 seconds. A video booth will also be available at the track where guests can share their memories.

The development of the casino, now known as Hollywood Casino at The Meadows, in 2009, made the venue a pivotal destination point in Washington County. The newest addition to the property is the Barstool Sportsbook which features a complete view of the track.

The performing arts community came alive in Washington County in 1949 when

Little Lake Theatre founder, Will Disney, transformed a red barn at the edge of Canonsburg Lake into a theatre-in-the-round and began casting productions. Three quarters of a century later, that barn is still used for prop storage, rehearsals and summer camps, but the actual productions take place in a larger building that has housed hundreds of shows through the years. This summer, Little Lake Theatre celebrates their 75th anniversary by paying homage to the rich history that has made Little Lake what it is today. With shows like Popcorn Falls and White Christmas in the 2023 line up, each production was carefully selected to reflect the anniversary in some way.

Expect to see familiar faces as Little Lake alumni return to the stage.

A highlight at the close of every summer in Washington County is the Washington County Agricultural Fair. This year the fair will be bringing something extra special as it celebrates its 225th anniversary, making it the longest running fair in the state. Expect to see parades, concerts, a memorial plaza dedicated to the history of the fair and other activities, in addition to the traditional fair entertainment, food and fun.

The focus of the anniversary will be agriculture, which is always at the core of the Washington County Agricultural Fair. With over 2,600 exhibits in ten barns and five exhibit halls, the fair brings together the community and truly showcases what the region has to offer. Be sure to make the trip to the Washington County Agricultural Fair August 12 – 19 for a week of family fun.

PUTTING THE “DO” IN DOWNTOWN

A visit to Washington County is not complete without a stop to the vibrant downtowns in the county, each with an individual flair.

WASHINGTON

With historic sites like the Bradford House Museum, Whiskey Rebellion Education and Visitor Center and the LeMoyné House, downtown Washington is rich and alive with history. But do not just visit for the history; downtown Washington is also known for their great food. Southern Yanks Smokehouse was named Best BBQ in the Burgh by Pittsburgh Magazine in 2022. The Union Grill and Presidents Pub are also Washington favorite lunch and dinner spots.

Combining history with a whole lot of fun, May 6 marks the inaugural “Running of the Wools” in downtown Washington. This family-friendly event will highlight Washington’s prominence as the top exporter of wool in the 19th Century and feature sheep races through the streets of downtown Washington, as well as host a full day of sheep-filled activities including a children’s area featuring “lambies in pajamies,” kitchen clash, breakfast crawl, educational activities like sheep shearing and many other engaging exhibitions. The fun carries into Sunday, May 7 with Free Museum Day, which offers free admission to six local museums.

CANONSBURG

A town known for its celebrations, Canonsburg is a beloved destination point in Washington County. Visit Pike Street on select Saturdays during the summer for Alleyway Saturday, themed family-friendly events designed to bring the community together. From concerts to bingo to community flea markets, Alleyway Saturday always offers an experience for visitors.

With the second largest parade in Pennsylvania, capped off by a magnificent fireworks display, Canonsburg is the place to be on July 4th.

Nationally-ranked on the list of the best American Oktoberfests, the Pennsylvania Bavarian Oktoberfest takes place in Canonsburg in September and welcomes over 60,000 people throughout the three-day festival. This authentic Bavarian event features food trucks, vendors, live bands performing traditional German music, and of course German beers.

Cap off your year at Canonsburg’s Old-Fashioned Christmas celebration in December. Recognized by VisitPA.com as one of Pennsylvania’s most “Hallmark movie-esque” locations in the state, you can enjoy a parade, tree lighting, food and craft vendors. No visit to Canonsburg’s Old-Fashioned Christmas is complete without spending time with Santa and posing for a family photo in front of the signature 1952 Ford truck, the centerpiece of the celebration.

MONONGAHELA

Community is the lifeblood of downtown Monongahela. With over 20 community organizations and 17 churches, chances are you will encounter some sort of celebration, event or parade when you visit downtown Monongahela. A weekly farmers market, live music, pet events and a 5K run throughout the warmer months, in addition to a growing retail sector complete with gift, clothing and other shops, as well as a charming ice cream/candy shop and newly opened winery featuring live entertainment most weekends, make downtown Monongahela a vibrant stop on your summer bucket list.

The Monongahela Aquatorium, an entertainment venue that juts out into the Monongahela River, is the only large amphitheater of its kind in the region and is the perfect destination point for summer fun. Grab a seat by the river, bring your own chair or blanket, or dock your boat in the “Mon” to catch a show on the semi-hexagonal stage. Make a point to visit this venue for their summer concert series, food truck festival and other events, and be sure to catch Angelo II’s magnificent inflatable holiday decorations that light up the town leading up to Easter, Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas.

MADE AND MOLDED BY HISTORY

Take in the culture and history of Washington County by spending time at one of many notable museums.

Bradford House Museum and Whiskey Rebellion Education and Visitor Center

A visit to downtown Washington is not complete without a stop at the award-winning Bradford House Museum and Whiskey Rebellion Education and Visitor Center. A new highlight at the museum this year is an exhibit board focused on the defenses on the frontier, specifically the roles women played in this unique time in history. Smell the mouthwatering aromas and take in the hearth cooking demonstrations in the kitchen cabin the last Saturday of every month for an immersive feel of what life in the 18th Century was really like. If you are looking to create a special event, book a whiskey tasting or a private 18th Century style dinner in David Bradford's dining room prepared by a local, top-notch chef.

Meadowcroft Rockshelter & Historic Village

Travel back to prehistory with a hands-on, experiential tour of the Meadowcroft Rockshelter & Historic Village in Avella. See the internationally renowned archaeological gem which has provided evidence of 19,000 years of a human presence in our region and experience rural life over the past 500 years through each exhibit. Explore a wigwam and test your aim with an atlatl at the 16th Century Eastern Woodland Indian Village. Walk through an 18th Century log cabin and open-sided trading post to learn about the challenges Native people and European settlers faced as these cultures came together. Watch a blacksmith forge red-hot iron or take a lesson in a one-room schoolhouse at the site's 19th Century Historic Village.

2023 marks the 50th anniversary of the excavation at Meadowcroft. This milestone will be celebrated with additional programming and two separate days of baseball games featuring teams from the Vintage Base Ball Association playing by rules of the 1860s.

LeMoyne House

The LeMoyne House is a Historic National Landmark and famed stop of the Underground Railroad in downtown Washington. Tour this stately stone-house and hear the important stories of Dr. LeMoyne and the free African American population in Western Pennsylvania who risked their personal freedom to take a stand against slavery.

A facility dedicated to research that will house collections not currently on display at the LeMoyne House opens this summer. A new research library will give visitors interested in genealogy and family history or students completing research projects access to more than 100,000 documents to conduct thorough research.

Duncan & Miller Glass Museum

Many do not realize that glass manufacturing dominated Western Pennsylvania industry from the Civil War era through the 20th Century. The history and heritage of this era, but most importantly, the beauty of the glass, is captured at the Duncan & Miller Glass Museum, located in an ADA accessible building on Ridge Avenue in Washington.

Guided tours give visitors an in-depth look at those ordinary people who made extraordinary glass. A favorite area of the museum is the How It Is Made Room which focuses on the original tools that were used, as well as the processes utilized to create Duncan & Miller glass. New this spring will be a 1930s parlor and kitchen exhibit that will display furniture and glassware found in the average kitchen during this time period.

GET YOUR TAIL ON THE TRAIL

Get out and get moving on the trails in Washington County this summer!

The main line of the Montour Trail, which spans 47 miles from Coraopolis to Clairton, is flat and easy to navigate for hikers, bikers and anyone who wants to spend time in the outdoors. Developed along the bed of the Montour Railroad, revitalized former railroad structures create a visually stimulating trail experience and are an ideal complement to the natural beauty of the shady, wooded landscape. The 760-foot-long viaduct in McDonald stretches over a valley and provides breathtaking views. Another rehabilitated railroad structure is the Chartiers Creek High Bridge, which is the third longest bridge on the Montour Trail. With three tunnels, also former railroad structures, the Montour Trail is known as one of the best tunnel trails in Pennsylvania.

Be sure to stop at The Tandem Connection bike and running shop at the Montour trailhead in Hendersonville to take a break, grab a slice of pizza and enjoy some ice cream before you finish your day on the trail.

The Montour Trail crosses the Panhandle Trail, another gem in the county's trail system in McDonald, an official Pennsylvania "Trail Town." While at the crossroads, visit the red brick McDonald Trail Station and History Center. A docent is on-site on the weekends to assist visitors as they tour the History Center featuring McDonald and surrounding areas from the early 1770s to the 1960s. The Trail Station also hosts a large farmers market every Saturday from July through the end of September and is also a big draw to both locals and visitors to the community.

If you are feeling adventurous, stop by Pedego Electric Bikes, located approximately 100 yards from the McDonald Trail Station and History Center, to rent or purchase an electric bike. When it is time for an ice cream break, look no further than M.A.'s Ice Cream Shop. Located just a few blocks from the trail in McDonald, M.A.'s Ice Cream Shop is known for their huge ice cream scoops and delicious flavors. There are plenty of other places to grab a bite or a beverage just off the trail as well.

A featured event that the trail hosts every October is the Halloween Luminary Trail Walk, which begins at the McDonald Trail Station. Bonfires and luminaries light the way on this spooky walk along the Panhandle Trail as costumed volunteers distribute candy.

Claysville's National Pike Trail, one of the newest trails in Washington County, is a nearly two-mile trail excellent for hiking, birding and enjoying the peace and quiet of nature while getting some exercise. Follow a pre-Civil War railroad line through two arch tunnels along scenic terrain from the eastern edge of Claysville to Timber Lake Road near Sunset Beach. The walking path on the trail alternates from grass, dirt and gravel, and leads to a picnic area and grassy field perfect for a snack or lunch break before completing the trail.

LOCAL WINE, BEER & SPIRIT SCENE

A night out with the family. Having a beer as you listen to live music. Tasting locally distilled spirits. We have it all right here in Washington County.

If you are looking for a great brewery, make two stops in one with a visit to Houston at Voodoo Brewing Co. at West Pike and Helltown Taproom right next door.

The laidback, relaxed vibe of Voodoo Brewing Co. makes it a great spot for a family dinner or a night out with friends. Voodoo's large selection of beer brewed at their original location in Meadville is complemented by beers from other local breweries as well as local wines and spirits. Elevated pub food such as brisket smoked in-house, burgers and mussels make the perfect pairing with Voodoo's lagers, IPAs, hefeweizens and seltzers. Weekly trivia nights, live music and watch parties for major sporting events always bring in a crowd. Do not miss Voodoo's puppy parties on the patio and food truck festival this summer.

Stop over at Helltown Taproom for their original selection of high-quality beers. From cornhole tournaments to board game nights to live music, there is always something fun happening at Helltown. Bring in your favorite foods or come on a food truck night to this family-friendly standout in Washington County.

Visit Liberty Pole Spirits for a unique experience that every whiskey drinker or history buff will appreciate. Their new distillery destination on Racetrack Road opens this summer and will give patrons the authentic experience of drinking in an 18th Century meeting house. The new facility will be fully integrated with production facilities including grain storage, milling, mashing, fermenting and distilling, along with the capacity to store 3,600 barrels on site. The colonial themed tasting room will feature rye, corn, bourbon and peated bourbon whiskies, as well as bourbon cream.

Keeping the menu fresh, Liberty Pole introduces four new craft cocktails each month created from their own whiskeys. Whiskey aficionados will not want to miss the special single barrel releases that Liberty Pole offers throughout the year. For a heightened experience, schedule a behind the scenes tour of the production process then treat yourself to a flight of whiskey.

If a night of wine and live music is your thing, Dead Head Winery in Monongahela is a must stop for you. A new addition to the list of exceptional wineries in Washington County, Dead Head Winery is an original. Formerly a funeral home, the building that houses Dead Head Winery has been transformed into a fully functional space with a wine production area, a spacious tasting room and an outdoor concert venue. All wine is made on premises with local grapes from Erie Vineyards as well as west coast grapes from Washington and California. Dead Head Winery features traditional cabernets, merlots, pinots, Syrahs, chardonnays and Rieslings, but also adds something special with their floral and fruit wines.

With a stage that features open mic nights and local acts every weekend, music is at the core of Dead Head Winery. Keep an eye out for special events at Dead Head including their cupcake and wine pairing nights and their Halloween Party.
