

YORK COUNTY RE-OPENING UPDATE 6/11/2020

Dear Explore York Family,

Green, here we come!

We're excited even more of our local businesses and partners have been given the green light to open shop and welcome customers back. While this new phase is not the end of Covid-19 and we are still far from returning to normal, it is a giant step in the right direction.

Everyone here at Explore York wants to help you succeed and find your audience.

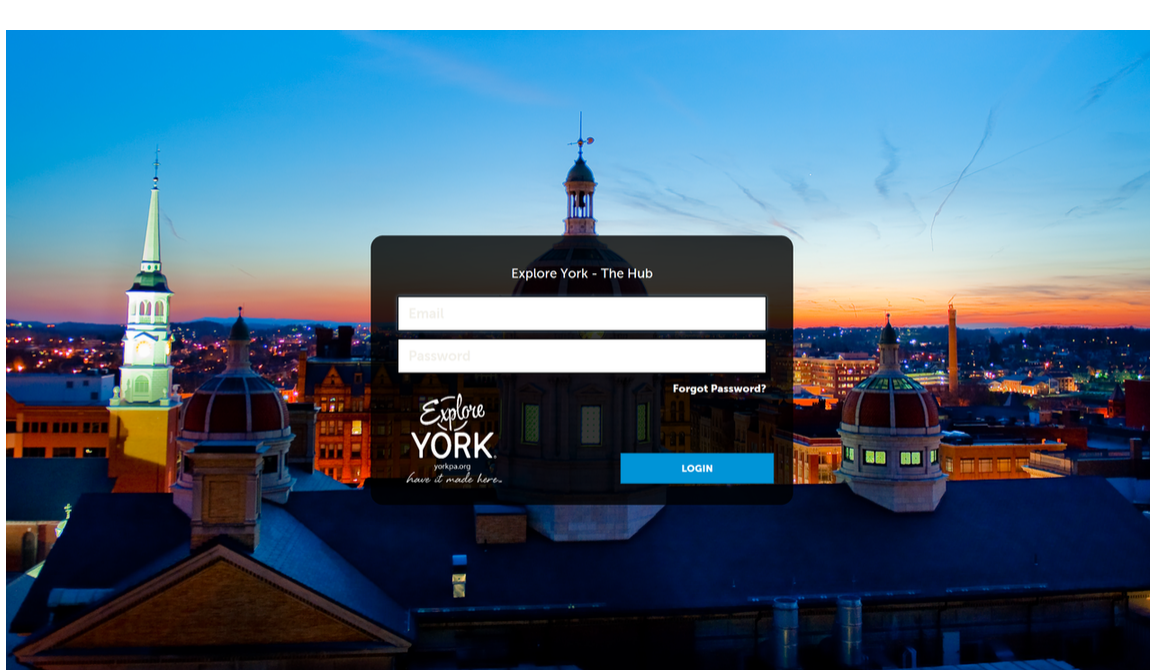

That is why I am encouraging you all to take advantage of the resources at your disposal. Below you will find articles on how you can keep visitors updated on your new hours and safety guidelines, as well as events you may be planning. Please take a look and make sure to update your information!

Beginning next week, I will also be working from the Explore York offices on a limited basis. If you need to get a hold of me, I still encourage you to contact me and the rest of the Explore York staff through email.

See you soon,

Laura Gurreri

President, Explore York

Keep Visitors in the Know

The easiest way to communicate your plan for managing visitor safety during COVID-19 is to update your website listing and take advantage of our COVID-19 Availability amenity tab. Both of these tasks, as well as the ability to update your staff contacts, listing photos, and update other amenities, can be managed from our member extranet, The Hub.

If you have any questions about using The Hub, please contact Sarah, our marketing assistant, at sarah@yorkpa.org.

Sports Return to York!

Sports are on their way back to York County! After months of canceled tournaments due to the Covid-19 pandemic, tournament organizers are finding ways to bring back their sporting events while adhering to health guidelines. Beginning June 19, East Coast Volleyball will be bringing weekly tournaments for eight weeks. Each rumble will not exceed the 250 event capacity.

More tournaments are in the works for the rest of 2020 as well, including the Wiffle Ball National Championship at PeoplesBank Park!

Update Your Events!

Make sure you're adding your events to our Calendar of Events as you open back up. Visitors are starting to look for things to do in our area, and this is a great time to share the unique goings-on happening at your location. Our Calendar of Events also serves as the source for our social media posts, and we submit these events to other publications to broaden your reach. Events can be submitted through The Hub or our website.
