

30 Best Valentine's Day Getaways in America

Flowers and chocolates just don't compare to these trip ideas.

This year, many of us will be sticking close to home on Valentine's Day, enjoying a romantic movie or cooking a delicious Valentine's Day dinner together. But if you're a couple who loves to travel, you can still enjoy the fun of planning a future getaway to a seaside destination, quaint Victorian town, or a mountaintop bed-and-breakfast. That's why we've rounded up these romantic small towns to inspire your wanderlust or, if you happen to live a short drive away, to head to on a romantic Valentine's Day's road trip.

Read on for more ideas and to find the perfect romantic destination for your trip for two.

2

Beaufort, NC

There are few things more romantic than wild horses, and Beaufort can give you a close-up view of them. See them from a stand-up paddleboard, or simply take in the gorgeous Victorian architecture in this cool, quaint town.

PLAN YOUR TRIP