SOMETHING OLD...

————→ is New Again

» A cornerstone of downtown York since 1925, The Yorktowne Hotel was the embodiment of the elegance and vivacious spirit of an era known for being over-the-top. The 11-story building, designed in Renaissance revival, closed its doors for renovation in 2016 and is now open in all its glory! Head to the rooftop bar for libations and a great view of historically edgy downtown York.

ON THE Horizon | EARLY 2024

» Opening of the York County History Center's new location. Dubbed the "Steam Plant Project," this 28 million dollar project will offer compelling programs and exhibits... inviting guests to explore the history, people, and culture of our county, state, and nation.
