2019-2021 STRATEGIC PLAN

Letter from Secretary - Designee Sara Meaney

Dear Friends,

I'm delighted to present the new Strategic Plan for the Wisconsin Department of Tourism.

From the outset, it was important to me that this plan reflect your unique perspectives. As a result, tourism professionals like you – from Spooner to Milwaukee and beyond – took this opportunity to share their vision for the future of tourism. You told us that it needs to be about creating jobs, enhancing economic vitality, showcasing the exquisite beauty of our state, and transforming lives through exploration and discovery. We hear you loud and clear – and we couldn't agree more! Good strategic planning starts with shared vision, so it's energizing to see how closely our aspirations aligned. Clearly, we are all here to inspire travelers to experience the Wisconsin we love.

In crafting the details of this two-year plan, we went to great lengths to consider every ounce of feedback we received along the way, while also balancing the fact that we simply can't be everything to everyone. Success requires intention, especially given the realities of limited resources. You'll see that we used objective information and data to build a plan that is focused, realistic, and intentionally builds upon our already strong foundation. As you read through the plan, I hope you feel as inspired as I do to bring our shared vision for the future of Wisconsin tourism to life.

Thank you for your support and thoughtful engagement in the development of this plan. We couldn't have done it without you.

Get Clear

We invited more than a thousand industry stakeholders from across the state to share their input and insights.

The resulting Insight Report highlighted areas where stakeholders would like to see WDT focus their efforts including:

- Develop a cohesive, consistent, and compelling state-wide brand
- Lead the way in marketing Wisconsin
- Leverage and protect Wisconsin's unique assets to continue to grow the destination
- Involve, inform, and partner with stakeholders across the state
- Bring more diverse visitors to Wisconsin, and ensure a welcoming experience
- Increase funding and ensure funds are strategically used

The listening session attendees from across the state convened in Spooner, La Crosse, Milwaukee, and Wausau to review these themes and add context specific to their communities or areas of the industry.

Get Focused

A strategic planning team of Wisconsin Department of Tourism staff and Governor's Council on Tourism representatives made meaning of the stakeholder input and developed the next two-year strategic plan. The team aimed to develop a plan that brings clear direction and focus to both WDT and their partners across the state.

Get Moving

In order to bring the strategic plan to life and ensure successful implementation, staff are engaged in a process to ensure they have the right prioritizing, sequencing, and staffing in place as well as the systems and structures needed to support active plan management.
