DESTINATION MAP | 9 CITIES. ONE BEAUTIFUL OASIS.

Coachella

COACHELLA WALLS

Culture comes alive in the "City of Eternal Sunshine," where Coachella's rich Mexican heritage shines through in mural projects like the Coachella Walls; community events including Run with Los Muertos, and the Mariachi Festival; and authentic Mexican cuisine you won't find anywhere else in Greater Palm Springs.

Visitors can embark on a self-guided walking tour of the Coachella Walls throughout the historic downtown or try their luck at one of the city's two casinos: Augustine Casino and Spotlight 29.

The city became a hub for the farmworker civil rights movement of the 1960s and '70s, and today the surrounding area is used for farming fruits and vegetables, including dates. Together with neighboring cities Indio, Thermal, and Mecca, Coachella produces 95 percent of the nation's dates.

Dubbed the "City of Festivals," Indio—the first incorporated city in Greater Palm Springs—is home to the Coachella Valley Music & Arts Festival, Stagecoach Country Music Festival, and the International Tamale Festival, as well as Sunday polo matches at the Eldorado Polo Club from January through March.

It's also home to Fantasy Springs Resort Casino, the historic Shields Date Garden (established in 1924), and the Indio Open Air Market on Wednesdays and Saturdays, which features everything from clothing and unique housewares to fresh produce picked from the nearby fields.

Downtown Indio is undergoing a renaissance that encompasses new businesses, restaurants, events, and activities that celebrate local culture and heritage.

La Quinta

PGA WEST

La Quinta, known as the "Gem of the Desert," embraces the outdoors and the arts with its scenic hiking trails through the Santa Rosa Mountains, phenomenal golf at PGA WEST and SilverRock, luxury resorts like La Quinta Resort & Club, and a quaint downtown, with shops, boutiques, restaurants and blooming bougainvillea galore.

It's also home to several events, including Ironman 70.3, a Sunday-morning Certified Farmers Market, an annual La Quinta Art Celebration, and Art on Main on select Saturdays.

Indian Wells, which began as a Cahuilla Indian village, now hosts world-class events and attractions, including the Epson Tour Championship, and BNP Paribas Open, bringing tens of thousands of visitors, to this oasis of luxury each year.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower regularly visited the city and even owned a winter home at Eldorado Country Club. Hollywood stars Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz were also residents, founding the Indian Wells Resort Hotel in 1957.

The Living Desert Zoo & Gardens, ranked one of the top zoos in the United States, is located in both Indian Wells and Palm Desert, occupying approximately 80 acres.

Palm Desert

THE LIVING DESERT ZOO & GARDENS

Palm Desert is a center for shopping, entertainment, and recreation. Visitors can catch a show at the McCallum Theatre, visit the Living Desert Zoo & Gardens, shop on El Paseo, tour several international art galleries, cheer on the Coachella Valley Firebirds hockey team at Acrisure Arena, or head outdoors on one of the hiking trails in the foothills of the Santa Rosa Mountains.

For a local vibe, check out the Street Fair at College of the Desert, held every Saturday and Sunday morning.

If you're here in the spring, the city hosts Fashion Week El Paseo, the largest consumer fashion show on the West Coast, and Palm Desert Food & Wine, a three-day culinary celebration with celebrity chefs and premium food and beverage tastings.

A luxurious lifestyle meets a playful landscape in Rancho Mirage, home to stellar golf courses, sprawling estates, resorts, and first-class dining.

Several past U.S. presidents have stayed in the city at Sunnylands—the former estate of U.S. Ambassador Walter Annenberg and his wife, Leonore. Admission to Sunnylands Center & Gardens is free, and tours of the historic estate are offered with advance ticket reservations. Nearby, step into a world of wonder at the Children's Discovery Museum of the Desert.

You can also attend a "stargazing party" or lecture at the Rancho Mirage Observatory, or check out what's playing at The Show, a $75 million high-tech, 2,000-seat entertainment venue at Agua Caliente Resort Casino Spa.

SUNNYLANDS

Rancho Mirage

Cathedral City shines as a haven for the arts, with several public art pieces on display and a growing number of art galleries.

Perez Road, the city's art and design district, has become a popular place for finding one-of-a-kind treasures and vintage furniture pieces.

Downtown is the site of many community events, from the annual Taste of Jalisco, Cathedral City LGBT Days, and Hot Air Balloon Festival to food truck fairs and outdoor movie screenings, and events at the Cathedral City Community Amphitheater.

The city's Mary Pickford is D'Place Theatre houses a Mary Pickford museum featuring personal belongings and costumes of the world-famous silent screen star and also hosts screenings for the Palm Springs International Film Festival.

Palm Springs

MIDCENTURY ARCHITECTURE

A blend of Old Hollywood glamour and a charming village atmosphere has enticed visitors to Palm Springs for more than a century.

Today, a thriving arts and culture scene, as well as many signature events, including the Palm Springs International Film Festival and Modernism Week, draw visitors from around the globe. Other points of interest include the Palm Springs Aerial Tramway—the world's largest rotating tram car that transports visitors more than 8,000 feet (2,438m) up Mount San Jacinto, where 54 miles (87km) of hiking trails await—the Indian Canyons, the Agua Caliente Cultural Plaza, the Palm Springs Surf Club, and VillageFest, an outdoor street fair in the center of downtown on Thursday evenings featuring food, music, and arts and crafts vendors.

Desert Hot Springs

AZURE PALM HOT SPRINGS

Desert Hot Springs, also known as "California's Spa City," is home to some of the purest hot and cold mineral springs in the world, and its resorts and boutique hotels welcome overnight and day guests to soak in the waters. Nestled in the foothills of the San Bernardino Mountains just north of Palm Springs, the city's unique geology has made it a world-famous destination.

Hike through the nearby Mission Creek Preserve—a protected part of the Wildlands Conservancy that includes lush wetlands, a perennial stream, and native flora and fauna; explore a bit of history at Cabot's Pueblo Museum, a Hopi-inspired pueblo built by early 20th-century homesteader Cabot Yerxa; soak in hot mineral waters at one of the hotel spas located on Miracle Hill; or traverse the San Andreas Fault and other natural wonders on a Jeep or Hummer tour.
