

GETAWAY GUIDE: JUNE 2020

Dear Friend,

Now that York County has entered the green phase of the reopening plan, there are more options available for you to get out and enjoy our beautiful area. The decision whether or not to travel during this time is a very personal choice. Whether you just need to get out of the house for a day, want a weekend getaway within driving distance of home, or still feel safest at home, York County has something to offer. For more details on what the green phase means for visitors, check out this blog post!

Explore our Trails!

Whether you like your trails smooth and paved or rough and dirt packed, York County has plenty of options to enjoy the outdoors. Grab your hiking shoes and check out the miles upon miles of trails criss-crossing our county. There is even a Facebook page dedicated to the trail towns in York County.

Get Outside!

Dine-In or Take-Out

During the green phase of the reopening plan, restaurants and bars are allowed to offer dine-in services at a reduced capacity. So if you have been itching to get out and enjoy some top quality food, you are in luck. There are also many establishments offering outdoor seating and take out if you are more comfortable with those options.

Learn Something New!

Whether you prefer to do your learning online or in-person, our events calendar has lots of options for anyone looking to pick up a new hobby. You can learn to draw online from Creative York or get artsy with glass at Candi J. Duda Stained Glass Studio at small classes in their Red Lion studio. As the summer marches on make sure to check the event calendar often as more events and classes are being added every week!
