WELGOME

TO LOS CABOS

When I first visited Los Cabos, Mexico, in the mid-1960s, it was an opportunity to simply get away from the rigors of competitive golf and to feed my inner outdoorsman. As an avid fisherman then—and still today—I was there to relax and enjoy some of the best deep-sea fishing in the world.

During those early visits, I found myself immediately drawn to Cabo's sleepy little villages. Most important, I was drawn to the warm, welcoming people. The incredible weather and the superb fishing were so exceptional that when I went back 20 years later, I was pleasantly amazed to see it hadn't changed at all.

Early on, I could envision fairways and greens in the desert foothills that led from the mountains to the sea. I always believed there should be golf on the Baja peninsula. The potential was there for a truly unique golf destination, but by the late 1980s, all that was available was a modest ninehole municipal course. That quickly changed.

With the opening of our golf course designs at Palmilla Golf Club in 1992 and the Ocean Course at Cabo del Sol two years later, Cabo burgeoned into one of the world's most exciting destinations.

We at Nicklaus Design could not be prouder of any role we played. Trust me, the fishing is still good; it's just the golf that's gotten better.

We have been fortunate to design some wonderful golf courses throughout Mexico, and one of the chief reasons for this is that it's such a beautiful country. We're still very excited about the 2014 debut of Quivira Golf Club—our sixth golf experience in Los Cabos—because of its exceptional beauty, dramatic oceanfront setting, and unforgettable challenge.

Over the past five decades, I've cultivated a special relationship with the Mexican people. The only thing they are more passionate about than golf is the concept of family, and this is something I truly admire and respect. Rooted beneath every successful business, and certainly every golf course project in Los Cabos, you will find a sturdy family tree.

I couldn't be happier with the way things have evolved in Los Cabos. I truly believe Cabo is not only a flagship destination for golf in Mexico, it's as good as any golf destination in the world. It's nice to have a legacy of spectacular courses in one of my long-time favorite places.

TOURISM BOARD

Situated at the tip of the Baja Peninsula, at the place where the Sea of Cortes meets the Pacific Ocean, Los Cabos boasts an extraordinary mountain-desert-ocean environment where golf's leading designers have crafted some of the finest courses in the world.

Set back from the shoreline's sun-drenched beaches and sparkling waters are more than a dozen exquisite layouts built by luminaries such as Jack Nicklaus, Tom Fazio, Robert Trent Jones, Jr., and Greg Norman.

With three courses on Golf Digest's elite "World 100 Greatest Golf Courses" list and seven of the top 10 courses in Mexico as rated by the magazine, Los Cabos is the undisputed golf capital of Latin America. With new layouts by top designers in the works, Los Cabos will continue to raise its profile as an exotic, must-play getaway within easy reach of most U.S. and Canadian cities.

Add 350 days of sunshine per year, low humidity and cooling sea breezes, and Los Cabos--or CABO, as everyone calls it—emerges as a flawless destination unique to itself. Exclusive. Unhurried. Upscale. And spectacular.

Led by several 'gran turismo' 5-star hotels and complemented by some of the best sport fishing and off course adventures in the world, Los Cabos has in the span of 25 years established itself as a hotspot for avid players in search of an unforgettable golf experience.

As a family-friendly "lifestyle" destination with activities ranging from whale-watching cruises to desert jeep tours, Cabo has what everyone wants. Sunny skies. Superb dining. Sumptuous accommodations. Dawn-to-dusk nightlife. And the friendliest welcome in Mexico.

Featuring a dramatic 300-foot elevation change, the wellstrategized course has a handful of links-style holes on the beach, notably the par-3 third, which parallels the sea and gives players fine views of breaching whales during the winter months. There's also a signature island green at the par-3 17th hole.

Norman integrated indigenous grass varietals that use the least amount of water, creating an eco-friendly golf experience that flows naturally with the dune and desert landscape.

Centerpiece of an 834-acre resort and residential community on the Pacific Ocean 15 minutes from Cabo San Lucas, the Greg Norman Signature course at Solmar Golf Links, opened in 2020,

The layout's defining characteristic is its revetted pot bunkers. These sharp-edged, steep-walled sandy pits were constructed from recycled artificial turf and are nearly identical to the natural sod-walled bunkers found on British links courses. With two oncourse comfort stations, each providing Mexican specialties and refreshments, players enjoy an all-inclusive experience during the round. The Clubhouse overlooks the fairways and sea. The practice facility features a basin-shaped driving range, 18-hole putting course, and dedicated chipping, pitching and sand play areas.

The design of El Cardonal was inspired by the classic Golden Age courses of the west coast that Tiger played growing up. Tiger created a golf course that brings back strategy—there are typically several options for navigating each hole, and proper strategic decision-making is rewarded. The course is long enough to challenge expert players, but open enough to provide options for those with higher handicaps. It truly is a fun test for golfers of all skill levels.

The existing arroyos and native dunes that traverse the site, along with well-placed fairway bunkers, provide ample riskreward opportunities off the tees. Natural, irregular contours on the fairways, along with high-faced, greenside bunkers, further enhance the course's old-style look and feel.

With dramatic long-range views of the Pacific Ocean, this championship course offers wide landing areas that provide different angles and options to approach the greens, while promoting playability for golfers of all skill levels. The result is a memorable and enjoyable golf experience, where golfers that can weigh risk and make sound decisions will have the best opportunities to score.

Since 2023 El Cardonal is the new venue for the WWT PGA Championship – the first PGA Tour event in Los Cabos!

The course was designed so that you are either playing toward the ocean, along the ocean or away from the ocean. At times, you are down in the dunes, only to pop up and be surprised all over again by the incredible views of the ocean.

The Dunes Course has received many accolades since opening in 2009, including being ranked #36 in the world by Golf Magazine in 2017 and the #1 course in all of Mexico by Golf Digest in 2016.

The Dunes is more than just a pretty course. As part of the Dunes experience, players enjoy the unforgettable practice facility; a Slider Bar with mini sandwiches and refreshments before tee time; and additional small plates and libations at Diamante's signature course-side comfort stations. The golf is great, but the experience truly is something special.

Diamante opened The Oasis Short Course in December 2016. This Tiger Woods-designed 12-hole, par-three course features a palapa bar, practice green, event lawn, and a milelong perimeter concrete jogging and hiking trail.

The Short Course itself weaves its way through lush vegetation (including more than 400 palm trees) and over an eight-acre lake. It is ideal for families and beginners, but is also a fun practice course for experienced golfers. The course was designed in accordance with Tiger's design philosophy: to build courses that are fun and playable for all, yet challenging for the better players. The course layout is extremely flexible and can be played as a 12-hole, par-three course or a threehole loop with a par-three, four and five, among other potential configurations.

The Oasis Short Course at Diamante provides a fun and casual experience for golfers of all levels and ages.

The Oasis Short Course features 12 greens, all surrounded by very tightly mown Tifdwarf Bermuda, groomed to be firm and fast, allowing for shots to be played along the ground.

The 12-hole par-3 course allows players to choose their tees from the vast fairway areas, each providing different yardages and angles that can vary from round-to-round.

Alternative ways to play The Oasis Short Course include a 3-hole course with a par 4, par 3 and par 5 of regulation lengths; a smaller loop of par-3 holes created by skipping any of the 12 greens; and a wedge and short-game practice area around any of the greens.

The Oasis Short Course complements the two existing 18hole courses at Diamante, including Tiger Woods-designed El Cardonal course and the Dunes Course.

In a spectacular setting at the tip of the Baja California Peninsula marked by windswept dunes, sheer cliffs and desert foothills 10 minutes from downtown Cabo San Lucas, Quivira's Jack Nicklaus designed course scales the heights at Land's End. The golf course opened to acclaim in 2014, commences at sea level near the rolling surf before climbing to higher ground, where the views are a match for the challenge.

The drive to the fifth hole, which traces a switchback route up the side of a mountain, climbs to a tee perched more than 275 feet above the foaming surf far below. The par-3 seventh, its concave clifftop green carved from the base of a massive dune, is equally dramatic.

The layout then weaves through the dunes, returns to the cliffs at the par-3 14th hole, proceeds inland through the desert, and drops sharply from a set of elevated tees at 17 and 18.

Quivira is accessible to Quivira homeowners and guests of Pueblo Bonito Oceanfront Resorts and Spas, which consists of six properties: the adjacent Pueblo Bonito Pacifica Resort & Spa and Pueblo Bonito Sunset Beach Resort & Spa; and, in Cabo San Lucas, Pueblo Bonito Rosé Resort & Spa and Pueblo Bonito Los Cabos. GREENS, TEES AND FAIRWAYS: BERMUDA Located just minutes from downtown Cabo San Lucas and the only course in Los Cabos with views of the iconic sea arch and rock formations at Land's End, Cabo San Lucas Country Club's original 18-hole course was laid out by Roy Dye, brother of Pete Dye. The course was completed by Roy's son Matt Dye.

This parkland-style layout, previously one of the longest and most challenging courses in Los Cabos, was significantly remodeled in 2018. Now stretching to 6,852 yards (par 71), Cabo San Lucas Country Club compares favorably to golf courses in Palm Springs, California. Gently rolling fairways girdled by waste bunkers, cardon cactus, palo blanco trees and colorful bougainvillea characterize the layout. Lakes bring water into play at seven holes, notably at the testing par-4 ninth and 18th holes, where a large rock-rimmed lagoon protects each green.

Agustin Piza, a Mexican designer who has worked extensively throughout Latin America and who is ranked among the "25 Most Sustainable Golf Architects in the World" by Green Planet Architects, has built several new holes at the club to improve sightlines and enhance playability. In particular, the club's back nine was shortened and its corridors were widened to expand the layout's ocean views. The new and revised holes feature improved flexibility from the forward tees, better risk-reward scenarios from the back tees and more undulating greens. Bunkers throughout the course were reshaped and upgraded. The club, readily accessible by Cabo San Lucas-area hotels and cruise ship arrivals, also features the only lighted driving range in Los Cabos.

Among the layout's signature holes is the par-4 18th, a picturesque downhill hole with the Sea of Cortes flooding the horizon beyond the green. Off the tee, golfers must avoid a meandering creek that runs along the entire left side of the fairway before crossing the approach area and cascading into a lake that guards the front and right side of the green.

The Cabo del Sol course, opened in 2001, marked designer Tom Weiskopf's architectural debut in Latin America. Renowned for his masterful creations in desert environments, Weiskopf routed the course high above the 1,800-acre resort community's Cove Club, with each hole offering a panoramic view of the Sea of Cortes. Broad landing areas and minimal forced carries ensure an enjoyable experience for higher handicappers, yet the course is tournament-class from the tips. Putting surfaces, defended by large sculpted bunkers, feature long slopes, subtle rolls and distinctive tiers.

A strategic, well-balanced layout marked by an enticing blend of long and short holes, the Cabo del Sol golf course takes golfers on a roller-coaster ride through rock-strewn, cactus-covered mountain foothills, with several holes skirting canyon-like barrancas. Fairways are framed by tall, multi-armed cardon cacti and angular, peeling torote trees. The variety of cacti on this upland spread—barrel, cholla,

Credited with putting Los Cabos on the international golf map when it opened in 1994, the Ocean Course at Cabo del Sol, renamed the Cove Club, reopened in 2019 with several new holes, restyled bunkers, upgraded playing surfaces and new landscaping.

Occupying what course designer Jack Nicklaus once described as "the best golf property I've ever seen," the layout, centerpiece of a 1,800-acre master-planned community, stretches across a stunning desert landscape framed by tall rugged mountains and touched by the Sea of Cortes.

Among the new holes crafted by Nicklaus is the short par-3 seventh. Tucked into recreated dunes a stone's throw from the beach and faced into the prevailing breeze, this oceanfront hole offers two different angles of attack from a wishbone-like set of tees. To make way for a new resort entryway, a new par-4 ninth hole was built in a corridor adjacent to the previous ninth hole. The new creation, robust at 461 yards from the tips, mimics the original with its broad saddled fairway but has bigger, bolder fairway and greenside bunkers.

With the seaside par-3 17th hole converted to a private beach club, Nicklaus designed a new ridge-to-ridge par-3 17th hole that drops from a set of elevated tees to a well-defended green backdropped by the sea. The previous 16th hole, a thrilling par 4 that plunges 100 feet down the side of a mountain, has been remodeled and now serves as the 18th hole. Its peninsula-style green, protected by a deep U-shaped bunker on the left, clings to a cliff and appears to float on the ocean.

"We wanted this to be a course that all players can enjoy," Couples said. "With its multiple sets of tees, it varies in length and features undulating greens, dramatic elevation changes, impeccable fairways and natural bunkering. It's a great second shot golf course with several spectacular tee shots. The architecture makes great use of the natural topography and the ocean views make each hole incredibly memorable."

According to Eckenrode, "The course is set among the dramatic rugged arroyos of the native terrain, with broad ocean views and classic architectural styling. An environmentally-sensitive clearing plan was established from the outset, leaving mature desert flora and rock formations intact."

A buffer was left on the perimeter of each hole to protect desert vegetation along the course periphery. Fairways were capped with sand to ensure firm, fast playing conditions. Non-potable water from on-site desalination and water treatment facilities is used to irrigate the golf course.

GREENS, TEES AND FAIRWAYS: SUPREME PASPALUM

Its centerpiece is a Tom Fazio-designed golf course routed in desert foothills and characterized by graceful, flowing landforms intended to simulate rolling ocean waves.

Originally opened in 2013, the golf course was recently treated to several major enhancements, including a new landscaping scheme. Bougainvillea, oleander and other colorful ornamentals now frame the fairways. Formal bunkers are filled with bright white sand imported from the U.S.

The well-groomed course, interlaced by sandy arroyos, features an ocean view from every hole. Wide fairways and generously turfed areas create strategic options for good players while enhancing playability for average golfers.

Chileno Bay features back-to-back par 5's at Nos. 6 and 7 as well as a pair of "driveable" short par 4's at Nos. 8 and 11. The back nine builds to a crescendo at the testing par-4 18th, which stretches to 512 yards from the tips and tumbles downhill to an infinity-edge green. The two comfort stations on the course, featuring top-of-the-line snacks and refreshments, are exceptional.

Guests of Chileno Bay Resort & Residences, a 92-key beachfront hotel and villa resort managed by Auberge Resorts Collection, have exclusive access to the otherwise-private golf club.

In its current configuration, Cabo Real's front nine, completely refashioned by Jones from a pre-existing layout, provides a scenic, gentle test with broad fairways tumbling down to the Sea of Cortés, notably at the short par-4 fifth, which plays across an arroyo en route to the beach. With breathtaking holes chiseled into desert foothills at the foot of rugged mountain peaks, Cabo Real's longer back nine presents a great test of golf. Free-form bunkers and small, elevated greens combine with fairways that play along ridge tops to provide an expansive feel.

The 14th hole, at 454 yards, runs along the edge of a steep canyon to a green carved into a precipice at the layout's highest point—nearly 500 feet above the sea. From an elevated tee, the brawny par-4 18th hole is a classic finishing hole that will force you to navigate the crossing arroyo on the right and the expansive lake on the left. Host to two PGA Senior Slam events (1996, 1999), Cabo Real offers a memorable, well-balanced test of golf. Uphill holes generally play downwind, while downhill holes usually play into the prevailing onshore breeze. Jones and his design team artfully contoured the green complexes and containment mounds to mimic the shapes of the richly hued mountain peaks in the Sierra de la Laguna that frame the course.

Originally debuted as a resort venue, the Jack Nicklaus Signature golf course at this exclusive Discovery Land Co. community has evolved into one of the region's best and most beautiful layouts. The well-strategized course, always in top condition, is a desert-meets-sea masterpiece framed by bristling desert vegetation and dramatic rock formations. Several holes meander through a pair of stark canyons divided by a rocky hill, while two interior lakes bring water into play at several holes. Dramatic bunker complexes signpost the fairways and defend the subtly undulating greens.

The opening holes introduce players to El Dorado's arroyos, which girdle the fairways below the cactus-studded hills and granite outcrops. The layout then heads upcountry to explore the interior portions of this private community. The challenging par-3 third hole plays to an amphitheater-style green set at the base of a mountain, while the splendid par-5 ninth features a spectacular view of the sweeping fairway as it rolls along the Baja shoreline. The infinity-edge green here appears to float on a sea of variegated blues.

El Dorado's signature hole is the short par-3 16th, its ledged green set directly above the beach and sea. The prevailing onshore breeze can play havoc with mishit tee shots. The downhill par-5 18th, with its panoramic view of the sea and shoreline, provides a picturesque finale to the round.

GREENS: BERMUDA MINI-VERDE TEES, FAIWAYS AND ROUGHS: BERMUDA 419 Situated in a box-shaped canyon backdropped by stark brown peaks in the Sierra de la Laguna range, Palmilla is the landmark facility that set the stage for top-shelf golf in Los Cabos when it opened in 1992.

The original 18 (Arroyo and Mountain nines), the first Jack Nicklaus Signature Design in Latin America, is a target-style test that skirts boulder-strewn arroyos, long waste bunkers and several ponds. Several holes call for heroic, do-or-die forced carries over raw desert from the back tees, but broad terraced fairways, generous bail-out areas and accessible greens accommodate players of lesser attainment.

Created with environmental sensitivity, Palmilla appears airlifted into the desert uplands, with a staggering variety of cacti and native trees framing the tees, greens and fairways.

The club's Ocean nine, added by Nicklaus in 1997, boasts a 600-foot elevation change from the first tee to the sixth green that transports players from the mountains to the sea. The putting surfaces on the Ocean nine are more undulating than the greens on the original 18.

Palmilla has three signature holes, one for each nine-hole course. Ocean No. 3 is the most photographed hole at Palmilla. This demanding par 4 drops 150 feet to a fairway flanked by an arroyo to the right. The beachfront green is situated just steps away from crashing waves in the Sea of Cortes. No. 5 on Mountain is a stirring par 4 that plays across a canyon and leads to a sunken green fronted by a dry river bed. No. 7 on Arroyo, stretching to 566 yards, is a picturesque but well-defended par 5 faced directly into the prevailing trade winds.

This 27-hole club, featuring three different 18-hole combinations of golf, is located five minutes from One&Only Palmilla, a world-class resort.

A private 1,800-acre golf community set in rugged desert foothills high above the azure-blue waters of the Sea of Cortes, Querencia (loosely translated as "sanctuary") is one of Mexico's premier private clubs. Known for its slick, multi-tiered greens, this beautifully manicured course takes players on a thrilling roller-coaster ride across steep hills and bluffs, with several holes skirting the edges of deep canyons and rocky arroyos.

Designer Tom Fazio's attention to detail is evident at every turn at Querencia, with palm trees and lush vegetation artfully blended with the native desert border. Harmonious transitions from hole to hole and broad contoured fairways mark this challenging yet playable course.

Among the feature holes is the par-5 fourth, a boomerangshaped hole that swings around a wide, deep arroyo and leads to an infinity-edge green suspended above the distant sea. The layout's quartet of par 3's is also exceptional, notably the 164-yard 14th hole, which rests atop a bluff that rises out of an arroyo.

Seven tee combinations give Querencia excellent versatility, a Fazio trademark. A test for the best from the back tees, the club hosted a 'Shell's Wonderful World of Golf' match in 2001 between Phil Mickelson (67) and Sergio Garcia (72).

GREENS, FAIRWAYS AND TEES: PASPALUM

Tucked in the rolling foothills of the Sierra de la Laguna Mountains 15 minutes from Los Cabos International Airport and five minutes from downtown San Jose del Cabo, the Nicklaus Design golf course at Club Campestre is the centerpiece of a 550-acre master-planned community.

The layout's verdant fairways, chiseled into sloping desert terrain, offer players fine views of the Sea of Cortes. Vast sandy waste areas, big flashed-face bunkers and sinuous arroyos snaking across the fairways call for careful course management. The true character of the golf course lies in Campestre's undulating, multi-tiered greens, which are among the most liberally contoured putting surfaces in Los Cabos.

Among the feature holes on this beautifully maintained facility, surfaced from tee to green in emerald-green paspalum, is the risk-reward par-5 7th hole, a double-dogleg that plays to a well-bunkered peninsula green.

Campestre's picturesque back nine ascends to higher ground, circulating players around a rolling desert plateau high above the sea. The par-3 11th, stretching to 216 yards, plays to a large green with false fronts on all sides that shrugs off indifferent tee shots.

The par-5 17th hole, at 606 yards the longest hole on the course, brings a deep pot bunker in the center of the fairway into play, with a broad arroyo angled in front of the elevated green. Always in top condition, Campestre is a local favorite and represents the best value in Los Cabos.

While not long at 3,153 yards, Vidanta Los Cabos has slim fairways and strategically placed bunkers that call for precision. A few of the holes, like the uphill par-3 eighth, its green defended by a rock-walled lagoon, offer fine views of interior mountains and the sparkling sea.

Recently updated with improved playing surfaces, Vidanta Los Cabos, an urban golf oasis located five minutes from downtown San Jose del Cabo, offers excellent value.

TEES AND FAIRWAYS: PASPALUM SEAISLE 1 GREENS: PASPALUM SEADWARF

Tucked within a 2,000-acre master-planned resort community on the East Cape, a short 10-minute drive from the historic downtown area of San Jose del Cabo, Puerto Los Cabos is a 27-hole golf resort, featuring three distinct courses designed by two of the sport's most legendary figures, Greg Norman and Jack Nicklaus.

All three courses are championship layouts, perched above the Sea of Cortés and etched into rolling desert foothills and backdropped by the Sierra de la Laguna Moun- tains. The views from the course are unparalleled and showcases the rare combination of beautiful desert and pristine coastline, which is only found on the majestic Baja

The Mission Course, a 3,590-yard, par-36 signature design by Greg Norman, has over 400 feet of elevation change. The breathtaking ride begins in the desert foothills and meanders down towards the Sea of Cortés, allowing golfers to enjoy oceanfront golf at its finest, with the crescendo being the beautiful 7th hole. With its large, flashed-faced bunkers used to signpost the fairways and defend the greens, the layout reveals Norman's fondness for Australia's classic Sandbelt courses.

In November 2022. Jack Nicklaus re-routed the existing 18-hole Signature Course andcreated two new nines: the Ocean Course and the Vista Course.

The Ocean Course, a 3,576-yard, par-36 signature design by Jack Nicklaus, begins with a links-style opening hole, playing towards the Sea of Cortés and framed by sand dunes in the distance. Holes 2-4 meander through the resort area, before heading down to Sea of Cortés, highlighted by the breathtaking oceanfront holes, the 5th and 6th, which are naturally carved into the shoreline.

The Vista Course, a 3,623-yard par-36 signature design by Jack Nicklaus, has the best views of the three courses, and the Vista Course has quickly become a Los Cabos favorite. Subtly contoured greens, large sculpted bunkers and dramatic elevation are the highlights of the course. The course begins in the foothills, slowly rising with Holes 1-3 and ascends to higher ground to offer incredible views of the Sea of Cortés (Hole 4) and the unique views of the San Jose del Cabo valley (Hole 7). The finishing hole, #9, is ranked as one of the best finishing Amazingly, all of the 27 holes at Puerto Los Cabos offer expansive panoramic views of the coastline and Sea of Cortés.

Situated on the East Cape 45 minutes from Los Cabos International Airport, the links-style course at Costa Palmas, centerpiece of a 1,000-acre resort community on the Sea of Cortes, is routed across a gently rolling "dunescape" framed by the Sierra de la Laguna Mountains. Broad fairways and firm, fast conditions characterize the windswept layout, which rises nearly 40 meters above sea level.

Described by designer Robert Trent Jones, Jr. as "a golf symphony composed of three movements and two transitions," the layout's first six holes have greens with open, unguarded entrances, a design characteristic that allows golfers to utilize bump and run shots and other traditional links strategies to get the ball close to the hole.

The par-5 seventh serves as a transition to the course's second movement—six "upland" holes defined by fine views of the mountains that backdrop the fairways. This stretch of holes introduces groves of mesquite trees and strategically-placed bunkers, both of which require players to carefully consider club choice and tactics.

The layout's finishing stretch provides glimpses of the azureblue coves, harbors and channels that front the Costa Palmas development. The 18th hole, a sweeping par 4 listed at 450 yards from the tips, brings golfers back to the sea and the resort community's marina.

The golf club includes a six-hole, par-3 short course and a oneacre practice putting green. Bouchie's, a casual, open-air café located beside the practice green, is a family-friendly gathering

BAJA CALIFORNIA SUR

While Los Cabos, at the tip of the Baja peninsula, rivets the attention of most visiting golfers and vacationers, the east coast of Baja California Sur, fronting the pristine Sea of Cortes, has also spawned a handful of worthy golf developments, notably on the outskirts of La Paz and Loreto. La Paz, the region's capital city, is a tranquil settlement set on a deep inlet in the Sea of Cortes, which at sunset is often a blazing spectacle of red and yellow—hence its moniker, the Vermilion Sea. Loreto, located to the north of La Paz, is known for its historic 1697 Jesuit mission and for its rich coastal waters, which have been declared a World Heritage Site.

EL CORTÉS GOLF CLUB

The first Gary Player-designed course in Mexico, the well-strategized layout at Puerta Cortes, with holes fitted naturally into the desert, features stellar views of a significant landform from the tees and greens. The well-groomed course, one of the premier championship-caliber venues in La Paz, features fairways etched across gently rolling hills, large undulating greens and the opportunity to use every club in the bag. Puerta Cortes is a genuine shotmaker's course—the first six holes are especially challenging-but there are ample opportunities to score on the back nine.

The golf course is convenient to CostaBaja Resort & Spa, which is located 10 minutes from downtown La Paz and is situated on the Sea of Cortes overlooking a white sand beach and a 250-slip marina.

LORETO BAY GOLF COURSE

Located on the east coast of Baja California Sur 300 miles north of La Paz, Loreto Bay Golf Resort & Spa is nestled between the majestic Sierra de la Giganta mountains and the sparkling Sea of Cortes. Originally designed in 1991 by architects Mario Schjetnan and Pedro Guereca, the resort's golf course, long renowned as one of the most beautiful in Mexico, was recently renovated by 2001 British Open champion David Duval.

Spread across 170 acres, the 6,811-yard layout blends harmoniously with the desert mountain foothills, man-made lakes, Nopolo Point and the tranquil blue sea. Estuaries and mangrove swamps also come into play. The signature hole at Loreto Bay is the par-3 15th, where players must carry a lagoon to reach the well-bunkered, two-tier green.

TPC DANZANTE BAY

With the 2017 debut of TPC Danzante Bay, Villa del Palmar Beach Resort & Spa, at the Islands of Loreto, now boasts a world-class golf course.

Featuring dramatic elevation changes and sea views from 15 holes, TPC Danzante Bay, built by renowned golf architect Rees Jones, is a versatile, well-strategized layout that circulates players from desert foothills and a steep-walled canyon to sand dunes that roll down to the beach. In addition to breathtaking views of Danzante Bay, the 7,237-yard, par-72 course also features magnificent panoramas of the Sierra de la Giganta mountain range. The penultimate hole, the par-3 17th, occupies a slim, rocky peninsula nearly 250 feet above the glittering sea, its long, narrow green yoked by a horseshoe-shaped bunker.

PARAISO DEL MAR GOLF COURSE

Designed by Arthur Hills and dotted with more than 70 distinctive, well-placed pot bunkers, this appealing links-style layout, the first international-class golf course to open in La Paz (2009), is the centerpiece of a 1,700-acre residential community situated on 'El Mogote,' a secluded peninsula opposite the city's Malecon (waterfront boardwalk).

Routed on sandy terrain and reminiscent of a British links course, the higher ground at Paraiso del Mar offers superlative views of the pristine desert landscape, tall interior mountains and the azureblue waters of the Sea of Cortes. Rolling fairways on Hills's characteristically natural, low-profile creation are woven seamlessly into native desert vegetation and windswept dunes.

Los Cabos has a total of 25 Blue Flag beaches, the Blue Flag is a special certification given to beaches, marinas, and sustainable boating tourism operators by the Foundation for Environmental Education.

The certification signals that a beach or marina has met a strict set of standards, such as being clean and accessible; offers great water quality; meets high safety standards; puts commendable effort to protect ecosystems and local shorelines.

GENERAL INFORMATION FOR VISITORS

VISA REQUIREMENTS:

All foreigner visitors require a valid passport to enter Mexico. The visa policy allows visafree entry for citizens of the countries listed below:

Andorra, Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Chile, Costa Rica, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hong Kong, Hungary, Ireland, Iceland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Latvia, Liechtenstein, Lithuania, Luxemburg, Malta, Monaco, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Portugal, San Marino, Singapore, Slovakia, Slovenia, South Korea, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, United Kingdom, Uruguay, USA, and Venezuela.

Citizens of these countries can enter Mexico without a visa, just by presenting a valid passport and "Migration Form for Tourists, Transmigrants, Guest Business Persons or Counselor Visitors", which can be obtained in travel agencies, airlines or at the point of entry into Mexico.

Citizens from other countries require a visa, which can be obtained through the Mexican Embassy in their country of origin. Children traveling alone need a notarized authorization from their parents.

BANKS AND CURRENCY:

The official unit of currency is the Mexican pesos (MXN). However, the U.S. dollar (USD) is widely accepted. All major Mexican national banks are represented here and are usually open weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Many locations have ATMs that accept U.S. bank cards, and some ATMs can dispense both Mexican pesos and U.S. dollars. Transaction fees may be higher.

ELECTRICITY:

120 volts/60 hertz. Electrical outlets are the same as those used in the U.S.

TRANSPORTATION:

For transportation, you can rent a car, call a taxi or use public transportation. The main car rental agencies can be found in Los Cabos and vehicles can be pre-booked when arranging transportation to Los Cabos or at the airport and at some hotels.

Taxis offer impeccable service and are available 24 hours a day from all hotel lobbies. They do not use meters, but have set rates that are well displayed. Public transportation offers plenty of bus services along the tourist corridor, providing access to all Los Cabos locations. Taxis are also available at all major tourist attractions.

COMMUNICATION:

To call the U.S. from your U.S. cell phone, dial 00 + 1 + area code + phone number.

To call locally to landlines, just dial the seven-digit phone number. To call cell phones (within the same area code), dial 044 + phone number.

To call Mexico outside of Los Cabos, dial 01 + area code + phone number.
