WHAT'S THIS FLAG?

You have likely seen the red, white and blue banner waving around the city – a sense of civic pride in Wichita. Here's a little more about it:

- Alternating red and white rays symbolize the path of freedom to come and go as one pleases
- The blue disc represents happiness and contentment
- Stitched on the blue circle is a Navajo symbol for "hogan" or permanent home
- Wichita's city flag was officially adopted in 1937

Keeper of the Plains

CELEBRATES 50 YEARS

information

50 years ago, Native American artist Blackbear Bosin gifted the City of Wichita the iconic Keeper of the Plains, a 44-foot-tall steel sculpture that welcomes visitors and locals. Designed to pay tribute to the area's Indigenous people, construction began in 1970 and was completed in 1974.

The Keeper offers year-round recreation and appreciation with its nightly fire pot show, integrated running/biking paths and water sports opportunities on the Arkansas River. It is easily one of the most Instagrammable spots in the community.

To honor the Keeper and legacy of Blackbear Bosin, the City of Wichita – in conjunction with the Mid-America All-Indian Museum – is hosting Party for the People to commemorate the 50-year gift. There will be a dedication and outdoor festival.

Ways to experience the Keeper

RING OF FIRE

Majestic in any light, but most impressive during a 15-minute "Ring of Fire" 9 p.m. (spring and summer), weather permitting

CULTURAL CENTER

The Mid-America All-Indian Museum houses one of the largest Blackbear Bosin collections, a gallery of nations and a gift shop featuring modern artists' works

PLAZA AREA

The sculpture is surrounded by Keeper of the Plains Plaza, which features exhibits depicting the Plains Indians' way of life. Accessible through the Mid-America All-Indian Museum during the day or through the two bow-and-arrow-inspired cable-stay bridges that surround it
