

Spooky season is here and it's time to get in the Halloween spirit. Start the season off right by exploring some hair-raising sites.

Spooky Sights in Southern Outer Banks

North Carolina's Crystal Coast is home to the third-oldest town in the state and is encompassed in thrilling maritime history. It is home to legendary tales of swashbuckling pirate adventures, sunken shipwrecks and tours of spooky burial grounds and ghoulish graveyards. Autumn is the perfect backdrop to hear chilling stories, like the 300-year history of Blackbeard the pirate and his ship, Queen Amy's Revenge, while on the Beaufort Ghost Walk. For a more hands-on experience, dive into the "Graveyard of the Atlantic," which claimed more than 5,000 ships since the 1500s.